Legal Notice

The Fisheries Research Board of Canada will charter a vessel, seine boat type, with crew for hunting and collecting fur seals during 1961.

The vessel will be required to operate in the waters off the coasts of British Columbia and Washington. The charter will commence 15 February 1961 and terminate 15 June 1961.

In addition to a Captain and crew, accommodation must be available for two men from the Fisheries Research Board of Canada. The crew will be required to assist at all times handling specimens.

The vessel must be capable of remaining at sea for at least seven days and should be equipped with reliable echo-sounder and radiotelephone and adequate instruments for navigation on the high seas.

The charter payments to the owner are to cover rental of the vessel, payment of personnel and all operating maintenance costs, except fuel and lubricating oil, which will be supplied by the Board.

Vessel owners who may be interested, apply before 6 January 1961 to:

BLACKWOOD on BRIDGE

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

By any method of valuation, Mrs. Keen had about one-third of the high card points in the deck, plus a five-card suit—plenty to make up a sound opening bid.

Mr. Champion had about the minimum strength for an overcall at the one level. The chances of his getting doubled and hurt badly were negligible. One of his principal reasons for overcalling was to make it impossible for Mr. Abel to respond at the one level. It made no difference on this hand but it often crowds the opponents' bidding seriously.

Mr. Abel

Mr. Abel had a good hand but he needed it all to make a response which would force his partner to the three level just to make a rebid of her original suit. Mr. Dale didn't have much of a hand and his spade raise was inserted as probably the last chance to tell his partner that he had some support for a spade contract. That information might be valuable in case partner was interested in sacrificing at spades later in the auction.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 ♣	1 ♠	2 ♥	2 ♠
3 ♥	Pass	4 ♥	All Pass

Opening lead: Three of spades.

Mrs. Keen's three heart bid showed satisfactory trump support for hearts and confirmed a sound opening bid. Mr. Champion declined his partner's suggested sacrifice and Mr. Abel, with a little in reserve, properly went on to game.

The bidding was sensible enough but Mr. Abel's play of the hand left something to be desired. He won the spade opening with dummy's ace and promptly took the rounds of trumps. Now everything depended on the clubs breaking 3-3. When they failed to do so he was able to win only nine tricks.

Picking up the opposing trumps is commendable when dummy's trumps serve no better purpose than to fall under successive trump leads by declarer. In this hand dummy's king of trumps was needed as an entry to the board after clubs were established.

The best play was to cash the ace and queen of trumps at tricks two and three. That would leave one trump outstanding. Now lead the king and ace of clubs and ruff a low club in the closed hand. A heart to dummy's king then permits the cashing of two good clubs. On this line of play Mr. Abel would win one spade, five hearts and four clubs for 10 tricks in all.

TRIP HELD UP — Andre Javorcsik felt sure this "boat" he'd built from driftwood on the Bay of Fundy shore would take him across 2,000 miles of stormy Atlantic to France. But local RCMP officers were not so confident and held the 45-year-old Hungarian refugee for a mental examination Tuesday. Javorcsik was picked up last September off Halifax in a boat made from dump scraps and in a similar contrivance off Vancouver in 1957. — CP Photo

Australian wreck may hold "Bounty" information

SYDNEY (Reuters)—A wreck found off the north Queensland coast last month might be that of a Royal Navy ship which sank in 1791 while carrying mutineers from HMS Bounty, author-historian Colin Roderick said here today.

The hulk might be that of the frigate Pandora, judging by the size of the vessel and an inscription on the ship's bell, he said.

The Pandora carried 14 Bounty mutineers who were put in leg irons and cruelly treated throughout the voyage. Four of them went down with the Pandora, when officers refused to remove their manacles.

The wreck was discovered by Sydney skindiver Donald Smith, who found "a wooden vessel of old design in a remarkable state of preservation."

TAINTED AIR

DOVERCOURT, England (CP) Despite complaints that the sea air of this Essex resort was tainted with the smell of fried onions, the town council has agreed to allow a hotdog stand to stay on the promenade.

Man suspended caught again

Driving while suspended earned Lloyd Saunders Wilson, of the Bayview Hotel, a $25 fine today in police court.

Wilson pleaded guilty to the charge before Magistrate E. T. Applewhaite.

RCMP told the court that the charge was laid December 9 when Wilson was checked on Second Avenue West by the police patrol.

Failing to stop at a stop sign earned Peter Cullen, of 304 Sixth Avenue East, a $15 fine from Magistrate E. T. Applewhaite today in police court.

Cullen pleaded guilty to the charge which was laid December 22 about 7:45 a.m. when he failed to stop at the sign at the intersection of Eleventh Avenue East and Conrad Street.
