SAWCHUK BACK WITH SHUTOUT: WINGS MOVE TO SECOND PLACE

By KENNEDY WELLS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Coach Sid Abel can relax again. Detroit Red Wings' Terry Sawchuk has re-discovered the formula for goal-tending success.

Sawchuk, who let in 13 goals in two National Hockey League games last weekend, bounced back to form Thursday night with a 4-0 shutout of Boston Bruins, his third of the season.

In Montreal Jacques Plante, Sawchuk's only serious rival for NHL net-minding honors this season, allowed two second-period goals as his Canadiens hung on for a 2-2 tie with Toronto Maple Leafs.

The win moved Detroit into second place, three points back of Montreal while Boston dropped into third.
