Company picketted

VANCOUVER (CP) — A group of 50 jobless men and one woman Wednesday picketted the Vancouver offices of the Westcoast Transmission Company Limited for about one hour. The pickets carried placards demanding 10,000 jobs, which they said, Westcoast president Frank McMahon said would be lost if the Social Credit government was not returned to power in the last provincial election. A spokesman for the group of unemployed said the picket represented 100,000 unemployed on the Lower Mainland. The pickets also paused outside the National Employment Commission office to chant "we want jobs."
