THIRTY KILLED AND FIFTY INJURED IN MISSISSIPPI RAILROAD DISASTER

Terrible Scenes Surround Collision of Freight and Excursion Trains Near New Orleans---Nine Dead Bodies Recovered ---Many Still in Debris of the Coaches

(Special to Daily News.)
New Orleans, Nov. 11.—Thirty persons are believed to have lost their lives and at least fifty received serious, some fatal, injuries in a terrible railroad wreck 27 miles north of this city, near the town of Montezla, on the line of the Yazoo & Mississippi Valley Railroad, when the through freight train crashed into the rear end of a crowded excursion train of ten coaches.

Nine bodies have been recovered and many remain to be taken out of the debris of the wrecked coaches, where they are known to be.
The scenes surrounding the accident were harrowing. The excursion train was packed to the doors with men, women and children. Families were separated, some being in one car while others were in different coaches and the hunt for relatives and friends by panic stricken women and men, together with the screaming of the dying and wounded was awful. Every effort was made at once to recover the bodies of those dead and save the injured. Doctors and nurses on hearing of the disaster here at once prepared to go to the place on an emergency wrecking train.

MANY INJURED IN COLLISION

San Francisco Street Cars Collide and Many Are Injured, Some Seriously.

(Special to Daily News.)
San Francisco, Nov. 11.—Ten persons were injured, two of them very seriously, this morning as the result of a street car collision.

FISHERS CAMP OUT IN STORM

Wind Prevented Three Persons Returning to the City Yesterday in a Small Boat.

Row boat excursions on the harbor in the middle of November are not unattended, with pleasurable excitement, not to mention a spice of adventure and inconvenience. Well known as is the joy of a late tete-a-tete supper over the toothsome and succulent crab, there are those who will probably think it wiser the next time they contemplate a feast to purchase them on this side of the water, already boiled and cracked, before setting forth with line and hook to endeavor to wrest them all alive from the vasty deep.
It was the uncomfortable experience of three well known young people of this city to have to spend the night huddled up over a campfire trying to keep warm last night until the welcoming daylight and abatement of the wind permitted them to again return to this side of the harbor.
It appears that a small row boat, just big enough for two, started off in the morning with the avowed object of crabbing, the occupants intending to return in time for tea in the afternoon. Not turning up when expected and their friends becoming anxious, the brother of one of the party set off to hunt for them, locating them on the opposite shore sitting by the sad sea waves.
The sea was running so high that it was found impossible to effect a landing upon the little launch and the three were perforce obliged to make the best of it and do a nimpromptu camping out act, highly romantic although slightly inconvenient. Their many friends were delighted to hail their return safe and sound this morning.

EUROPE MAY BE PLUNGED INTO BIG WAR BY AUSTRIAN-SERVIAN TROUBLE

Austria's Warning to Servia Not to Touch the Adriatic Has Been Disregarded and May Lead to a General European Conflict---Germany Believed to be Behind Austria

(Special to Daily News.)
Belgrade, Nov. 11.—The vanguard of the Servian army, under General Yankovich, has reached the Adriatic Sea and is expected to size Durazzo on Wednesday, according to despatches received here and subsequent official announcements.
The seizure of the Turkish territory on the Adriatic Sea was the to Servia last week and it is in subject of the note from Austria direct opposition to the contents of the note that Servia is taking the action she is now doing in seizing the port, and it is expected that Austria will take action and plunge Europe into a disastrous war.

Germany is believed to be behind Austria and will support any action she may take to obtain from Servia the observance of her orders in regard to the conquest of the Turkish shore line.

PIERROTS PROMISE AN EXCELLENT ENTERTAINMENT AT WESTHOLME

ROWING CLUB SHOW WILL BE PRODUCED THIS EVENING---NEW SONGS, CLEVER DANCES AND WITTY SAYINGS WILL PLEASE EVERYONE

Everything is in readiness for the production of the grand Pierrot concert, in aid of the Prince Rupert Rowing Club, at the Westholme Opera House this evening. No time, trouble or expense has been spared by the producers to make this event one long to be remembered in the annals of the musical entertainment line in Prince Rupert.
Night after night, under the capable musical directorship of Mr. George Werner and the stage management of Mr. J. W. Chapple, the members of the company have rehearsed their songs and dances.
When the curtain goes up tonight at 8:30 a surprise will be in store for the big audience. Entirely new and original turns and ideas have been introduced. Music that will set the audience almost humming and dancing in their seats, brilliant costumes and pretty faces, enough to bewitch and turn the head of the veriest stogie, will all go together to make up as delightful and fascinating an evening's entertainment as the heart could wish for.
The members of the Rowing Club and their friends will be there in full strength, the theatre being specially decorated for the occasion.
Mr. L. Crippen, who has been sitting up nights concocting a number of the latest gags and bonnets, will be there, having the time of his life amongst the girls. The troupe have been photographed in costume by Mr. D. M. Bain of the Panama Studio, who has achieved a most artistic success in his effort, copies being placed in the windows of several of the stores in the city, whilst a magnificent enlargement of one group holds the place of honor outside the foyer of the theatre.

A crowded house will most assuredly be on hand this evening to witness the performance and applaud the efforts of the talented amateurs who have devoted so much time and hard work to providing amusement for Prince Rupert citizens and at the same time endeavoring to provide funds for the keeping up of such a deserving institution as the Prince Rupert Rowing Club.

IGNORANCE CAUSES INDIANS TO KILL BEAVER FOR SKINS

TWO NATIVES RELEASED ON SUSPENDED SENTENCE WHEN CONVICTED OF KILLING BEAVER—STIKINE AND NORTHERN INDIANS MAY DO SO.

Before Magistrate Little at Terrace, on Saturday last, Ben Bennett and Phillip Roberts, the Indians charged with killing beaver in the closed season, were given their liberty on suspended sentence. Provincial Constable T. Parsons found them in the possession of twenty pelts, valued at $240., which have been confiscated by the government. The Provincial Act reads that only the Indians of Liard, Stikine and Peace River district, the northernmost portion of the province, are exempt in this regard, it not applying to the Skeena River Indians.

Indian Agent Charles C. Perry of Metlakatla represented the Indians. Mr. Perry showed very clearly that there was a good deal to be said in favor of his charges. While it was admitted that the Indians had trapped beaver, he showed that they acted with judgment and discretion, only taking the full grown beaver of the male kind. He stated it as his unqualified opinion that absolutely no injury was worked in this way upon the propagation of the species in the province. The Indians had been in the habit of killing a certain number for food until, quite recently, an act was passed putting the natives of the interior of the province upon the same footing as the white man.

The provincial authorities are going to take stringent measures against a number of white men, however, who are known to be both illegally trapping beaver and buying the pelts. It is thought that at the next session of the Provincial house the new act in regard to the Indians of this district will be amended so as to make them exempt, as are their brothers of the northern part of the province.
