The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	Pass	2 ♥	Pass
Pass	Pass

Opening lead: King of ♦

have a 60 part score. South deals.

South was well on his way to score an easy game when East snatched it from his grasp by a rather unusual holdup play in trumps.

In view of vulnerability, West could not safely overcall the opening heart bid and East could hardly risk a call at the level of three. It may be suggested that West might bid three diamonds after the opposition had reached game, but if partner were short in diamonds this could lead to a great disaster. A shaded take-out double originally, by West, is a possible solution to the problem since it permits East to enter the auction at a relatively low level.

Against the game contract of two hearts West opened the king of diamonds. South ruffed the continuation and led a low heart to dummy's eight. Had East taken this trick declarer would have been home. A diamond continuation could be ruffed in dummy and later diamond forces would net the defence just three hearts and two diamonds. If East continues trump, declarer scores thee hearts, four clubs and a spade.

But East allowed the eight of hearts to hold. Impressed with his own strength, declarer now tried the spade finesse losing to West's king. On the club return, South won and led a heart. The rude awakening came when West showed out. East cashed his two high trumps and continued with a diamond. This took declarer's last trump and, when East got in with his surviving trump, the defense cashed sufficient diamond tricks to defeat the contract.

Survives 4,800 volts

PENTICTON (CP) — Jimmy Faed, 3, survived a jolt from a 4,800-volt transformer here Thursday. The boy is resting comfortably in hospital with severe arm and hand burns. "If he hadn't been leaning against the transformer when he touched the lead he would be dead," said city electric superintendent Al Amundsen.
