TAKEN SERIOUSLY

When the Townsend plan of providing every person in the United States over 60 years of age a regular pension of $200 a month which he must spend during the month was first proposed everybody smiled and thought it just a passing fad. The plan was taken up by lawyers and other professional men, by people of all sorts and conditions and huge petitions were sent to Congress advocating the scheme. Then notice was taken of it.

While we are not prepared to endorse a scheme of that kind, which is one of the most radical yet propounded anywhere, yet, even in Prince Rupert there are a number of people, even businessmen, who are inclined to favor something of the sort, possibly in a smaller way. In the States it is proposed to finance the payments through a general sales tax sufficiently high to cover it. In Canada we already have a high sales tax, so that part of the plan is out of the question.

LEARNED BRIDGE HERE

A recent newspaper article tells of Ely Culbertson, the bridge expert, who got at least some of his card experience when acting as timekeeper to a railway gang not far from Prince Rupert during the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. It was about that time he was arrested by the Mounted Police as a dangerous radical. Many other experiences prepared him for the work of teaching the world to play bridge. It is curious what tricks fortune plays with us in this world. Capitalism may be iniquitous as some of our friends tell us but it is often good sport.

The famous New Metlakatla (Alaska) basketball team is to visit Prince Rupert tonight and will play a game against a specially strengthened Moose Senior League team. The New Metlakatla team is composed of collegiate players and its presence will give the Prince Rupert fans an idea of what chance the home team may have against southern players. The New Metlakatla team has been visiting Port Simpson and special arrangements were made by the executive of the Prince Rupert Basketball Association to have it come here. A further series of games may be aranged later. High School and Canadian Legion will meet in the curtain raiser.

Canadian National Recreation Association lost to the Grotto in the Senior basketball tilt Thursday night by a score of 39-43. It was the best game of the evening although both teams were without their respective stars, Lambie and Ratchford. Stalker staged a comeback by snaring 16 points which was the reason why the Train Crew lost. The game was fast right from the opening gun and the teams were tied 11-11 after six minutes of playing. When the hooter hooted for the lemon and orange interval the Cigar hoopsters were on the short end of a 19-15 count. After the breather, Stalker and his eagers tied it up 19-all and, with fifteen minutes to go, they were all square at 21 apiece. Then the Grotto took the lead. The C. N. R. A. tied it up with four minutes to go, only to lose out.

The Warriors lost to the High School in the Intermediate fixture 37-23. The first half was close with the Warriors on the short end of a 13-11 score. When the play resumed the Battlers dropped out of the picture and were 14 points behind at the finish.

The Grottettes, minus their star centre, Smith, lost to Annette's 3-15 in the Ladies' League. Stone and Ratchford turned in a perfect performance for the Mannequins while Croxford and Dickens did the scoring for the Grottettes.

Scyithians defeated the Junior High School team 31-14 in a free-scoring game. The Scythians had things their own way in the first half with a shutout while they got 16 points themselves.

Just give them Buckley's mixed with equal parts honey and you'll be astonished and delighted to see how quickly those terrifying coughing spells are relieved, and the vomiting reduced or stopped entirely. Same applies to croup. Buckley's relieves the congestion and constriction of the larynx almost instantly, and soon the little sufferer is sleeping soundly. Buckley's is entirely different—it is so superior to anything you have ever tried for coughs, colds, [illegible] and bronchitis. Play safe. Refuse substitutes. Buckley's is sold everywhere. M-6
