SPORT CLIPPINGS

According to Chicago despatches, Jack Johnson has a real fight on his hands and he's not receiving any $50,000 in the present mix-up.

How is it that climatic conditions never effect touring football or cricket teams, or even fighters who circle the globe, yet a change always worries Ontario lacrosse teams? The real cause of Ontario's failure to win games out this way appears to be the class and enterprise shown by western teams.

Sir Thomas Lipton asks for a sporting chance should he again challenge for the America's cup. But the present rules of the New York Yacht Club do not provide for a sporting chance for any challengers.

One year ago Connie Mack was the greatest manager in captivity. All of which goes to show that the justly celebrated world do move.

Fight promoters in New York aver that they have cut Ad. Wolgast off their visiting list forever and forever. Ananias was not a fight promoter, but he had all the earmarks, as it were.

Up speaks Carl Morris. "I draw the color line when it comes to boxing, so that settles it." Settles what?

Jem Driscoll arises to remark that he will visit these U. S. A. and force Wolgast into a match. Presumably Jem does not realize that pursuing Adolph is much like hunting the agile flea.

Miguel Angelo Gonzales, a Cuban, will hold forth with the Boston Beavers next year. If it be true that Miguel once was a revolutionist, there need be no question about his speed.

Rose Pitnoff has decided not to swim the English Channel, but despite this deplorable fact it is rumored that said channel will continue to do business at the old stand for an indefinite period.

FOGEL SHOULD BE THROWN OUT IF HE MAKES CHARGES

EXAMPLE OF FORMER SPOKANE BALL MAN SHOULD BE FOLLOWED IF FOGEL CANNOT ... CHARGES HE HAS BEEN MAKING REGA...ING THE UMPIRES.

The row now going on in the National League over the alleged charges made by Horace Fogel, of the Philadelphia team, that the umpires favored New York in the season just closed, calls to mind the case of a man named Wolff, who was at the head of the Spokane team about five years ago. He got peeved at Ralph Frary, umpire, and made reckless charges against him. He was called to book by Frary, who was backed up by the directors of the league. The case was taken up with the national association and Wolff was called upon to substantiate his talk. He said he could do so and the national association meeting that year in Chicago offered to defray all his expenses if he would come on to Chicago and make good. He failed to do so and was dropped from baseball. That's how Joe Cohn eventually got into baseball over there. Wolff has tried to get reinstated since that time, but there has been nothing doing for him. If Fogel got a similar dose it would be a good thing for the National League. Most baseball umpires are on the square. Some of them are incompetent, but mighty few of them are crooked, and any time a baseball magnate accuses one of them of wrongdoing he should be made to prove it or take the consequences.

BROKE ARM IN THROWING BALL

Australian Cricketer Broke His Arm in Two Places When He Threw a Ball During Match

The popular South African cricketer and association football player, Gerald Hartigan, if his side did not have much luck in the test matches, has the consolation of knowing that he created one record in England of which nobobdy will be anxious to deprive him. When fielding at long-on to the bowling of C. P. Carter, on the Woodbrook cricket ground, Bray, Ireland, the beautiful private ground of Mr. Cochrane, Hartigan had the misfortune when in the act of throwing in, to break his right arm in two places, a piece of the bone coming right away. This is the only recorded case in the British Isles, so far as is known, of a player breaking his arm when throwing a cricket ball, though a similar peculiar accident befell an Austrian at Sydney, N. S. W., many years ago. Hartigan was throwing to a point almost straight before him, and although several of the players actually heard the bone "go," he is himself unconscious of having heard anything. The ball was struck by R. A. Lloyd, the Irish XV captain and half back.

Cubs to Change Managers.

Chicago, Oct. 23. — Frank Chance, manager of the Chicago Cubs for seven years, will not be at the head of the team next year if President Murphy stands by a statement he made the other day. Murphy said he would have as leader next year the youngest playing manager in the league and a man who will live and vote in Chicago. But he would not name him. Chance, who is older than any of the managers, probably will not play next year, and says he will not live in Chicago throughout the year on any consideration on account of his California interests. "I don't know who Murphy has in mind," Chance said. "I shall not visit his office unless I am reqeusted to, and, further, I don't think Murphy wants to see me any more than I want to see him."

ADAM WON THE EDEN LEAGUE

They never know in Paradise
what baseball was about,
And yet when Adam tried to steal they up and threw him out.

Cain never wore a pair of spikes or saw a catcher's mitt,
And yet he clouted Abel's curves and made the first base hit.

And when they found that he had bounced a hit off
Abel's dome
Old Adam rudely cut him off and threw him out at home.

Will Have a Good League

Basket ball seems to have taken a strong hold on the young men who have got together and formed the league, and several dozen young huskies may be seen almost any night practicing at the Auditorium. The Kaien Islanders have a particularly heavy and fast team, while the St. Andrew's Society features five Scotsmen, long of wind and limb, and if they can repress their tendency to turn the game into one of "fitba'" they will have a winning aggregation. The Men's Own have a practice hall of their own now and number amongst their numbers several former crack men.

You Are on the Bench

YOU—the Public—are the judge. On your good opinion and your good word depends the success of the advertised article. For no amount of advertising will induce you to buy a second time what you do not like. No advertising will offset the bad effect of a dissatisfied buyer.

That is why advertisers must and do maintain the quality of their goods.

Advertisers realize that to turn their outlay for advertising into profit they must give good value.

They are not looking for one-time sales. First sales, in most cases, would not pay for the advertising.

To be successful, they must make steady customers. So, quality is being put in to hold the trade that advertising produces.

Thus, to be sure of quality, one naturally turns to goods that are advertised. And isn't it only reasonable?

No manufacturer can afford to advertise for long an inferior article. From the moment the advertising begins, the quality must either be kept uniform or improved—to go back means ruin.

The day is passing when you ask for a pint of pickles. You name the brand.

You don't ask for Rolled Oats. You name the brand you prefer.

The unknown article may be good, but you are not so sure of it as you are of the advertised article, which bears the seal of quality, —a well known maker's trade name.

TO MANUFACTURERS

You who make good goods and do not advertise—show your confidence in your product.
Advertise it.
Let the public know that you stand back of your goods to maintain their high quality.

Make your trade name the recognized standard in your line.

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available through any good advertising agency, or the Secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 503 Lumsden Building. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write, if interested.
