RUSSIA AND AUSTRIA NOW PREPARING FOR WAR

KANSAS CITY FINANCIER WILL OPERATE FLEET OF HALIBUT BOATS FROM PRINCE RUPERT

WAR IS EXPECTED BETWEEN RUSSIA AND AUSTRIA INSIDE SIX MONTHS

Foreign Diplomats Are Pessimistic as to the Probability of War
---Russia is Preparing to Transport Troops---Kamil Pasha Predicts All Europe Will be Involved

(Special to Daily News.)
London, Oct. 22.—A gigantic war, involving all Europe, instigated by a clash between Austria and Russia, is the alarming prediction of Kamil Pasha, president of the Turkish Council, in today's issue of the London Chronicle. All foreign diplomats here are pessimistic over the outlook, and Lloyd's today is skirting 15 per cent. for insurance against war within six months between Russia and Austria.
Both Austria and Russia are watching the Balkan war situation with hungry eyes, each standing ready to grab desirable Turkish territory at the slightest pretext. Russia today has 1,800 cars ready to transport a force of 80,000 men to the scene the moment Austria makes a move in the direction of intervention.
Should either Austria or Russia, all diplomats here agree, attempt any annexation move it would bring all the other powers together in the most disastrous war in the history of the world. Kamil Pasha says the present disturbance in the Balkans is but a prelude to a general conflict. He predicts that Austria will precipitate the clash and that the other European powers will be forced to join unless they care to stand idly by while Russia and Austria spill up the Ottoman Empire.
A despatch from Constantinople indicates that a revolution is threatened in Turkey, but most of the Turkish government officials scoff at the report. Estimates of the killed so far on both sides as a result of Turkey's clash with the Balkan states is placed today at 4,000.
The Turkish and Greek fleets are expected to come together soon in a desperate battle for mastery of the seas.

It is not known whether or not he will be able to resume his campaign work.

ALLEGED WHITE SLAVER JAILED

Man Arrested on Charge of White Slaving Is Held—Supposed Victim Young English Girl.

The city authorities have reason to believe that in the man, W. Thomas, recently placed under arrest and who appeared before Magistrate Carss yesterday on a charge of procuring, the proceedings being in camera, they have a man who has been actively engaged for some time past in the white slave traffic. Annie Martin, the girl in the case, to whom the accused claims he is married, came from England and appears to be of a somewhat simple and ignorant nature and one who would necessarily fall an easy prey to a man of this class. There is evidence to the effect that negotiations were entered into in regard to the renting of a house on Comox avenue.
The police think the marriage a fake. The accused will come up again on Saturday, when the case will be again adjourned until the following Tuesday.

HOUSE OF COMMONS TO MEET TWENTY-FIRST OF NOVEMBER

PROCLAMATION ISSUED CALLING THE HOUSE TOGETHER ON NOVEMBER 21ST—NO MENTION MADE OF NAVAL POLICY—NANTREL MAY RESIGN.

(Special to Daily News.)
Ottawa, Oct. 22.—The proclamation calling Parliament together for the transaction of business on Thursday, November 21st was issued yesterday by the King's printer. It contains the usual proclamation, there being no special reference to the navy announcement, which will be a special feature of the session. It is not necessary that it should be mentioned. However, the announcement of the temporary naval policy of the government will be made soon after the House meets, probably right after the conclusion of the debate on the address. This probably will run over several days.
The Duke of Connaught and party arrived in the capital from the West and a definite announcement as to Mr. Monk's retirement from the cabinet will be made. The name of his successor may also be announced.
The indications today are that it will be T. Chase Casgrain, of the International Water Ways Commission, a former member of the House, who will contest Charlevoix, one of the two seats held by Sir Rodolphe Forget.
It is now said that L. H. Marchal, K. C., Montreal, will not be brought in unless Hon. W. E. Nantrel, minister of inland revenue, should decide to follow Mr. Monk's example and drop out.
Mr. Nantrel, who has gone to Jounette to be present at the marriage of his daughter tomorrow, will not be back in the capital until the middle of the week.

WOULD REACH LONG WAY

If All Immigrants Entering Canada Past Year Stood One Pace Apart Would Reach 150 Miles.

Ottawa, Oct. 22.—During the six months, April 1st to October 1st, of the current fiscal year, 273,649 immigrants arrived in Canada. Of this number 183,990 arrived at ocean ports, and 89,659 from the United States. These figures show an increase of 13 per cent., as compared with the number of arrivals for the corresponding months of the last fiscal year, which were 158,614 at ocean ports and 83,317 from the United States, making a total for the six months, April 1st to October 1st, 1911, of 241,931.

During the month of September, this year, there were 35,077 arrivals, 17,593 arriving at ocean ports and 17,484 from the United States, as against 29,077 for September last year.

The immigration to Canada for the last fiscal year is considerably greater than the entire population of Montenegro, the country which, a few days ago, declared war against Turkey.

Supposing that all the immigrants who arrive during the last six months were in line of march, one pace apart Indian file, the procession would reach from Toronto to Kingston, more than a hundred and fifty miles.

J. S. SMITH WILL OPERATE A LARGE FLEET OF HALIBUT BOATS FROM PRINCE RUPERT TO BANKS—WEALTHY GRAIN DEALER FROM KANSAS

Mr. J. Sidney Smith, a wealthy Kansas City grain dealer, who was a visitor to the city a few months back and who was greatly struck with Prince Rupert and its commercial possibilities, returned here this morning on the Prince George.

Mr. Smith, who remained upon his last visit several weeks before leaving, decided to go into the fish business in Northern B. C., just as he said to a News representative this morning "for something to do." While in the South he has been busily engaged in making arrangements for the building of a fleet of halibut boats, two of which will be ready in about two months' time, when they will be brought up here to start active operations. The boats, which are being built in Vancouver, will be of the latest and most modern type, about 90 feet long, and will be furnished with all the most up-to-date appliances to make a success of the prosecution of the fishing industry.

Mr. Smith, who is a genuine and enthusiastic booster for Prince Rupert, says he is confident of the great future before this city and wants to get in the game and be prepared to do business by the time that the railway is completed. He will remain here a few days before returning south to attend to the final business of getting ready the first of his fleet to sail for this port.

ROYAL PARTY WAS ENTRANCED BY MISS SLOANE'S SINGING

SURPRISING NEWS OF THE ROYAL CONCERT IS GIVEN IN A SAN FRANCISCO PAPER—"PAT" SHOOK HANDS WITH SINGER AND DUKE WAS ENRaptured

The following, taken from a San Francisco newspaper, will no doubt prove most interesting to Prince Rupert readers who attended the concert given in aid of the hospital and patronized by the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and Princess Patricia. To say the least, the article is news to those who were in the Westholme Opera House during Miss Sloane's singing and saw the Princess endeavoring to hide her mirth behind the curtains of the royal box, while the stolid old general, the Duke, bore it with Spartan fortitude.

The Frisco paper says:
"Yesterday's post brought me a reminder of these thoughts. It was a letter from Prince Rupert, British Columbia, telling me of the pretty reception that was given to Miss Helene K. Sloane, a young musician and society girl of San Francisco, who had the unique prestige of being the only 'outsider' at a reception and, again, the affair being given under the patronage of Their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and the genial

Princess Patricia, whom her admiring Yankee friends have nicknamed "Princess Pat."

"At this affair it was understood that under no circumstances would there be responses to encores, and no singer was to appear more than once. Miss Sloane sang an aria from the opera 'Lucretia Borgia.' The outburst of applause kept up for several minutes, the Duke of Connaught and the Duchess standing up in their box to lead. This so interrupted the programme that Miss Sloane was obliged to return, singing that old American favorite, 'The Last Rose of Summer.' And afterward she was personally thanked by the Princess 'Pat,' who expressed her delight and that of her parents, the Duke and the Duchess of Connaught.

"Miss Sloane has been spending the summer in Alaska, where so many clever Western Americans nowadays go when they want something in the way of an outing that is different from the average. She has been a guest of friends at various army posts, occasionally giving concerts. The
