Fixed ideas

From The Windsor Daily Star

There really isn't much hope of altering opinion in the Southern States on the segregation issue, insofar as the older people are concerned. They have been brought up (virtually born) with thir attitudes to the colored folk. They are unlikely to change their thinking, even if by legislation they are forced to change their actions.

IWA to reject board award

PRINCE GEORGE (CP)—Jack Holst, president of the International Woodworkers of America Local here, said Wednesday that members are turning down the majority award of a conciliation board by a 90-per-cent majority.

The 2,000 members of the IWA in northern B.C. started casting ballots Tuesday to accept or reject the board's recommendation. So far 300 members have voted.

The board recommended no wage increases.
