THREE DIE SUDDENLY

Deaths From Heart Attacks Reported to Police Headquarters From Various Points

Three sudden deaths from heart attacks in various parts of the district have been reported to divisional headquarters of the provincial police here.

At Prince George Walter Wyatt, a colored man, collapsed and fell dead while carrying wood upstairs from a basement. Little was known as to the man's personal history or affairs.

Alexander Halstead was found dead in the Granby Co.'s bunkhouse at Anyox. He was a pensioner of the American Army and had no relatives in this country, his next of kin being a brother in West Virginia.

Carl Solberg, who lived in a cabin at Uncha Valley in the Southbank district, had not been seen for some days so neighbors went to look him up and found that he was dead. He was a Norwegian, 69 years of age and had lived in the Lakes District for fifteen years, having come from the United States. He is survived by a widow in Michigan and a brother, Marshal Solberg, in Chicago.

WAS NOTED CLERGYMAN

Rev. Dr. William Stephen Rainsford Of New York Passes Away At Age of 83

NEW YORK, Dec. 27:—Rev. William Stephen Rainsford, former well known Western Canada pastor, for four years assistant rector of St. James Cathedral in Toronto and in his younger days on the prairies a noted rifle shot and buffalo hunter, died here at the age of 83 years. While studying at Cambridge University in England, he organized a colonization scheme which later resulted in the settling of 8000 people from the slums of London on the Canadian prairies. He had been rector of St. George's Church here from 1882 until 1906 and for the last several years had resided here in retirement.

Born in Dublin, Ire., October 30, 1850, Dr. Rainsford studied theology at St. John's College, Cambridge, receiving his doctorship of divinity from Trinity College. He was curate of St. Giles' Church, Norwich, Eng., from 1872 to 1876, coming to Canada in 1878 as assistant rector of St. James' Cathedral in Toronto which post he held until he moved to New York in 1882.

Dr. Rainsford was author of a number of works on theological subjects. In 1878 he married Emily Alma Green of Prince's Garden, London, Eng. In politics he was a Progressive. He actually made his home for years at Ridgefield, Conn.

Another Language Presents Story Of Family Relations

Helen Hayes and Robert Montgomery are the stars in "Another Language," at the Capitol Theatre here this mid-week.

It is a drama of family life which shows Miss Hayes and Montgomery as a pair of newlyweds who find the honeymoon is over when the husband's ineffectual relatives take charge of their domestic affairs.

The picture has a dramatic climax when the young nephew falls in love with his new aunt. Her husband's neglect brings about this situation which eventually embroils the entire family.

It is a swiftly paced story that has tense interest from start to finish.

Miss Hayes is magnificent in her role and Montgomery's performance leaves little to be desired.

MAY BAN AIR NEWS

Tentative Agreement Reached Between Newspaper and Radio Organizations

NEW YORK, Dec. 27:—Representatives of the Associated Press and American Newspaper Publishers' Association and of the National and Columbia Broadcasting Co.'s in session here, came to an agreement, it is reported, which would virtually eliminate dissemination of news in radio broadcasts in the United States as well as the giving of free publicity by newspapers to radio broadcasting programs. Under the tentative agreement, it is understood, no news could be broadcast over the air until at least six hours after it had appeared in the newspapers and then only 30 words of any news story could be used.

James Durran, who is in the service of the Granby Co. at Anyox, was in the city at the end of last week enroute from the smelter town to Terrace to spend Christmas at his home.
