ITEMS OF SPORT

The date of the Canadian Inter-collegiate athletic championships has been announced as October 18th. The news has been received with many misgivings by some of the institutions, especially those who have been giving all their time to rugby. The usual date has been on Thanksgiving Day.

Following is the line-up for the Sons of England for Saturday at North Ward Park: Kerley, Hymers, Maxwell, Vincent, S. Greenhalgh (captain), Douglas, Heithfield, Kerley, Langton, H. Greenhalgh, Douglas. Reserves: Aleock, Brown, Wylie and Monday.

With the exception of Wilkie and Whittaker, Victoria's professional soccer club will be at full strength again this year. Gordon, Gillespie and Campbell, recently of Winnipeg, and Smart and Josh, of California, are the new men. The team will hold a practice at the Royal Athletic Park on Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. All the players are requested to be on hand.

LESTER VICTOR OF HARD FIGHT

Jack Lester, Burns' Protege, Wins in Thirtieth round Howard—Police Stop the Mill.

Sydney, N. S. W., Oct. 10.—In the thirtieth round of his fight with Jack Howard here on Saturday night, Jack Lester was declared the victor when the police stepped in and put an end to the proceedings after one of the most gruelling mills ever seen in Sydney. The bout was staged in the open air.

In the first round Lester was the aggressor, but in the second both took some terrific wallops and were tired when they went to their corners. In the third both swapped some hard punches, and Lester had Howard down for eight seconds, mostly on his knees, but Lester's best endeavors to finish the bout failed to feaze Howard. In the succeeding rounds up to the end of the sixth Howard scored repeatedly, and the sound of the gong in each session was a welcome relief to Lester, who was bleeding profusely.

In the succeeding rounds both contestants fought like tigers, with the advantage alternately with either man, but in the thirtieth Lester had his man down twice for nine and seven seconds. Howard was scarcely on his feet after the second flooring when Lester put over another right and the police stepped in and stopped the bout. Referee Wally Weeks awarding the decision to Lester.

NEWS NOTES OF INTEREST BY MAIL FROM THE OLD COUNTRY

Robert Fowler, a gamekeeper on the Garthland estates, Lochwinnoch, who was arrested on August 21 on the charge of shooting and killing a tramp who had trespassed on the Garthland estates, has been liberated by the crown authorities. Fowler stated at the time of the shooting that it was a pure accident, the gun going off accidentally.

An immense crowd of people from Navan and neighboring districts assembled on Sunday night outside the house at Garritown occupied by the man who has become known as "the Navan monk," and demanded that he should come forth. There had been previous disturbances at the place, owing to the house having been, as alleged, opened as a "monastery." Sunday night's crowd was very hostile. Some of the more demonstrative ultimately broke in the door and some of the windows of the house. The owner of the house, a lady, appeared at the door and promised that she would ask "the monk" to leave. Later the garb worn by the man and other articles belonging to him were handed over to the crowd, who carried them to Navan and burned them in the "Fair square." It is stated that "the monk" has left the house.

At the sitting of the Scottish land court at Wick some amusement was caused by the replies of an applicant who claimed to be a landowner. He said his place was not a farm at all. It was nothing but rocks and quarries. His son, who was a prize ploughman, had to go to a neighboring holding to get ground on which to practice for ploughing matches. The factor told him two years ago that he did not think there was such a miserable place on the estate. The dwelling house was like a pigsty. It was the greatest ruin in Great Britain.

Sarah Hull, formerly sub-postmistress at Moira, County Down, has been sent to trial to the assizes charged with obtaining, since 1907, from moneys the property of the postmaster general, by means of forgery and embezzlement, a number of sums on different dates amounting to over £500. It was alleged that the defendant possessed herself of the books of certain illiterate depositors in the withdrawal sent them to London savings bank, filled up notices of and converted the money received to her own use.

Some time ago the Rev. Neil Macphail, parish minister of Kilmuir, Skye, directed attention to the neglected condition of the Flora Macdonald memorial in the church yard at Kilmuir, where the remains of the heroine lie. There was such a hearty response that the restoration of the memorial has now been completed, and a marble tablet has been placed in the recess of the inscription block, upon which has been inscribed Dr. Johnson's eulogy: "The preserver of Prince Charles Edward Stuart will be mentioned in history, and, if courage and fidelity be virtues, mentioned with honor."

An outbreak of smallpox in Kirkcaldy is believed to have been caused by flax from Russia, as on former occasion. Six persons are in the hospital and a young married woman has died.

Harvesting operations by lantern light have been taking place in West Denbighshire, Wales, during the past week.

Mr. David Loudon, who died at St. Andrews, at the end of the week, was teacher at Morham, near Haddington, for some twenty-seven years, and championed the claim of the little parish to being the birthplace of the great Scottish reformer, John Knox. He obtained many converts of high antiquarian standing. The other claimants to the birthplace are the village of Gifford, some four miles south of Haddington, and Giffordgate, on the outskirts of Haddington.
