FIREMEN GRANTED AN INCREASE

fact that this is a live city and also that the erection of the same had been the means of giving employment to a number of citizens and circulating a considerable amount of money.

Alderman Morrissey was particularly emphatic in championing the cause of the signs, which, he stated, in many cases were of a highly artistic nature and removed the stigma from the city that it might be taken for a cemetery. The main difficulty was as to what course was to be pursued in regard to those citizens who had taken the order seriously and removed their signs. Were they to be requested to put them up again? The Mayor said that many of the Council did not understand the motion at the time it was put or they would not have voted in the way they did.

Alderman Douglas promptly replied that there was too much of that kind of voting going on, to which the Mayor replied that perhaps the Council were not all as comprehensive as the worthy finance minister.

The motion to stringently carry out the order for the removal of the signs on city property was finally lost, there being a tie vote, the Mayor's casting vote being against the removal.

In committee of the whole with Alderman Bullock-Webster in the chair, the Council discussed at some length the matter of finance. The subject was the rate of interest that municipal bonds should carry. Mayor Newton had discussed with Mr. Holt of the Royal Bank and had been advised by that gentleman that 5 per cent. would in future have to be yielded by these municipal bonds, he was therefore in favor of raising the rate to that amount. After some discussion, in which it was stated that the Bank of Montreal was not in favor of advancing the rate, the city solicitor giving the bank's reason for that opinion, and expressions from several of the aldermen that it would be unwise to act too precipitately in the matter, the Mayor's motion to raise the rate was lost.

At Work Hauling Pipe

L. A. Barbeau, the well known local transfer man, who has the contract for the city for hauling the pipe that arrived for the city's waterworks system the other day on the Crown of Galacia, has a string of teams busily engaged transferring the pipe from the wharf as fast as it can be unloaded from the ship. It gives quite a busy appearance to Centre Street, the making of the very considerable grade by the fine teams that are engaged upon the work being a matter of considerable interest to the many citizens who pass up and down to the wharf during the day. It is expected that the unloading will occupy the remainder of the week. The pipe that will be used for the Shawatians Lake part of the work will be handled by Captain Abington, of the Rupert Marine Iron Works.

The Old Man Got His

Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth attended the Chicago convention and was present when President Taft was renominated. The train on which she was returning to Washington carried the Democratic delegation from Wisconsin on its way to the Baltimore convention. One man who had watched her for a long time in the dining car finally mustered up enough courage to go and speak to her. "Are you Mrs. Roosevelt?" he asked. "Yes," she answered. "You know, I recognized you from the pictures I had seen in the magazines." "Is that so," said Mrs. Roosevelt in her most gracious way. "Yes, I did not think I could be mistaken. Have you been to the Chicago convention?" "Yes, I was there," she replied. "Well," and the man leaned over and became very confidential, "they certainly handled the old man something there."

"I hear the singers made a hit," "Yes, with the basses full."

One of the reputations which the American has abroad is that he can always overtop anything he sees in Europe by something he has at home. An Italian was showing an American friend about Italy, and had not had much success in arousing his enthusiasm. If he showed the "Campanile," the American said: "We've got a monument in Washington two hundred feet higher."

If he showed him the Coliseum, he remarked: "The auditorium at Chicago is bigger." Finally the Italian showed him Vesuvius in eruption, and thought surely that must stir his awe. But the American, after gazing for a moment at the burning mountain, said: "We've got a waterfall in American that would put that out in five minutes."
