Colman's Recipes for Picklelime!

You can never make too many pickles and relishes. They put the finishing touch to your meals—an edge on your appetite. No economical housewife should be without home-made pickles, chows, catsups, sauces and chutneys.

MUSTARD PICKLE

1 pint small cucumbers; 1 pint large cucumbers; 1 pint pickling onions; 1 cup string beans cut diagonally in 1 inch pieces; 1 pint cauliflower cut in small pieces; 3 red peppers chopped; 3 green peppers chopped; 1 cup small carrots or sliced carrots; 1 pint small green tomatoes cut in halves or quarters:

Soak all vegetables in brine (1 cup of salt to 1 gallon water) over night. Drain them and soak them in clear water for three hours. Mix a sufficient amount of vinegar and water in equal quantities to cover the vegetables. Allow them to stand in this vinegar for one hour and then scald them in this liquid. Make a dressing of the following ingredients:

1¼ cup white sugar; 4 tablespoons flour; 4 tablespoons Colman's Mustard; 1 teaspoon turmeric; 1 teaspoon celery salt; 3 pints vinegar:—

Mix all the dry ingredients and add the hot vinegar slowly stirring it to make a smooth paste. Cook the mixture over a pan of hot water until the sauce thickens.

Drain the vegetables thoroughly. Pour the mustard dressing over them while they are hot and simmer them for 5 minutes. Pack the pickles into hot, clean jars and seal.

TOMATO MUSTARD

1 bushel tomatoes; ½ ounce mace; 3 ounces white pepper; 3 ounces ground ginger; 3 ounces whole cloves; 2 pounds brown sugar; ½ ounce cayenne pepper or less; 1 pound Colman's Mustard; 1 pound salt; 1 dozen large onions, finely sliced; 2 quarts vinegar;

Cut tomatoes and boil one hour. Let cool and press through colander. Add all ingredients except mustard and cayenne. Boil slowly for three hours. When nearly cold add mustard and cayenne thoroughly mixed in vinegar. Tie spices in a bag. This will keep for any length of time.

SPICED TOMATOES AND CELERY

6 bunches celery; 1 pimento; 2 tablespoonfuls salt; 1 tablespoonful Colman's Mustard; 15 red tomatoes; 1 teaspoonful cloves; 1 teaspoonful spices; 2 cupfuls sugar; 1½ cupfuls vinegar:

Separate the stalks of celery and cut them into small pieces, as well as the tomatoes. Put the ingredients in a saucepan and let parboil an hour and a half. Put into sterilized jars and seal air-tight.

DUTCH PICKLE

1 quart green cucumbers, 1 small cabbage, 1 quart onions, 3 red peppers, 1 quart green tomatoes, 1 large cauliflower, ½ cup salt. Chop all fine and pour on enough hot water to cover.

Let stand half-an-hour and drain, then make a dressing of the following: 8 tablespoonfuls Colman's Mustard, 3 cups sugar, 1 teaspoonful turmeric, 1 cup flour. Mix with a little vinegar until smooth, add mixture to 2 quarts vinegar, stirring constantly, over fire, until thickened, then pour over vegetables.

CHOW CHOW

1 large cauliflower; 18 small cucumbers; 1 pint onions (small); 6 green peppers; 2 red peppers; 1 quart vinegar; 2 tablespoons Colman's Mustard; 1 tablespoon turmeric; 1 cup salt:

Peel onions; cook 10 minutes in boiling water. Drain. Separate cauliflower into flowerets, and soak in salted water ½ hour. Put the onions in one bowl, the cauliflower, cucumbers and peppers in another. Add the salt to 3 quarts water and boil 10 minutes. Skim and pour over the vegetables in the two bowls and let stand over night. Pour off brine and put vegetables together in a preserving kettle. Mix mustard and turmeric with ½ cup water and pour over the vegetables. Add the vinegar and heat to the boiling point. Simmer one hour, then seal in sterilized jars.

Now Prince Rupert May Enjoy Purdy's Famous Chocolates

The first chocolates bearing the name Purdy were made in Vancouver many years ago in a very small shop—by Mr. R. C. Purdy himself. From the start they were different—different because where other candies were made with milk—Purdy's used cream—fresh from the country. Only best creamery table butter was good enough. The chocolate must be superfine. The news of the deliciousness and fine rich flavor of these chocolates spread. They became famed the world over. Ormes consider themselves fortunate in being able to offer these famous candies to the people of Prince Rupert. We receive weekly shipments to insure their freshness.
