The Classified Ads.

Many people have something in the house they would like to sell which could be turned into money if they knew of a customer. Try a classified advertisement. Most people read the classifieds. For about fifty cents you can let them know about it and it may prove a profitable transaction.

Renting the House

There are a number of houses in the city not rented yet and many people make little effort to secure a tenant. Others who are wise to their opoprtunities try a classified advertisement in the "For Rent" column and often get results. As one satisfied customer said recently: "Those little ads certainly do bring results."

Some Like Reader Ads.

Some people after trying other kinds of advertising decide to try a reader among the locals and personals. Then they have got results. The cost is a little higher but they have been well satisfied. When conditions are like they are today the newspapers can often help. The price is not very high. Do not lie down and bemoan your hard fate. Try a different kind of advertisement and if that is not successful try again.

WEEK-END AT SOUTHEND GIVES BARREL OF FUN TO LONDONER; LIVELY TRIP START TO FINISH

if the "Scotch" blood comes to the surface, need only spend the price of admission, 6c.

Once inside we are confronted with hundreds of amusements and side shows. For 6c you can get three wooden balls and if you are lucky at throwing and hit the "bullseye" two young ladies are tipped out of bed in their underwear. If you don't like underwear you can go on the scenic railway, or the switchback and lose your meal. It's about the darndest switchback in the world, the next most exciting thing in this life would be to try and cross the Atlantic on a washing board. Oh, yes, and there's the water chute if you are looking for a real thrill. You climb up towards the stars, then sit in a flat boatlike affair and are shot down a chute into the water at about 80 miles an hour, more or less.

And oh boy, you should hear the girls scream when the splash comes! Of course if one doesn't want to spend, well, one can just take the mike out of the other fellow endeavoring to get a kick out of life.

Wild West Shows

Of course there are the proverbial Wild West ride shows where the cowboy (?) wears his spurs upside down or, a pair of carpet slippers, but the hat and revolver are usually true to type. If they can't shoot they can shout and there is no excuse for saying you didn't hear him the first time. Then there's the Indians and their snakes but what man wants to pay to see snakes when you can buy them by the glassful—and so the fun goes on. We stroll along the front after all this excitement and admire the wonderful and colorful electric illuminations, and to see the pier lit up from end to end is a sight worth seeing.

With a last long breath of sea air we board the bus for "home" and bed and have no trouble in nearly sleeping the clock around. On Sunday morning we can go for a swim before breakfast or a lovely country walk after which we can sit on the front in a deck chair and watch the "world" go by while we get a coat of tan and listen to one of His Majesty's bands. After a good lunch and a quiet afternoon we board a train about 6 p.m. which lands us back in London just after 7 feeling much refreshed for our few hours of ozone breathing and ready for the business battle on the morrow.

Cheap Holiday

For ten bucks, all told, we have had a delightful change and feel as though we had been on a real holiday. In fact, thousands of people live down that way and go backward and forward every day to London to business so well does the railway cater for quick travel and cheap season tickets. In the summer time it's lovely but in the winter time not so good.

Naturally we have brought some cockles back in a nifty little straw bag and our landlady munches these while we tuck in to some ham and —— and tell her all about the sea which she has probably never seen in her life.

It's a fact, dear folks, there are yet thousands of Londoners who have never yet been to the seaside although it is practically on their doorstep, or seen Big Ben and I'll bet doughnuts to a new collar stud there are folks in Prince Rupert today who have never been fishing for crabs at McNicholl Creek—the greatest and cheapest sport in the world.

Police Gardens Are Looking Well

Efforts Being Made to Develop Beauty Spot But Spit Bug Interferes

The police station gardens are looking very well this year. They indicate that a great deal of interest has been taken in keeping them well cultivated and trimmed. Just now, however, the spit bug is starting to spoil some of the flowers, especially the seedlings and the honeysuckle. The combined police units have been marshalled to rid the gardens of the nasty little intruder but with no good result so far. Naturally the police get lots of advice as to what to do in the circumstances but the advice is not very valuable.

As many other gardens are injured by the pest, anyone knowing an absolute cure would be doing a public service by publishing it.

COMEDY IS HILARIOUS

"This is the Night" Mid-Week Feature of Capitol Screen—"Morocco" Brought Back

In "This is the Night," mid-week feature offering at the Capitol Theatre here, Lily Damita plays the part of a beautiful Parisian actress who is hired by Charlie Ruggles to pose as the wife of Roland Young.

This deception is necessary to fool Cary Grant, young business man, with whose wife, Thelma Todd, the bachelor Young had been caught in a gay moment by Grant just back from a long trip. The five friends take a trip to Vienna and there complications begin for Lily and Young perceive that they are really falling in love with each other. The complications revolve in a cyclone of farcical predicaments, all ending up merrily. Several song hits are interspersed in the action.

As the weekly revival feature for tonight only, in addition to the full regular program, "Morocco," which proved a great drama in its initial showing, is being brought back. Marlene Deitrich and Gary Cooper, it will be remembered, are the stars.

Skeena Sockeye Fleet Awaiting Price Increase

There was no change in the situation as affects sockeye fishing on the Skeena River yesterday so far as could be gathered in official uqarters. The fishermen, having rejected the price of 27½c apiece for sockeye, were still awaiting word from the canners in regard to their request for 30c and sockeye fishing had not as yet commenced.

Norman L. Freeman, local representative of the International Fisheries Commission returned to the city on the Prince Robert this morning from a trip to Juneau and Ketchikan on official duties.

AIR DRIED SHINGLES

Retain the cedar oil in the wood, affording extra and better preservation than kiln-dried shingles from which the essential oil has been evaporated. Our shingles are made on Queen Charlotte Islands and, as a home product, deserve your preference. Shingle makers wages on the Islands are spent eventually in Prince Rupert, while Vancouver wages never come north. Support a home industry and your own welfare by specifying Air Dried Shingles.
