ATHLETICS SPOIL WOMEN'S FIGURES

A Declaration of Artists Who Have Excited Hot Discussion in England

The deterioration in the beauty of woman's figure, consequent upon the present craze for athletics, is exciting a hot controversy in England, while medical men are condemning in strong terms the modern girl's over-indulgence in hockey.

The discussion has arisen out of the declaration of Louis Potter, the well known American sculptor, that the changes in the female form have been so great that woman does not now in any way resemble the Greek type. Consequently English artists are finding it more and more difficult to find suitable models. "The new figure," says a well-known associate of the Royal Academy, "is full of knotty bunches of muscles instead of soft, fleshy curves, and though this muscular development is beautiful in man it is not so in woman. To the artist the over-developed woman is an atrocity in the aesthetic sense."

The result is that artists and sculptors now have to rely more on her creative ability than ever before. As Frank Brangwyn points out, it is still possible to get models who are perfectly developed, but the supply is running short.

A far more serious objection to the growing athleticism of woman comes from physicians and women preachers of girls' colleges.

"Hockey is neither healthy nor graceful," said the head of a London girls' school. "A growing girl who plays the game for an hour, four or five days a week, is almost bound to show curvature of the spine after a year or so."

One of the best medical experts also declares that "the tendency at hockey is to put strain on the muscles that ought not to be trained in young girls and women, but such games as cricket, lacrosse, and tennis are favorable to most athletic when played in moderation."

The outcry in England is not against physical exercise for women, but against the undue indulgence in it. Keep observers of present-day tendencies interpret woman's too hearty indulgence in strenuous sports as tending to produce a sexless girl, flat footed, and ungraceful. This, say the critics, is due to the craving of the modern girl for complete equality with men, and accounts for the growing indifference to household duties noticeable in certain sections of modern Englishwomen.

HAZELTON WILL HAVE BIG WINTER CARNIVAL

Hazelton, B. C., Nov. 14—A project is on foot for the holding of a carnival of winter sports in Hazelton soon after New Years. It is proposed to have a distance race for dog teams, in emulation of the famous Alaskan Derby, as well as races at shorter distances, snow shoe races, Ski jumping, hockey match and other features of interest. The big races for dog teams will naturally attract the most attention, as there are in Hazelton quite a number of men who take pride in the speed and endurance of their toboggan teams. Among those who are expected to enter teams are W. J. Lynch, W. W. Wrathall, Bill Sweeney and Harris Brothers. The promoters of the carnival will have their preliminary plans arranged in the course of a week or so and expect to make the event a big drawing card.

ITEMS OF NEWS FROM HAZELTON

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Aldous are at present sojourning in Venice, California.

Twelve head of fine 3-year-old steers have been brought in from the Sealey ranch for the local market.

Mark and Pat Carr came in from the Carr ranch on Wednesday. The former is on his way to the east for a visit.

Ed. McBeth, the freighting contractor, who was in town yesterday, reports business good on the Bulkley Valley road.

J. S. Kennedy, of Telkwa, returned on Wednesday from a visit to Spokane and the coast cities, and took Thursday's stage for his home town.

J. M. MacGormick, manager of the big Hazelton stores of R. Cunningham & Son, Ltd., returned on Wednesday's train from a buying trip to Vancouver.

R. L. Gale, the Telkwa real estate man, has negotiated the transfer of many parcels of Bulkley Valley land, says there is a growing demand for agricultural land along the G.T.P.

Rev. John Field has returned from Vancouver, where he was in conference with representatives of the Church Missionary Society. The popular clergyman says he enjoyed his visit to the coast.

R. E. Loring, Indian agent for this district, has returned from a six week's vacation trip to the cities of the coast and to Alaska. Mr. Loring is much improved in health as a result of a visit to the hot springs. Speaking of an alleged interview attributed to him which was published in an irresponsible Vancouver paper and reprinted in a local sheet, Mr. Loring expressed great indignation. The sentiments expressed, he says, were not his, nor did he, from the time he left Hazelton until his return, give an interview with a newspaperman.

Bayley's Conditions

Victoria, Nov. 14—"I am willing to post two thousand dollars immediately to clinch the bout between Hyland and Bayley, but before settling matters I would like to hear what the Calgary promoters can offer in the matter of a purse or guarantee," said Morris Condon when shown a telegram from Calgary to the effect that Hyland had posted $2,000 with the News-Telegram, to bind a match. Condon stated that he would require three round-trip tickets to Calgary and return, and a two thousand dollar guarantee, or conditions similar to the last bout which Tommy Burns staged between the pair.

MARRY OR MOVE

Ultimatum that Bachelors Must Marry or Move From Municipal Premises Obeyed by Only Ten

Dublin, Nov. 15—There is somewhat of a hullabaloo in the village of Dunscaughlin, County Meath, because only ten of the 69 bachelors have married as they were warned three months ago either to wed or move out of cottages owned by the rural council. Of the ten, five had been apparently woman haters before the order was issued.

The cottages occupied by the bachelors are owned by the rural council, the members of which wish not only to increase the population of the town, but to increase its prosperity, and they reasoned that if the bachelors would marry they would become more thrifty, work more regularly and be of greater general service to the community and its social and educational institutions.

In justice to many of these obstinate bachelors, it must be admitted that they are a trifle old to catch the fancy of the average lassie in County Meath, where the lassies are noted for their grace and beauty.

Thomas A. Edison announces his New Cylinder Phonograph Record

The Blue Amberol

The Blue Amberol is a musical and mechanical triumph. Its volume is greater, and its tone is decidedly finer than any other phonograph record you can buy. And it is practically unbreakable and unwearing. Careless handling will not injure it, and no amount of playing will cause it to reproduce less perfectly than when new.

Ask your Edison dealer to play a Blue Amberol Record for you on an Edison Phonograph today, or write us for particulars.
