CLEAN UP THE EATING HOUSES.

Yesterday in the police court a restaurant keeper was fined for not complying with the civic health bylaws in regard to the proper sanitary condition of his kitchen. While his dining room was in an apparently clean condition, the place where the food was prepared was, according to the report of the health officer, unfit for human beings to work in.

Nothing should be cleaner than the room in which the food for human consumption is prepared and the health department will have the support of every citizen in their efforts to clean these places, where men and women pay good money to eat, at least clean food.

Almost every epidemic has its origin in a dirt and filth, and if the keepers of eating houses do not comply with the law they should be prosecuted to the full extent.

PRAYERS FOR THE STRIKING MINERS.

In certain of the churches at Nanaimo last week prayers were made by the congregations for the striking miners at Extension and Cumberland, and when a minister, Rev. Howe, of the Baptist Church, asked those who sympathized with the men in their fight for life to stand not a single person remained seated.

Not all those who stood were coal miners. Many of them would probably be making well were it not for the fact that the miners are on strike, but knowing conditions as they exist and realizing that the underground workers are battling for life, the congregation of that large church rose en masse.

We relate this incident just to show how the feeling is toward the miners by those who are conversant with the conditions under which they labor.

NEWS NOTES OF THE GREAT WEST

In Regina new warehouses are thrown open by City Council, to be served immediately by C. N. R. spur track.

Eastern manufacturer bought a large tract of land in Winnipeg for the construction of a wagon works. A Winnipeg financial firm announces they will build a large office building in Edmonton. An additional 50,000 bushel elevator is under construction in Fort William.

Fifty to seventy-five cars of wheat are passing through Saskatoon daily from the Goose Lake country. The crop in that district alone is estimated at 25,000,000 bushels. Pratt Food Co. will build a factory here next spring, employing forty men. The Boyd Syndicate of New York place one of a chain of five mills here, of a thousand barrels capacity. A new machinery company is to build here in the spring.

THE SERMON DID NOT BENEFIT HIM

While Man Worships Another Runs Away With His Coat and Hat in Ketchikan Church.

Ketchikan, Oct. 14.—Some men have one excuse and some another for failing to go to church but Floyd Ryus will have the best one from now on. He went last night to the Methodist Church, and as the night and his overcoat were both damp he hung the latter in the church vestibule and went inside. When it came time to go home he went out into the hall to get inside his coat and found that somebody had "beat him to it," and had left nothing to take its place. Floyd kept most of the rain off himself on the way home by the heat he generated, verbal and otherwise, and is now looking at every overcoat he meets on the street to see if it is his, and woe betide the man inside the coat when he finds it.

Joe Wood Six Years in Ball.

"Smoky" Joe Wood has been in baseball six years and is only 23 years old. He played with the Hutchinson, Kas., team in 1907, and in 1908 performed with such good grace for the Kansas City nine that Boston purchased him. For the last five years Wood has been with the Red Sox. He started playing ball with the Sox when he was 18 years of age. Wood lives in Parker Glenn, Pa., and bats and pitches right handed. He stands 5 feet 11 inches in height and weighs 180 pounds.

You Can Thank Advertising

NEXT time you step into the corner store, take a look around. Of all the articles on the shelves, how many were on your shopping list five years ago? Make it ten years, and you will find that most of the things you buy to-day—and could not do without—were not even made then.

You men and women who buy things, let this sink in. You are better men and women because of advertising. You eat more wholesome food. You wear better clothes. Your home is better furnished. You have cleaner and more sanitary houses. You read better books and magazines. You seek more healthful amusements.

Your whole standard of living has been raised—and why? Because the men who make these better things are telling you that you will be more comfortable, happier and healthier if you use these higher grade goods.

It is advertising that makes it possible for you to buy "the best" right at your corner store. It is advertising that encourages the inventor to make new comforts and new utilities and enables you to buy them almost immediately after they are perfected.

J. J. Hill says this "high living" costs more. True for J. J.—but it is worth more. And leaving the cost aside, do you want to go back to buying jam out of a pail, oatmeal out of a barrel, raisins out of sticky boxes, or tea exposed in an open chest?

Do you regret the money you paid for a Player Piano?

Would you forego the new style razor?

Isn't a Tungsten worth a thousand candles?

Would you now be enjoying these if enterprising manufacturers had not told you about them in their advertisements?

Isn't life brighter because we have new and higher standards of living?

Let us thank advertising for it.

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available through any good advertising agency or the Secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumsden Building, Toronto. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write if interested.
