WILL SHOW IMPROVEMENT

The increased price of fish will benefit everyone in and around Prince Rupert. The halibut fishermen are doing considerably better than last season as a result of better average prices and of increased catches. Salmon also is higher in price for both springs and sockeye and, at the close of the season, all gillnetters and trollers should have balances on the right side. This is the result of improved conditions in the Eastern States, where the prices of commodities are advancing. In the west also there is a very considerable improvement and it affects the sales on the coast.

Everyone will be glad to know that fishermen are no longer having to operate at a loss and will hope that they soon get a price for their product that will make them independent. If they are prosperous they spend their money and everybody gets a little. Fishermen pay their bills and help to re-establish that spirit of confidence which is necessary in order to bring back a better condition of affairs.

Through the fish business, Prince Rupert is linked up directly with the centres of the United States and the condition of business there is reflected in the prices here. Should the world economic conference be successful, greater increases of price may be looked for, not only for fish but for metals and lumber.

FORTY YEARS AGO

The Financial Post of Toronto publishes an extract from Coin's Financial Series published in June, 1894 as follows:

"Hard times are with us; the country is distracted; very few things are marketable at a price above the cost of production; tens of thousands are out of employment; the jails, penitentiaries, workhouses and insane asylums are full; the gold reserve at Washington is sinking; the government is running at a loss with a deficit in every department; a huge debts hangs like an appalling cloud over the country; taxes have assumed the importance of a mortgage, and 50 percent of the public revenues are likely to go delinquent; hungered and half-starved men are banding into armies and marching towards Washington; the cry of distress is heard on every hand; business is paralyzed; commerce is at a standstill; riots and strikes prevail throughout the land; schemes to remedy our ills when put into execution are smashed like boxcars in a railroad wreck, and Wall Street looks in vain for an excuse to account for the failure of prosperity to return since the repeal of the silver purchase act."

The Letter Box

CONDITIONS REASONABLE

Editor, Daily News:—

The interview of a veteran cannery operator which appeared in yesterday's issue of your paper had reference to a United Front Fishermens' meeting held at Port Essington on Saturday and characterized same as likely to stir up trouble which was very misleading. The object of this meeting was to discuss prices obtaining for fish, gear, commodities and other grievances that crop up during a fishing season. The Fishermens' Industrial Union do not want a strike, never have wanted a strike and the only reason that will make them strike is conditions getting so bad they cannot operate successfully. Owing to agreements on the side between the cannery operators and the native and Oriental fishermen, the so-called "white man" has to stand on his rights by himself, especially if he be Canadian-born.

The fact that several of the men who had taken an active part in the activities of the Fishermen's Industrial Union would not recognize the delegates who went to the meeting was evidence that there was no occasion to call a meeting. If the prevailing conditions are good enough to satisfy an Oriental or native brotherhood man and the average fisherman does not protest at his plane of living being put on the same par, there is no reason for the Fishermens' Industrial Union to enter protest on his behalf.

However, conditions offered by the cannery operators at present are very reasonable but the future will tell if the fishermen are wise in leaving things to chance.

WM. ROSS,
for Fishermen's Industrial Union.

(Note—Although obtained from a reliable source, the reference made to the "United Front" meeting at Port Essington was not part of the interview with the veteran cannery operator as was clearly stated in the article referred to. Mr. Ross is either mistaken or is endeavoring to confuse the matter.—Ed.)

UPSETS IN SOFTBALL

C. N. R. A. and Grotto Defeated By Navy and Kaiens

The Canadian National Recreation Association and the Grotto softball teams both received upsets on Sunday afternoon when they were defeated by the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve and the Kaiens respectively in the City League.

In the first game, the C. N. R. A. and the Navy both started even by scoring one run each in the first inning and then everything was airtight until the first of the sixth when the C. N. R. A. managed to get a second counter. The Navy overcame that by scoring three men in the seventh and the C. N. R. A. again evened up in the eighth with two runs. This left everything even at the first of the ninth and, after shutting the Railroaders out for the first half of the inning, the seagoing boys managed to score the winning run when they came to bat, the final score being 5-4.

The second game was rather one-sided, the Grotto losing to the Kaiens by a score of 13-4. The Grotto came to bat first and immediately scored two runs but, when the Kaiens came up, they brought in five. Then they repeated in the second inning with four and again in the fourth with another four. The Grotto got another counter in the sixth and their fourth run in the eighth.

The standing to date:

	W.	L.	Pct
C. N. R. A.	6	2	.750
Elks	4	3	.571
Grotto	4	4	.500
Kaiens	3	4	.429
R. C. N. V. R.	3	4	.429
Empress	2	5	.286

SURVEY ON TRAIL OR ROAD ROUTE UP MOUNT OLDFIELD COMPLETED BY GOVERNMENT

with a grade averaging from seven to twelve percent to one chalet site at an elevation of 930 feet, one-quarter of a mile this side of the present ski camp. This chalet site is on the edge of the skiing ground which lies actually upon the city watershed of Oldfield Creek. From this chalet site there is a commanding view of the city, the coast and ocean for many miles around and on a clear day, Rose Spit on the Queen Charlotte Islands can be clearly seen.

Location has also been made of an alternate route on the upper end to an optional chalet site at an elevation of 975 feet. This route involves a grade of 17½ percent for some 400 feet which might be considered excessive for motor travel.

The route crosses city property for from one-quarter to one-half a mile at this end. Near the city dam about half way up the mountain are six switchbacks which will eliminate crossings of Oldfield Creek as well as modifying the grade. The ground traversed is largely made up of shale rock covered by loose soil. While the route is quite heavily timbered with hemlock and balsam predominating, the trail or road construction will be comparatively easy and involves very little rock work. On the entire route there will be only three small bridges, one of these crossing the city pipe line.

The favored chalet site is on an exact tangent from Dunsmuir Street. The commanding view, it is believed, will be a great attraction from a scenic and tourist standpoint. Incidentally, the Mount Oldfield ski field is declared by those who know the sport to be unrivalled anywhere in the country and, once it is opened up by a trail or road such as proposed and equipped with suitable accommodation, would be a highly popular venue for this popular winter sport with possibilities in the way of attracting important meets to Prince Rupert.

Mike Tugen was fined $5, with option of five days' imprisonment, by Magistrate McClymont in city police court this morning on a charge of creating a disturbance by swearing. The fine was paid.

Party of Harvard Students Coming Tonight Enroute to Mount Fairweather

Alpinists will make an early appearance in these parts this year with the arrival here on tonight's train from the east of six Harvard students enroute to Alaska where they will attempt to scale Mount Fairweather, giant Alaskan peak. Leading the party is Bradford Washburn jr., former president of the Harvard Mountaineering Club. They will board the Canadian National steamer Prince George here for Juneau, Alaska. From there they plan on taking off by seaplane from the base of famous Taku Glacier and flying to the foot of Mount Fairweather. They are bringing a number of instruments to carry on scientific research.

Coming tonight with Mr. Washburn are Messrs. Child, Houston Carter, Daw and Platts.

Three additional members of the party, Messrs. Everett, Bates and Goldthwait will be here next week.

Grizzly Bear at Lakelse Pulls 'Possum Stunt

TERRACE, June 20:—A bear story came in from Lakelse recently. Mr. Poe shot a grizzly and Matt Allard, that experienced old hunter from Kalum Lake, was guide on the trip. The bear dropped like dead but Matt advised another shot to make sure. Mr. Poe thought better and started toward the grizzly which got up and vanished in the brush.
