THE COSY CORNER

DEVOTED PRINCIPALLY TO THE INTERESTS OF WOMEN

This is a little section of the paper, which from day to day will be devoted to subjects of special interest to women. Any and all of the ladies of Prince Rupert are invited to contribute to its columns, and to take part in its discussions. Suggestions and criticisms are invited by the editor. The hope is expressed that "The Cosy Corner" will fill a social need.

STRIPED AND PLAIN SILK

Plain and striped taffeta are effectively combined in a gown built on lines suggested above. The model employs the fashionable little bolero uniquely put together with both materials. The arrangement of stripes in jacket is especially pretty. Front and side panels of plain silk are used on skirt, the latter reaching only to knee depth and finished with silk fringe.

The jaunty little black straw turban is trimmed with pointed loops of striped ribbon.

Yeast-raised Muffins

One pint milk, 1 large tablespoon butter melted, 1 cake yeast, 1-2 teaspoon salt, flour to make a batter. Mix all together at supper time. Cover and leave in a warm place. In the morning add the beaten white of one egg and a pinch of soda the size of a pea, or a little more. Fry in greased muffin-rings on a hot greased griddle.

Browned Potatoes

Cut cold boiled potatoes into thick slices and brown on both sides in a larded frying pan. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, and serve very hot.

Glace Icing for Cake

One cup powdered sugar; add 1 tablespoonful lemon juice and 1 of boiling water, or a little more. It should be thin enough to spread itself slowly over the cake.

THE NICEST SANDWICHES

Something New and Dainty for Picnics and Suppers

The making of sandwiches is, or should be, a dainty bit of work. The bread must be well-baked and old enough to cut evenly, for which purpose the knife used should be one with a thin, sharp blade. It is very nice to have the butter creamed—that is, worked with a spoon until it is of a creamy consistency—and then flavored, if the sandwiches are for serving with tea. At all events the butter should be softened enough to spread easily. It is advisable to spread before cutting the slices, as they are more liable to crumble or break if it is done afterward. The slices must be thin, and the crust should all be trimmed off neatly. Care should be taken to spread the filling evenly; it is disappointing to have a sandwich that is bare in spots. For serving at table or with tea, the double slices are cut into small triangles or oblongs, but for picnic lunches cutting in half will leave them not too big. For these outdoor lunches the sandwiches should be wrapped separately in paraffin paper and packed in boxes. If made some time before they are required, sandwiches can be kept fresh and moist by covering them with a damp napkin and keeping them in a cool place.

Nut meats, which contain a good deal of nourishment, enter into the composition of a variety of sandwich fillings. English walnuts are used principally, chopped very fine. One very likeable combination is jelly or marmalade and nuts. Spread the bread, buttered or otherwise as preferred, first with preserve and sprinkle over it the chopped nuts. Nuts are also mixed with chopped apple or celery, moistened with cream or mayonnaise. Raisins, stoned and cooked in a very little water until they are tender, are mixed when cold with an equal quantity of finely chopped peanuts, and used for a sandwich filling, moistened with lemon juice.

Cheese is another nourishing constituent. Mix equal parts of grated cheese and English walnuts ground or pounded fine. Season with salt and mositen with rich thick sweet cream. Spread between thin slices of buttered bread. Peanut butter may be used instead of nuts. Rub some cottage cheese to a paste with a little cream, and season with salt and a dash of nutmeg. Moisten half as much peanut butter with lemon juice, mix the two together, and spread on thin slices of brown bread.

While taking his morning run in preparation for his recent bout with Young Togo, Harry Forbes got near the Oklahoma State penitentiary, where guards, looking for escaped convicts, twice chased and detained him.

The eleven of the Germantown Cricket club of Philadelphia will sail shortly for Europe and will engage in thirteen matches in England and Ireland, playing some of the crack amateurs of King George's realm. The first game is scheduled for July 28 with the Royal Artillery at Woolwich, and the series will wind up at Cork on August 25.

Miss Bertha Rapp is a wrestler of no mean ability. In a catch-as-catch-can bout on board the S.S. Adriatic, which recently arrived in New York, she threw one man and held out for twenty minutes against another, the latter weighing 185 pounds. Miss Rapp, who weighs only 150 pounds, is a Swedish girl who teaches calisthenics in New York.

A course that will make possible the breaking of all automobile records is promised by the Savannah Automobile club, under whose auspices the Grand Prix and Vanderbilt cup races will be held next November. Work has already commenced on the track. It is also planned to hold a number of long distance runs, with Savannah as the terminus, from points as far distant as Boston and New York, as well as from a number of cities in Florida, Georgia and the Caorlinas, just before the races. An attempt to interest New York motorists in such a project is now being made.

Except for the signing of the articles, everything has been arranged for a match between Jack Johnson and Bombardier Wells for the biggest purse ever offered in Great Britain. Johnson is to receive $30,000, win, draw or lose. The sum of $15,000 is to be deposited July 15 and the other $15,000 is to be handed to Johnson an hour before the contest, which is to take place in London probably in September.

An attempt to cross the Atlantic in a fifty foot motor boat will be made by Captain John Weller, whose craft, the Romania, has just left New York on the perilous voyage. No power boat has yet succeeded in accomplishing the feat, but Captain Weller is confident of success.

In the 1,000 yard shoot of the Schumacher, Canadian riflemen fared well in money prizes, in which Corp. Roberts of Toronto, shot highest for the Canadians, winning 32s.; Lieut. W. O. Morris, Winnipeg, won 32s.; Staff Sergt. Richardson, Victoria, and Major McHarg, 30s.; Lieut. F. H. Morris, Capt. Milne, Vancouver; Staff Sergt. Hall, Major McLaren and Sergt.
