Dry Dock Having One of Its Busiest Springs in Years—Landings by Many Of Larger American Vessels Feature Halibut Business

The work consisting to large extent of miscellaneous jobs on various types of fishing vessels, the Prince Rupert dry dock has been enjoying this spring one of the busiest seasons it has had in some years. There is still considerable work in hand and more pending. The result is that there has been fuller employment for a considerably longer period than usual for the regular staff. Other local ship repairing establishmetns report a similar condition while machine shops and such other establishments having to do with the servicing of the fleet are also experiencing a filip in activities. All of this has had the effect of improving conditions generally in Prince Rupert this season.

With a number of the larger American schooners landing catches during the period, United States halibut landings at Prince Rupert during the week ending yesterday totalled 317,500 pounds, bringing the aggregate of American landings at the port for the 1937 season to date up to 2,840,200 pounds in comparison with 2,210,500 pounds at a similar date last year. So far this year Canadian landings have totalled 3,203,550 pounds as against 2,555,500 pounds a year ago, the landings for the past week having amounted to 187,500 pounds which was rather lighter than usual. The grand total of landings at Prince Rupert up to and including yesterday amounted to 6,043,750 pounds in comparison with last year's 4,766,000 pounds at the corresponding date. Prices held steady during the week. The high bid for Canadian fish was 8.2c and 5c which the Svalbard was paid for 5,500 pounds and the low 7c and 5.5c which the Edward Lipsett and Joe Baker were paid for catches of 8,000 and 6,500 pounds respectively. For American fish the high price of the week was 9.1c and 6.5c paid the Seattle for 39,000 pounds and the low 8c and 6.5c which the Remus received for 11,000 pounds.

From all salmon trolling areas in Prince Rupert came reports this week of improved runs of springs and favorable fishing conditions. There is no trouble from wind with some fog, however, causing a little inconvenience. All the boats are now out.

Southbound on her first voyage of the season in the Alaska service, C. P. R. steamer Princess Charlotte, Capt. William Palmer, is due in port at 4 o'clock this afternoon from Skagway and will sail at 5:30 p.m. for Vancouver.

William Kyle of Prince George is here for holiday relief duty on the staff of the Canadian National Telegraphs.

MOTHER APPRECIATIVE

Editor, Daily News:—

Allow me, please, through your paper, to express thanks and appreciation to the teachers of the city schools for the splendid work with the children of the junior grades.

To see the children act yesterday at the Parent-Teachers' tea was wonderful. What more art could be wished than the girls in their lovely pastel shade dresses?

As a mother and a member of the Parent-Teachers' Association may I suggest that we see more of similar entertainment in the coming year. It not only benefits the children to learn to act but it also benefits the association financially when parents take an interest in it.

Thanking you for valuable space.

A MOTHER.

Dr. W. C. McKechnie and Dr. A. S. Simpson, both well known Vancouver medical men, arrived in the city on the Prince Charles Thursday after having made the trip north from Vancouver via the Queen Charlotte Islands and sailed yesterday afternoon on the Prince George for the trip to Anyox and Stewart and thence back to Vancouver this evening.
