Track and Field Association Brought Into Being Here with Enthusiastic Public Meeting

To sponsor the holding in this city of such field and track sports as sprints, jumps and marathons of various classes, the Prince Rupert Track & Field Association was launched at a largely attended meeting last evening in the City Hall. Great enthusiasm for this line of sport was displayed. Jack Campbell was elected president of the association and Douglas Frizzell, secretary-treasurer with an executive to be composed of one representative each of the competing teams. The Canadian National Recreation League and the Elks have already formed teams while a third will be organized by Doug. Frizzell.

The president and secretary were authorized to interview the Fair Board with a view to holding the first meet on May 24.

Another meeting of the association will be held on Wednesday of next week.

Prospects bid fair for a successful baseball season in Prince Rupert this year if the enthusiasm displayed at the annual meeting Tuesday of the local Baseball Association may be taken as any criterion. It is said that there is even more diamond material available this year than last. The Association has acted wisely in deciding to again vise the lists of players on the official team entries and, if necessary, revise them slightly in order to balance the players up for well matched teams. Such action last year was no doubt responsible for the close play during the schedule and the tight finish. It is regrettable that the Gyro Club's place will, no doubt, be effectively filled by the new nine which is being organized by Andy Donald.

Exactly 60 of 65 major league baseball writers and sports editors who responded to a request of the Associated Press for their opinions as to who will cop the American League penant this year have selected the Athletics to make it two in a row. The remaining five, taking a long shot at the advance dope, named the Yanks to stage a comeback and pick up the pennant winning habit where they left off in 1928. This is the order of finish that the baseball experts expect this year: Philadelphia, New York, Cleveland, Detroit, St. Louis, Chicago, Washington and Boston.

W. M. Watts is returning to the city on this afternoon's train from a brief business trip to Terrace.

Man in the Moon

Gliders in the air are like opposition political parties, they must keep going without power.

When the sour looking lady objected to being asked for beer bottles, the bottle vendor retorted by asking if she had any vinegar bottles to sell.

A Prince Rupert lady was visiting in Vancouver. She went into a furniture store and asked to see something odd in mirrors. "Yes, lady," the salesman said. "Take a look in this one."

Mother—What kind of a show did papa take you to, Bobby?

Bobby—It was a dandy, mamma. They had ladies dressed in stockings up to their necks.

Mrs. Tellit—Cousin Dorothy, you know, always wanted to have a little baby daughter so she could name her June.

Mrs. Askit—Yes. Did she do it.?

Mrs. Tellit—No. The man she married was named Bugg, and it wouldn't do, you see.

Finds Transfusion Parent's Blood Is Measles Antidote

NEW YORK, April 22:—The inoculation of a child with the blood of one of the parents is a simple preventative that will ward off the danger of a severe attack of measles, Major Edward J. Abbott, M.D., said in a radio talk delivered under the auspices of the Health Department.

The injection will be valueless unless made within five days after exposure to the disease, Major Abbott said. A small amount of blood is drawn from one of the parents who has had measles and transferred to the child in an intermuscular injection. One ounce will give sufficient protection. The child may not escape the disease, but will have it only in a mild form.

"Almost no fever, scanty rash and complete lack of the usual aching and constitutional symptoms may be expected," Major Abbott said. "Above all, the pneumonia, which so often follows the measles with fatal consequences, will be prevented. A dose of double the size gives complete but temporary immunity. The smaller injection is preferred because it permits the child to develop an immunity which lasts the rest of his life."

Atlantic Trawlers Under New Rules

Halifax So Far, Only Port Affected By Regulations

MONTREAL, April 22: — The much-discussed regulations against Canadian steam trawlers operating on Atlantic fishing grounds, went into force at midnight, April 1. Captains of fishing trawlers already on the grounds were instructed by wireless to report to the Eastern Fisheries Division at Halifax their approximate catch up to midnight, March 31. When they return to port they will be taxed one cent a pound on all cod, haddock, and halibut landed at Canadian Atlantic ports —that is if they are foreign-built trawlers. Canadian-built trawlers will pay a tax of two-thirds of a cent a pound on these fish.

Halifax is the only port affected by the new regulations at the present time, there being six trawlers operating out of that port, of which five, owned by National Fish Company, are not Canadian-built, and the sixth, a Canadian-built trawler, is owned by Leonard Fisheries. Each of these trawlers have been landing 5,000,000 pounds of fish, annually, requiring a total annual tax payment on the new basis of approximately $100,000.

They Pay You

ADVERTISEMENTS pay you to read them. They pay you in time. From the advertisements in this newspaper you can learn where to get what you want, instead of searching around. You can know the merits of each article offered for sale.

They pay you in money. Advertisements help you to get full value for your dollars. Goods which are consistently advertised are of consistently high quality for their prices.

They pay you in satisfaction. Manufacturers and merchants will not undertake an advertising campaign until they are sure their product is right. It would be ruinous to advertise an unworthy product, for that would simply call added attention to its deficiencies.

They pay you in information. Advertisements tell of new products, of new designs, new materials, better workmanship. Well-informed people always read the advertisements to keep posted.

Reading the advertisements is an investment that pays big returns.
