

BIG BATTLE IS FOUGHT

THINKS WELL OF THE NORTH

Prominent Old Country Iron-master Is Delighted with Progress of Northern B. C.

John Raine, a prominent iron-master of Newcastle-on-Tyne, who, accompanied by his son, has been visiting this district lately, returned on last evening's train from a trip to the Interior, and left on the George this morning for the South. Mr. Raine, who represents large capitalistic interests in the British Isles, though very reticent as to the particular motives of his visit at the present juncture, was very delighted with all he saw and expressed his surprise and admiration at the tremendous efforts that are being put forth to open this wonderful northern country, paying the way for the thousands of settlers who are anxiously awaiting the completion of the railroad to come and settle in this portion of the province.

COP AND DEER FIGHT BATTLE

Great Antlered Deer Appear in Vancouver Business Section—Fights with Policeman.

Vancouver, Oct. 10.—Samuel Brady, doughty police constable, does not see anything in his police manual about wrestling with a big deer nor do they teach the lot in any known school, but the cop met a scrappy deer on Beach Avenue at Granville street, sailed with both hands and put the animal on the beach. It was a beautiful fight while it lasted. The animal was almost as strong as Sam and in addition had four feet to his two as well as a set of horns that gored a pair of forefeet that cut and chopped. Lord Lauder started things for the officer. He came tearing down the street with the deer leaping after him. He first saw the animal beating up a quiet, grassless hand bred cow, whose horns he approached and pleaded. But Sam didn't run. Not he. The kin was only last week planned a battle in Ulster to the home boys. Off went his coat, off followed his new tan gloves, and bearing himself he hit the deer with a fist that made him think. Then he caught hold of the animal's horns and "rassled" with him, hitting him on his back with a toe and head hold that even Frank Gotch never used. Then he manacled Mr. Deer with the handcuffs, tied him to a nearby tree and rang in for the patrol.

AMATEURS WILL APPEAR AGAIN

With so many local theatrical attractions these days, both in the moving picture and musical and dramatic lines, the popular Friday night amateur entertainments at the Westholme Opera House lose none of their attractiveness. Tonight a particularly good show is going to be put on. Two screamingly funny little sketches will be produced, in which the following popular favorites will appear: Billy Gibson, the inimitable; Whitley, the irrepressible, and Stowell, of the tall and lordly mien. Miss Edgwin, a charming young lady, a new face to a Prince Rupert audience, will appear for the first time on an amateur night. Special mention must be made of the exceptionally good moving picture films that will be shown this evening. A feature film showing the unveiling of the Queen Victoria memorial at Hyde Park, before the King and Queen, the German Emperor and other royalties, together with the leading nobilities of the European courts and the British Isles, will prove an attraction of unbounding interest. Altogether, the entertainment tonight at the Westholme bids fair to be a hummer, and the best that has been put on by the amateur Friday nightists for some time past.
