Man in the Moon

Spring is the season when the lady of the house worries her husband to clean up the yard.

What happens to all the garden tools that are purchased. Jake says they possibly go along with the household hammers and the screw drivers.

A man can't live long on his reputation.

You can tell a man's age by noting how critical he may be. The younger he is, the more he criticizes.

I have been keeping Lent this year. On Shrove Tuesday I made a solemn pledge that I would pay no bills until after Easter.

There are no swear words in the Welsh language, I am told. It's bad enough to have to use the language anyway.

Jake says he's glad the Government changed last year. If the Skeena Highway had been continued he'd have had to buy a flivver pretty soon and then he'd been broke all the time.

A local man came home rather late the other night and when his wife met him he asked her for a mirror to see who he was.

What a happy world this would be if there were no bill collectors.

This world's a happy place
But one thing makes it hell—
A collector sits on every step.
What he wants I cannot tell.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

March 21, 1919

At a meeting of the Deep Sea Fishermen's Union last night it was decided to accept the ruling of headquarters and go back to work on company halibut boats on 1918 terms. Thus a tie-up since early in February will be concluded.

Newman Erb, chairman of the board of directors of the Prince Rupert Dry Dock & Engineering Co., has accepted an invitation to address the Canadian Club at a luncheon next week.

Arrangements are being made for the season's football activities and a six team league is expected. The first game of the season will be played on Good Friday between the Sons of England and St. Andrew's Society.

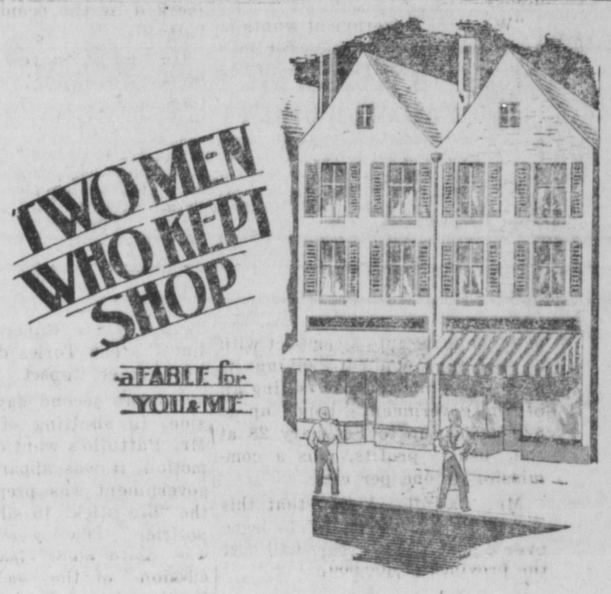
EMBARRASSING MOMENTS



ONCE there were two men who kept shop. Both shopkeepers were in the same mode of business, but their methods differed widely. In fact it was only a matter of time, a short time, before one must close.

Now the other shopkeeper was different, he was prosperous. His store looked neat and clean, spruce, tidy and colorful, with a front that bespoke quality and service. Now this shopkeeper was a great community booster. His bid for patronage was based on selling his customers the products of his local industries first. He claimed that the industries in his locality employed men who earned wages, who spent wages, and kept others employed. His pet theory was, the more of Pat's mouse traps he sold the more Pat must make, and the more Pat would earn to buy goods from him, the wise shopkeeper. And so he succeeded and became prosperous and popular, and his philosophy and wise counsel spread rapidly.

Now, there's a moral to this story:

Every dollar paid for foreign made goods departs from your homeland never to return; but, each dollar exchanged for a B.C. product remains in British Columbia and quickly grows in value. It enriches industry, ensures employment and introduces prosperity into the homes of the workers.

This is the third advertisement of a series authorized by the B.C. Products Bureau of the Vancouver Board of Trade in the interests of the manufacturers of British Columbia.

BE PROUD TO BUY B.C. PRODUCTS
