CROYDON, England, October 19:—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, paid a surprise visit to the airdrome here and made a test flight in the plane which Sir Allan Cobham plans using for a flight to Australia.

Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh are in London on their way back to the United States after a transAtlantic flight.

Logging Camps on Queen Charlotte Islands Closing

A rather heavy passenger list brought here yesterday morning from the Queen Charlotte Islands by the steamer Prince John consisted largely of loggers from the camps of the T. A. Kelley Logging Co. at Selwyn Inlet and the A. P. Allison Co. at Queen Charlotte City which have just closed down for the winter. The camp of the J. R. Morgan Logging Co. at Crescent Inlet will continue in operation until Christmas. Mr. Morgan also came over from the Islands on the John and will return there tomorrow morning aboard the forestry boat Lillian D.

Happy Card Party Held by Pioneers

Jolly Crowd at Function Last Night In Oddfellows' Hall—Genial Spirit Pervaded

Pioneers of the city foregathered in goodly number and with their usual spirit of genial camaradie last night in the Oddfellows' Hall where a very enjoyable bridge and whist party was held after which delicious refreshments were served and an hour or so of old time dancing followed.

Prize winners were W. A. McLean and Joe Rowatt at bridge and Mrs. C. Jensen and F. W. Wesch at whist. J. E. Jack, president of the association, was master of ceremonies.

The committee in charge of the serving of refreshments consisted of Mrs. J. E. Jack, Mrs. J. G. Viereck, Mrs. H. B. Eastman, Mrs. S. V Cox and Mrs. P. W. Anderson.

For the dancing excellent music was furnished by Mrs. J. S. Black.

Eddie Hudson presided at the door.

FIGURES IN SPORT

EDWARD R. BRADLEY, SPORTSMAN

Col. Edward Riley Bradley, who made a fortune in real estate and investments as well as from an elaborate casino at Palm Beach, Fla., during recent years has concentrated on his hobby of horse racing until his horses have won almost every major stake in America. After the death of Harry Payne Whitney and since his horses have begun winning the Kentucky Derby, most prized racing stake of the United States, with regularity, he has been called the "nation's premier turfman." His famed Idle Hour farm near Lexington, Ky., is considered a model horse breeding establishment. He is also interested in race tracks in other parts of the United States.

Respected by rival turfmen for his ability to develop race horses which are dangerous in any class of competition, Col. Bradley is most revered in the blue grass section of Kentucky for his numerous philanthropies.

Col. Cooper was the first owner to send four winners to the post in the Kentucky Derby — Behave Yourself in 1912, in which year another of his horses, Black Servant, ran second; Bubbling Over in 1926 when Bagenbaggage, another Cooper horse, again came second; Burgoo King in 1932, and Broker's Tip this year. Blue Larkspur proved to be Bradley's best money-winning horse, cleaning up $272,000 during his racing career, although he was able to finish only fourth in the 1929 Derby.

Bradley was born at Johnstown, Pa., December 12, 1859, of poor parents and worked in steel mills until he heard the call of the west and went to Texas with only a few dollars in his pockets. In Texas he worked as gold miner, cowboy and Indian scout and, eventually, with a sizeable roll in his pocket, went to Chicago where he made a fortune in the real estate and hotel business. Later he established the Beach Club casino at Palm Beach and of recent years has devoted himself almost entirely to the horse breeding and racing hobby.

SPORT CHAT

J. H. Horton and Fred Rogers were winners in the season's horseshoe pitching competition of the Canadian National Recreation Association here. F. M. Davis and James Simpson won second place honors after a play-off with G. Coverdale and Charles Harradine and Pete Peterson and J. H. Mair. There were seven teams in competition, Nicholls and Gammon finishing fifth, Brass and Jurmain sixth and Long and Teng seventh.

Everything they do in Hollywood may not be "cricket," but the movie centre boasts one of America's finest cricket clubs. Those interested in the game include Ronald Colman, George Arliss, Philip Merivale, P. G. Wodehouse, David Torrence, Boris Karloff, Pat Somerset, C. Aubrey Smith, Claude King and Murray Kennell. Smith and Somerset are probably the best players in the film colony. Somerset, once a soccer internationalist in England, often scores a century in the local matches.

Supper will be served and tonight there will be a social evening at which the drawings for the prizes will take place.

JUDGMENT RENDERED

Chief Justice Announces Finding in Long-Standing Mining Case

Judgment in the case of Woodbine Gold Mining Co. Ltd. vs. Arthur H. Edwards and Edward, Morgan & Co., which first entered the courts in 1929, was recently handed down in Supreme Court in Vancouver by Chief Justice Aulay Morrison who acceded to a motion of counsel for the defendant, J. W. deB. Farris K.C., to dismiss the suit.

In this case the plaintiff's claim was for damages and, in the alternative, judgment in the amount of $3150 on a contract of settlement between plaintiff and defendants.

His Lordship found that there was no fraud or breach of duty by the defendant even if any duty were owing to the plaintiff and there was no damage resulting to the plaintiff by any act of the defendant. "The delay in handing down my decision," explained the chief justice, "has arisen from a desire by counsel to consider some subsidiary aspects not dealt with by Mr. Farris in his motion to dismiss to which motion I now accede."

At the recent Liberal convention at Endako, Alex M. Manson K.C. was unanimously nominated as the party's candidate for Omineca in the forthcoming provincial election. E. B. Smith, president of the Omineca Central Liberal Association, presided and Mr. Manson's name was placed in nomination by John S. Ross of Savory. Mr. Manson was accorded a stirring ovation and made an impressive address in accepting the nomination. Officers of the association were elected as follows: president, A. M. Ruddy, Burns Lake; first vice-president, John S. Ross, Savory; second vice-president, A. S. Mapleton, Telkwa; third vice-president, L. R. Dickinson, Fort St. James; secretary-treasurer, M. G Hartman, Fraser Lake. Mr. Manson is now engaged in a speaking tour of the east end of the riding and later will visit the west end.

Miss Patricia Lang, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Lang of Anyox, has been the recent guest here of Miss Ruth Trousdell.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hunter and daughter of Colleymount were recent visitors in Burns Lake.

Hobart Parrott of Colleymount charges that the Conservatives are using the C. C. F. to split the Liberal vote in the provincial election.

Local public works department officials are planning certain new works, particularly of a maintenance nature, in this district.

VANDERHOOF

Robert G. C. Rodgers of Vanderhoof has been named agent for Arthur Edward Windle, C. C. F. candidate for Omineca in the provincial election. J. H. McMillan of Vanderhoof is agent for S. W. Cocker, Independent candidate, and E. B. Smith, also of Vanderhoof, for A. M. Manson K.C., Liberal candidate.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Pick of the Mapes district have returned home after a six weeks' trip to Vancouver where Mrs. Pick recently underwent a serious operation from which she is now recovering nicely.

TERRACE

At the last monthly meeting of the commissioners of Terrace Village Corporation business was of a routine character. Some finishing touches were ordered in the case of the new fire hall.

On Thanksgiving Day there were no public celebrations here but, at the home of Mrs. J. B. Agar, a shower was given by the friends of Miss Vivian Dix who was married in Prince Rupert last week to Charles Cauthers of Anyox.

The weather has cleared up after a week of warm rains. Now the conditions are ideal for the potato vest. There is a fairly good Prices look better than last and potato diggers are very these days.
