ST. PATRICK'S CONCERT USK

Interesting Entertainment Followed By Dance in Honor of Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien

The concert presented by the Usketeers on Friday night in Lee's Hall, Usk, was greatly enjoyed by the local citizens and many visitors from Vanarsdol, Pacific and Terrace.

Prior to the commencement of the program several minutes were humorously passed by the witty remarks of an inventor, in the person of John Tennant, who exhibited and demonstrated his most recent model of a radio. This radio later served as chairman for the concert.

The program consisted of several choruses, Irish and otherwise, by the Usketeers themselves; a dialogue in song, "The Lilac Tree," by Donald and Barbara Glover which merited much applause and commendation; a personification of Maurice Chevalier by John Post; "The Three Maids of Lee," by Dorothy Stewart, Fanny Post and Pauline Lorrie; two dialogues, "Cohen to Casey," by Edwin Williams and E. Drake, and "Between Trains," by Mr. and Mrs. Tennant; a play, "Pat's Matrimonial Venture," by Miss K. Durham, Mrs. Drake and Jim O'Brien; a "Mute Elopement," by the Junior Usketeers, and lastly, "A Shadow Play" which was dedicated to "Felix, the Cat." The program was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

The results and returns from the concert were most encouraging and gratifying to the Usketeers.

Following the St. Patrick's concert a dance was held in honor of the newlyweds of the day, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. O'Brien, (nee Miss Mary Smith of Terrace). It, too was largely attended and a jolly affair, and amidst the congratulations and felicitations proffered the happy couple were regretful farewells to them as they were shortly to leave for Anyox where they intend to make their home.

WIPE OUT OLD PARTY

Conservative Newspaper Fears Total Destruction of Tories as Result Of Vancouver Clique

VICTORIA, March 24.—The Victoria Colonist, organ of the Conservative party here, sees in the union movements an effort to wipe out Conservatism in British Columbia. It says in part:

"The political situation in British Columbia grows more complicated and mystifying as the time approaches for a provincial election. One of the portents of particular significance is the effort being made by a Vancouver clique to wipe the provincial Conservative party out of existence. That clique has attempted for almost a year past to dictate to Premier Tolmie what course he should pursue. There is no doubt whatever about the genuineness of Dr. Tolmie's plea for union government. In the face of refusal, steadily maintained by the Liberal opposition, he has pursued his plea. He has the support of the government caucus of Conservative members. The point where public opinion remains in a state of perplexity is with whom the followers of the government hope to unite.

"One fact standing out clearly is that, under the present alignment of parties, any prospect of union government is unavailing. With three main parties in the field the possibility exists that none of them could secure a majority of the elected representatives in a provincial election. An outcome of this character would be a coalition and not a union government."

Shows Senate Investigation

Picture "Billion Dollar Scandal" at Capitol Tonight Has Scene in U. S. Chamber

One of the most important scenes in "The Billion Dollar Scandal," showing tonight at the Capitol Theatre, takes place in a senatorial investigation chamber in Washington, D.C., and the detail connected with the filming of such action was carefully worked out to assure the utmost accuracy by Director Harry Joe Brown.

This is not a common courtroom scene, for the proceedings are conducted informally despite the fact that the committee, composed of 12 of the country's lawmakers, has powers higher than those of a regularly constituted court of law. These men take the place of both judge and jury and dominate the centre of the scene as they are seated around a huge table.

To the left are chairs for the witnesses, spectators and legal talent and to the right are tables for the press. In lieu of a witness stand there is one chair, where each witness sits during the time he is being questioned by the investigation, in lieu of a prosecuting attorney.

The Senatorial investigation bring "The Billion Dollar Scandal" to a dramatic climax.
