AID WANTED FOR PHIL-ANTHROPIC CAUSE.

There is in existence in Prince Rupert an organization known as the Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary, the principal object of which is to raise funds by various methods in aid of the hospital. The organization has a nominal membership of about twenty, but in reality it is kept alive only through the efforts of less than half a dozen ladies, upon whose shoulders a far too heavy burden is being heaped.

The hospital is a public institution for the benefit of all classes, regardless of race or religion, and it is one that, to a large extent, has to depend upon the generosity of the public for its financial support. The Ladies' Auxiliary has very commendably undertaken a large financial responsibility in connection with the institution and there is no doubt but that it will carry its plans to a successful issue. It is not right, however, that the work which this will entail should be left for some five or six ladies to perform. There are in Prince Rupert hundreds of ladies who have both the time and the ability to lend a helping hand in a philanthropic work of this kind and who owe it to themselves and to the community to do what they can. Without waiting for a special invitation, it is up to the ladies of Prince Rupert to come to the assistance of those who are at present bearing all the burden and show their willingness to help in such a worthy cause. Remember that the work of the Auxiliary is not for the present only. As the city grows the needs of the hospital will increase, resulting in greater responsibilities for the Auxiliary as time goes on. Realize your duty, therefore, ladies of Prince Rupert, and do your part, first by attending the regular meetings of the Auxiliary, and afterward by active work. Remember that it is your assistance that the Auxiliary needs to make the work a success and a pleasure, not a burden, to those who are now carrying the whole responsibility.

MR. ROGERS IN MACDONALD.

If Hon. Robert Rogers cannot do better on the platform than he is now doing in the constituency of Macdonald, it would be advisable for him to leave campaign speaking to others and adhere to what is recognized as his forte as a politician—that is, organizing corruptly for the purposes of recording votes and purchasing individual electors through agents in whom he can place the necessary degree of confidence. The people of Macdonald may, it is true, decide to send the Conservative candidate to the House of Commons, but they will not do so, we are quite satisfied, on the strength of anything that Mr. Rogers has been telling them. If the Conservative nominee is successful, he will have to thank his own reputation, which appears to be good, and his popularity in the constituency for his victory. Those most desirable personal aids may be able to offset the injury done him by the efforts on his behalf of the Minister of the Interior.—Vancouver Sun.

The best samples went down from two to three shillings per quarter on the week, and other samples were four shillings per quarter cheaper. Barley and winter oats alone were in demand.

Fowey learned, to the great delight of the townspeople, that the petition for a charter of incorporation had been granted. Fowey from very early times has been a port of importance. It held several charters till 1886, and is now well known to visitors in South Cornwall and to readers of Sir A. Quiller-Couch's novel, "Troy Town."

Judge Mulligan, referring to the Norfolk floods at Holt County court, suggested that in consequence of the prevalent distress a short act of Parliament should be passed suspending, say for a year, throughout the damage zone, the right of creditors to issue execution in the houses or to have debtors imprisoned for debt, except in the case of fraud.

The Carnegie hero fund has awarded a watch to David Wheel, a porter at St. Margaret's station, Herts (in recognition of his bravery in saving a woman from being knocked down by a train at a level crossing).

According to a police census of city costermongers and other street traders, 1,800 persons earn their living at such occupations in London. They are to be registered and from October 1st no others will be allowed to trade in that city.

Mrs. Letitia Matthews, a second hand clothes dealer, aged 65, received fatal injuries in a fire at her residence in George's Road, Islington, recently. She dropped a lamp and the blazing oil quickly set fire to the place.

A new bylaw of the Southwark borough council, by which persons roller skating on the pavements to the danger of the public become liable to a fine of 40 shillings, or a month in jail, will come into operation after the lapse of a month, the home secretary having given his sanction.

After serving two of the five years to which he was sentenced for feloniously setting fire to Round Tree mills, Exeter, with intent to defraud the North British and Mercantile Assurance Company, Charles Reynolds, of Culmpton Devon, has been released from Parkhurst prison on account of ill health.

Eustace Wyatt, 48, formerly cashier and bookkeeper for Mr. Boothroyd, of Bootle, was sentenced to six months' imprisonment for embezzlement. It was stated that on hearing that his employer had decided to have the books audited he went to Mr. Boothroyd's home and confessed that over a period of years he had appropriated $7,500. Wyatt had made what reparation he could by selling his home.

Ann Elizabeth Grey was committed for trial at Aldershot recently on a charge of bigamy. It was stated that after she and her husband separated she went through a form of marriage with James A. Peake, then a soldier. In cross-examination, Peake said his object in marrying was to obtain a sleeping out pass. The woman said she had received a letter, bearing no address, which read: "You will be glad to hear you are free. Your husband is dead."

St. Paneras baths committee have decided to continue the facilities for family mixed bathing during the winter at the Prince of Wales Road baths.

No less than ninety-two slate clubs were founded by Mr. E. J. Clark, secretary of the Grosvenor Slate Club, Hanwell, who was presented with a gold watch chain by his fellow members on leaving for Australia.

Three territorials were each fined 30 shillings and costs at Highbridge, Somerset, for failing to attend their annual training. It was stated that the county association lost a grant of 30 shillings in respect for each man.

Mr. Charles Thomas Lane, a justice of the peace and county alderman, died suddenly while shooting on his estate near Rogate, in Sussex. Mr. Lane was solicitor to the Mercers' company.

Four times during the past twelve months a nurse at the Lewisham Infirmary has lost her gold watch and chain while travelling, and each time they have been returned, twice by Scotland Yard and twice by the railway company.

Cycling down Wells Road, Sydenham, Daisy Baldwin, aged 20, of Bickersteth Road, Tooting, lost control of her machine and collided with the curb. A spike on some railing entered her neck and she died in Norwood Cottage Hospital.

The two coxswains of the Walmer life boat station, which it was decided in May last to close, state that a fund is being raised to build a motor life boat of the most modern design for Walmer at an estimated cost of $7,500, the expenses to be met by voluntary contributions.

The end of the year will see the completion of a scheme to minimize the danger of fire in St. Paul's Cathedral. A large amount of material of an inflammable nature is being removed from the cathedral and a new system of pipes and hydrants is being laid down.

Liquor Cases

In the police court yesterday morning, before Magistrate Carss, the case of Andrew Reid, charged with selling liquor without a license, was adjourned until Saturday next. Tony Cruick, up for supplying liquor to an Indian, was dismissed, the witness necessary for the prosecution not being obtainable.
