WATERFRONT WHIFFS

Waterfront Business Back to Normal—Vancouver Yacht Due Here Tomorrow Enroute North—Ocean Falls Flying Boat Due Monday

Business on the local waterfront has been getting noticeably back to normal following the recent settlement of the halibut fishermen's strike. The past week has been a busy one not only for waterfront but some of the uptown stores in outfitting of the entire local fleet preparatory to its departure for the banks in the usual way with the fishermen on board. Everywhere satisfaction is being expressed at the ending of the tie-up and, even though fish prices may not be quite as high just now as they might be, hope is expressed that the ultimate results from the tie-up may not be so adversely extensive. Many local boats put out during the week on their first trips of the season.

Halibut landings at the port of Prince Rupert for the season up to yesterday had reached a total of 1,339,300 pounds of which 693,100 pounds has been from Canadian vessels and 646,200 pounds from American. For the week landing totalled but 219,000 pounds including 101,200 pounds from Canadian boats and 118,000 pounds from American. There were a number of short catches this week owing to the westerly winds and rough weather which has been prevailing outside of late. Prices continued at a rather low level during the week running from 5c to 5.4c for Canadian fish and from 5c to 6.7c for American.

The fifty-foot Vancouver power yacht Camilia, with its owner George Ankle, and party on board is due in port tomorrow from the south enroute to Alaska and will be joined here by Frank Fitch, local immigration officer, who will make the trip north as a holiday. Taku River and other points will be visited and it is expected the Camilia will spend about three weeks north of here.

Passengers going north aboard the steamer Princess Norah yesterday afternoon included W. D. Gordon, superintendent of the river division of the Yukon & White Pass Route, and many members of the crews of the Yukon River boats bound for Whitehorse for the season. River steamer masters on board included Captains Ewen Morrison, Murdo McLean, Donald McKay, W. J. Bromley, Charles M. Coghlan, John Macdonald and Frank A. Waller. There were in all 130 passengers aboard the Princess Norah on arrival here. Two disembarked at this port while 20 went north aboard her from here.

The steamer Bellingham has sailed from Ocean Falls after loading a cargo of paper there.

Ocean Falls Plane Coming

Pioneer Airways has inaugurated a regular commercial air service from Vancouver to Ocean Falls and Powell River with the company's six-place Boeing boat piloted by W. R. McCluskey, well known coast flier. Regular flights will be made from Vancouver to Powell River on Tuesdays and Thursdays and to Ocean Falls each Friday, returning to Vancouver on Saturday. Several Ocean Falls people have already made the trip to Vancouver in the plane. The plane is to make a flight to Prince Rupert next Monday with Bert Phillips of Ocean Falls.

The comic representation of the sea serpent, basking shark, or whatever one may like to call it, was, undoubtedly, one of the most talked-of and ingenious features of the big parade held in connection with the celebration of the King's Jubilee on Monday. It certainly caught the popular fancy in view of the local interest in this sort of thing and they say that it has been difficult to keep up with the demand for picture postcards of the artificial creature. George Eckerman, Bill Brooksbank and Albert Frebourg of Edward Lipsett Ltd. were responsible for the entry. The young boys who acted as the "legs" of the serpent and had an arduous task in doing so, incidentally missing the rest of the parade because their heads were inside the monster, were John Davey, Lester Grimble, Ray Hougan, Howard Hougan, Frank McKeown, Charles Love and Alf Gjerstad.

Delayed by heavy cannery traffic on the northbound voyage, Union steamer Cardena, Capt. Ernest Georgeson, did not arrive until 1 o'clock this afternoon from the south, being more than twelve hours late. She sailed a couple of hours later on her return to Vancouver and waypoints. The vessel had been in the Skeena River since last evening discharging freight at the canneries. Next week the company is putting the steamer Venture on the run from Vancouver to Rivers Inlet. This will relieve the Cardena of a number of calls and, from now on, she should arrive here on Friday afternoons or evenings as scheduled.

Armour Salvage Co.'s power tug Daly, which has been on a trip to Vancouver with a scowload of machinery and equipment salvaged from the B. C. Packers cold storage plant at Claxton, which was destroyed by fire last summer, is due back from the south within a couple of days. The Pachena made a short trip to Digby Island with a scowload of fifty tons of coal for the marine and wireless stations yesterday.

The only halibut boat in with a catch today is the Tramp, having 16,000 pounds. It is holding over until Monday.

Miss Hampton Is Winner Of Congoleum Rug

Miss Helen Hampton was the lucky winner of the Gold Seal Congoleum rug in the guessing contest conducted by MacKenzie Furniture. There were a large number of entries and H. F. Pullen and A. H. Silversides were the judges. The number in the sealed envelope was 3084 and Miss Hampton chose 3102. The second nearest was 3035, guessed by J. A. Morrison.

Private settlement was reached in a police court case in which J. Pierce was charged by his wife with non-support.
