AT FIRST PRESBYTERIAN HALL

Scouts, Cubs, fathers attend spaghetti fete

Spaghetti was the dinner fare last night when the Third Prince Rupert Scout Troop and Cub Pack gathered in the newly-decorated First Presbyterian Church hall to attend the annual "Father and Son" banquet.

Some 90 boys, fathers and invited guests were welcomed by banquet conveners, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Robb.

Outlining the year's activities and progress were Scoutmaster W. L. Giesbrecht and Cubmaster W. D. Sutherland.

W. A Bisset, assistant district commissioner, gave the boys a keen "pep" talk, while David Ridsdale, district Scoutmaster, also a guest speaker, spoke on the advantages of attending a Jamboree

Rounding out the enjoyable fete, a skit was presented by Scoutmasters and Cubmasters to the delight of the boys, followed by films.

During a short business session, elections for a new group committee was held consisting of Robert Currie, E. A. L. Dawes, Jack Mussallem, Hendriku Leeuw, James Hebb, Kenneth Aird and James Hadden.

Assistant Cubmasters for the group are G. M. Currie, Harold Britten and Rev. Ivan S. Gamble, church minister.

E. T. Lay is assistant Scoutmaster.

WORLD-FAMOUS AMERICAN MEZZO-SOPRANO NAN MERRIMAN

American mezzo-soprano thrills concert-goers with last recital

The world-famous voice of American mezzo-soprano Miss Nan Merriman which last night magnificently resounded throughout the Civic Centre auditorum was a glorious tribute to conclude the successful 1960-61 series of the Prince Rupert Concert Society.

Three encores following a program of outstanding variety and many well-known compositions provided some 250 concert-goers with one of the greatest musical recitals presented on the Alaska Music Trail.

Glamorous and dynamic, an artist of the highest calibre, Miss Merriman with her extraordinary voice, poise and savoir faire, who has captivated audiences on four continents, last night left her listeners "wishing to hear more."

ENDS TOO SOON

All too soon did she sing her favorite encores, "I have A Bonnet Trimmed with Blue", "Look Edwin" and "Annie Laurie" to end a thrilling musical experience.

The timbre of her rich tones, graceful dexterity, dramatic interpretation and deep emotional artistry enhanced the superlative works sang in Italian, French and Spanish, as well as American — famed accompaning pianist, Ralph Linsley.

In velvet voice and bountiful range, Miss Merriman opened her recital with Italian songs, "Se Tu m'Ami", by Pergolesi; "Se Florindo e fedele", by A. Scarlatti, "Amarilli", by Caccini and "E Amore un Ladroncello" by Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart.

With disciplined vocal technique she then sang Alfred Bachelet's "Chere Nuit".

LOUDLY APPLAUDED

"The poetic discords of Claude Bilitis" in three parts was beautifully handled by the singer receiving a tremendous applause she then sang two favorites "Gavotte" from Mignon and Bizet's "Recitative and Habanera" from "Carmen", to the wild pleasure of her audience.

Her Spanish rhymthmic songs were "La Giralda" by Turina, "Cancion del fuego fatuo" by DeFalla, "El Amor es como un nino" by Ocon and "El vito" by Obradors.

Miss Merriman's great love of British country songs was shown in her selections, "My Lagan Love", by Hamilton Harty, "The Weaver's Daughter" by Herbert Hughes, the beautiful Scottish song "Think of Me" by Carol Perrenot and "Johnny I Hardly Knew Ye", by Herbert Hughes, which received unexcelled interpretation.

SINGS FOR STUDENTS

With her wonderful personality, Miss Merriman also provided a delightful experience for high school students yesterday afternoon when she gave a short recital at Booth Memorial Junior High School.

On stage last night, in violet-satin evening gown and sparkling jewels, she was introduced by Concert Society member Frederick Conrad.

Following the concert, Miss Merriman was entertaned by a group of concert-goers at a Chinese supper in the Bamboo room of the Broadway Cafe.

The vivacious artist, who has a full season of engagements awaiting her when she concludes her northern tour, expressed her desire to visit New Zealand and Australia, "one of the few countries I still have to see." Miss Merriman speaks five languages fluently.

Hosts for her Prince Rupert visit were Mr. and Mrs. William C. Hankinson — G.V.B.

Health habit improvements noted on coast says nurse

Improvement has been noted in the health habits and also in maternal and child care among the coast and Territorial Native Indians, Miss Jean Whiteford, RN, principal nursing officer of the Department of National Health and Welfare's Indian and Northern Health Services, said here yesterday.

Miss Whiteford is here from Ottawa as part of her tour of central and western provinces and the Yukon and North West Territories. She has visited Indian villages, hospitals and public health centres, having come here from Whitehorse. She will continue her tour with visits to Prince George, Lower Mainland and Vancouver Island centres.

With her is Miss Harriet Johnston, RN, zone supervisor of nurses for the Indian and Northern Health Services, who has headquarters at Miller Bay Indian Hospital. Miss Johnston supervises the activities of public health nurses at Alyansh, Port Simpson, Hazelton, Vanderhoof, Masset and Miller Bay.

Miss Whiteford said that she was "very impressed with the coast Indians" and that they were making excellent progress in regards to health habits.

"We are concentrating on better pre-natal care for prospective mothers and have classes underway for mothers and fathers both in the home and by group teaching, to help parents provide better care for their youngsters," she said.

BORN IN VANCOUVER IN 1881

City of Vancouver honors Mrs. Glassey

Mrs. Herbert F. Glassey, pioneer city resident was honored by the City of Vancouver when on April 6 she received a medallion from the Vancouver's 75th Anniversary Committee.

The occasion was the 75th anniversary of the incorporation of the City of Vancouver.

With the medallion Mrs. Glassey received a letter from Alderman Halford D. Wilson, chairman, Vancouver's 75th anniversary committee which stated:

"It gives me great pleasure, on behalf of the committee, to present you with the enclosed medallion as a token of appreciation of the courage, determination and achievement shown by pioneer citizens like yourself, in building Vancouver to the great city it is today."

In addition Mrs. Glassey also received an invitation from the commissioners of the board of parks and public recreation to be its guest at dinner at the Pavilion, Stanley Park, March 27, for being one of the pioneers of Vancouver resident there before the arrival of the first passenger train May 23, 1887.

Wife of former Prince Rupert mayor, alderman and magistrate, Mrs. Glassey came to Prince Rupert in November, 1918 with her husband, from Quesnel.

Born in Vancouver November 13, 1881 and one of three children of the late Mr. and Mrs. Johannes Wessel, at an early age she attended St. Ann's Convent in Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. Glassey lived for one year in Quesnel before coming to Prince Rupert.

Tiny tots enjoy party at Centre

A wind-up party for four classes of Tiny Tots yesterday afternoon filled the Civic Centre with keen excitement and fun as some 200 youngsters from three to six years of age gathered to conclude a most successful year of classes.

Providing entertainment was the Civic Centre Tiny Tot Rhythm Band, loudly applauded by parents and other children.

Highlight of the party was the dropping of several hundred balloons, containing two lucky numbers.

Winners were Janet Hawryluk and Brenda Elliott, who each received $5 gift certificates from the Storke Shoppe.

A peanut scramble for prizes also provided enjoyment.

Refreshment - fare included ice-cream and cookies for the Tiny Tots and coffee, cake and cookies for the mothers.

Mrs. W. C. Peterson, in charge of the Tiny Tot classes, was presented with a bouquet of flowers and a box of chocolates by Mrs. A. J. Dominato, on behalf of the mothers and classes.

Mrs. Peterson in turn thanked mothers and children and also expressed her appreciation to the mothers for bringing the children out so regularly to classes throughout the year.
