ENTERTAINMENT AT TERRACE UNIQUE

Oriental Pageant Staged Under Auspices of Rev. and Mrs. Robinson for Church Benefit

TERRACE, April 22.—The Oriental pageant staged in Progress Hall on Wednesday evening under the direction of Rev. and Mrs. A. W. Robinson was a unique and unusual entertainment in which scenes of street and home life as well as misson school and hospital activities were cleverly portrayed. About twenty different national costumes of India, some of them very rich and elaborate, were displayed and much admired. These were all brought from India by Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, who worked for a number of years in the mission fields there. Native music and singing also added to the impressiveness of the scenes.

The entertainment was divided into four parts:

Scene 1.—Inside of Zenana, or woman's house in India.

Scene 2.—Mission house and school in Calcutta.

Scene 3.—A busy day in the mission hospital.

Scene 4.—A noisy street scene.

The cast included:

Tourist (to whom the customs and costumes were explained by Mr. and Mrs. Robinson in their role of doctor and missionaries—Mrs. Ardagh.

Missionary—Mrs. Robinson.

Doctor and missionary—Rev. A. W. Robinson.

Sadhu or holy man—A. W. Fowler.

Punjabi—R. Cory.

Pathan—Jack Sparkes.

Native Servant—Donald Burnett.

Arab horse dealer—Dudley Little.

Hindu student—Billy Attwood.

Young Rajah—Theodore Robinson.

Burman man—W. T. Attwood.

Bombay lady—Helen Greig.

Woman of Indore—Mrs. Wm. Attwood.

Woman of Central India—Annie Allan

Toda girl—Jean Dover.

Tamil girl—Marjorie Kenney.

Moslem woman—Dorothy Little.

Arab lady—Elliot Head.

Bengali woman—Irene Clayton.

Child widow—Joyce Cole.

Parsee lady—Doris Robinson.

Burmese lady—Marjorie Attwood.

The funds resulting from the affair are to be used for installing electric light in the church building.

FRANK W. HICKS OF PORT CLEMENTS DIES

Passed Away Recently in Michigan Where he Was Visiting With Relatives

The death occurred recently in Michigan of Frank W. Hicks, a well known business man and resident of long standing of Port Clements, Queen Charlotte Islands. He had been visiting with a niece, Mrs. Ad. Bowerman, at Greenville, when he was stricken with an attack of paralysis to which he succumbed.

A Greenville, Michigan, paper reports his demise as follows:

Frank W. Hicks was born in Springville, New York, January 3, 1851, the son of William and Catherine Hicks. He was the youngest of a family of five boys.

His parents moved to Wayland, Michigan, when he was but a little lad.

At the age of twenty-one, his parents having died, Mr. Hicks started out in the world alone to make his way. He worked in Detroit and Saginaw. He also worked in the lumber woods at Maple Valley a short time.

He enlisted in the United States standing army from Michigan, serving five years with an honorable discharge.

He next wandered to Nome, Alaska, and was among the first prospectors in the Yukon Valley. He came out in 1907 and lived in Seattle, Washington, a few years.

In 1911 Mr. Hicks went to British Columbia and started a smoke shop and billiard hall at Port Clements, where he remained until September, 1926, when he sold his place of business and returned to Michigan.

Mr. Hicks was a member of the Elks at Prince Rupert.

Returned to Michigan

Three years ago, he came back to Michigan after forty years of absence. His four brothers had passed on and only a sister-in-law survived.

Mr. Hicks never married. He endeared himself to all his relatives in the short time he was with them.

He spent the winter with his nieces, Mrs. L. C. Hansen of Jackson and Mrs. R. E. Brown of Detroit. He was visiting Mrs. Ad. Bowerman when he was stricken with paralysis, March 3. Mr. Hicks passed away Monday, March 7.

He leaves to mourn one sister-in-law, Mrs. Alice Hicks, of Greenville, six nieces and six nephews, several great nieces and nephews and eight great grand nieces and nephews.

His kind and generous nature made him friends where ever he lived and dear memories of him will live in our hearts.

He was laid to rest in Riverside cemetery, Langston.

REV. PEAT LEAVING SKIDEGATE MISSION

Ill-Health is Cause of Popular Minister's Departure for the South Next Week

SKIDEGATE, April 22.—Rev. R. Peat of the United Church at Skidegate Mission is leaving with his family at the first of the week on the Prince Charles for the south. His departure, which is on account of ill health, is generally regretted around Skidegate Inlet as he has been a great friend of both natives and whites during his ministry here.

Mr. Peat requested Rev. J. Gillett, Indian Agent at Massett, to take the pulpit on Sunday evening. It was the first time in the history of Skidegate that Anglican and Methodist clergy held a joint meeting.

SKIDEGATE

Miss Jessie Stock of Victoria, school teacher at Massett, is spending the Easter holidays here with Mrs. E. C. Stevens. She walked from Port Clements to Tlell and from there to Skidegate.

Mr. McGluckey, school teacher at Port Clements, walked down to Skidegate and is visiting here with Frank Waite, teacher of Dufferin Pattullo school.

The United Church mission boat Thomas Crosby came back from the mainland last week with Rev. R. C. Scott and Capt. Oliver on board. They were at Bella Coola and other points across the straits.

Capt. Bob Dunlop, whose trolling boat "Old Nick" was wrecked last summer, has invested in a new launch which will be named "Nil Desperandum."

Spring salmon have started to run in Skidegate Inlet. R. Miller caught eleven huge ones in front of South Bay cannery wharf. The second run of herring has commenced and the fish are abundant.

TERRACE

Mrs. W. W. Noonan and daughters arrived from Telkwa on Tuesday to spend the Easter vacation week with Mrs. Noonan's mother, Mrs. F. W. Bohler

Don McLeod left on Tuesday for Sand Point, Idaho, where he will join Mrs. McLeod and children who left here some months ago.

An attractive baptismal font has been presented to St. Matthew's Anglican church by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Farr. The gift was designed and made by Mr. Farr. The W.A. has recently donated an organ curtain which adds greatly to the appearance of the chancel.

Miss Peggy Taylor of Port Essington is holidaying at Hill Farm.

Mrs. E. T. Brooks returned on Wednesday from a short visit to Prince Rupert.

Mrs. Ardagh returned on Wednesday to Kitwanga after spending the past week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Richmond.

During the past three days the members of the local boys' and girls' clubs have been taken on very interesting and enjoyable hikes to points of interest in the district. They were accompanied by Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Allan and Mr. and Mrs. Seamen. On Monday the Golden Key Girls group climbed the hill north east of town from which a splendid view of the valley and river was obtained. Tuesday the Boys' group of explorers made the trip to Thornhill Falls, and the C.G.I.T. group made the same trip on Wednesday. Picnic lunches were enjoyed each day.

G. H. Tycho, Smithers, was a business visitor here on Wednesday.

Miss Spragg, of Port Simpson arrived on Wednesday to spend the remainder of the holiday with her brother L. F. Spragg.

High school re-opened here on Thursday morning in order to make up for the time lost while in Prince Rupert at the basketball games.

Miss C. E. Peters left on Thursday to spend a few days in Prince Rupert.

FORMER LOCAL MAN WEDS IN SMITHERS

John Howard Birnie United in Marriage Recently to Miss Lillian Neta Brown

Many local friends will be interested to learn of a marriage which took place last Saturday night in Smithers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Marshall Sales when Miss Lillian Neta Brown and John Howard Birnie were united in marriage by Rev. George Turpin, pastor of Smithers United Church, the ceremony being witnessed by a number of friends of the contracting couple.

The bride was given in marriage by Mr. Sales. Miss May Pike was maid of honor, while Vic Williams supported the groom. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the future home of the newly married couple on Fifth Avenue, Smithers, where a large number of people from town gathered to shower congratulations and good wishes for success and happiness.

Mr. and Mrs. Birnie are on a short honeymoon trip to the coast.

Among the appropriate gifts for young men graduates are overalls.

The height of fashion refers to altitude, not pulchritude.
