TRAINING FOR NAVY

As part of the national defense scheme Canada now has a new sailing vessel, the Venture, built in Canada by Canadian workmen on which lads joining the Canadian navy are given a three months' course in seamanship.

I seems that, when the Canadian Navy was started over twenty years ago and a beginning was made on the training of young men for the service, the scheme was wrecked for political purposes. If it had kept going Canada would not have been in the helpless condition in which she finds herself today.

Possibly the excuse for the wrecking of the first scheme was that it was a Laurier scheme and must be killed at any cost. This time there is no suggestion that this is a Mackenzie King scheme. It is a movement inaugurated as a result of the swing of public opinion in the direction of the need of defense and the Prime Minister takes no credit for it. It will be a braave politician who tries to wreck the present defense movement.

Railway Official Gives Some Interesting Facts Regarding Eastern Train

MONTREAL, Dec. 22:— During the 37 years the International Limited has been operating between Montreal and Chicago, it has traversed more than 1,000 times the distance around the earth at the equator and has carried approximately 3,000,000 passengers. These were the figures given to the members of the Canadian Historical Association today by H. C. Rochester, general car accountant of the Canadian National Railways. Since the five big 5700-class locomotives were put into service seven years ago, he added, they have travelled 3,500,000 miles or 140 times around the world. Previously it took three locomotives to make the run between Montreal and Toronto, changes being made at Brockville and Belleville. The 5700 engines go the whole way.

"It used to be the practice" Mr. Rochester said, speaking of the International Limited's head end, "to run an engine for about 50,000 miles and then give it a general overhauling. As a result of improved methods, the mileage between shoppings was extended to 60,000 and then 70,000 miles—but now these 5700 class engines are running an average of about 250,000 between general overhauls."

The International Limited, the speaker recalled, was inaugurated on June 24,1900, as a fast Grand Trunk flyer. It travelled between Montreal and Toronto in seven hours, 25 minutes, and reached Chicago in 23 hours. In 1930 it established a six hour run to Toronto, 18 hours 15 minutes to Chicago. Formerly carrying an average of nine cars, now it frequently consists of 12, 13 and 14 and, in holiday times, runs in two and three sections. Two diners are carried every Friday. At Brockville, cars from Ottawa are added.

Mr. Rochester described the method used for air conditioning the new coaches and other equipment of the train.

"The management and the whole staff of the Canadian National Railways are endeavoring to the best of their ability to operate in such a manner as to provide the greatest possible service to the people of Canada, at the same time keeping expenses to a minimum" Mr. Rochester concluded. "The Canadian National staff is not fearful of comparison with any other organization in its accomplishments. Its record in performance and unit costs can stand the most rigid scrutiny in comparison with all other railroads of this continent."
