Mrs. Quist Is Laid At Rest

Funeral Of Well Known Local Woman Took Place This

The funeral of the late Mrs. Celma Maria Quist, for thirty years a resident of Prince Rupert and Oona River, took place this afternoon from the chapel of the B. C. Undertakers to Fairview Cemetery. Rev. Canon W. F. Rushbrook officiated and Peter Lien presided at the organ. A. O. Morse sang "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere."

Pallbearers were Bert Hanson, A. O. Morse, Ole Wick, Chris Ivarson, Oscar Larsen and Knut Hallberg.

Mrs. Quist passed away on New Year's night after a lengthy illness. She was fifty-one years of age and was born in Sweden. Besides the widower, Emil Quist, she is survived by two daughters—Mrs. Dagne Insulander of Prince Rupert and Mrs. Thelma Harbottle of Whitehorse—and two sons—Herbert and Victor Norberg, both of Prince Rupert.

Man in the Moon

Jake is unconsolable over the Irish. He says there will never be another battalion like them.

Today I am sad because of the Irish
Today I am sad because they must go,
I wish now they never had come to the city
Their going away causes my sad tears to flow.

The strong man at the fair had just finished squeezing the juice out of a lemon.

Holding it up before the crowd he shouted: "I'll give $5 to anyone who can squeeze another drop out of this lemon."

Up stepped a little man. He gripped the lemon and, to the surprise of the crowd, squeezed several more drops from it.

"It's easy," he murmured. "I'm a tax collector!"

New Hand—"Yes, sir, at my last job I had two hundred people under me."

Employer—"You don't say so."

New Hand—"Yes, I was cutting the grass in the churchyard."

"I suppose your baby is very fond of you?"

"Fond of me! Why the rascal sleeps all day when I'm at work so that he can stay up all night and enjoy my company."

Stranger: "Did you see a pedestrian pass here?"

Local: "No, I've been here all afternoon and not a thing has passed me except one man and he was on foot."

Lutheran Sewing Circle Christmas Tree Celebration

On Monday afternoon and evening of this week the Sewing Circle of St. Paul's Lutheran Church held its annual Christmas celebrations—a Christmas Tree entertainment for the children in the afternoon and a banquet and social in the evening. Attendances were large at both events.

The afternoon program for the children was in progress from 3 to 5 p.m. There was suitable entertainment and candy and ice cream were dispensed. Marching around the Christmas Tree was also engaged in.

The evening program and banquet opened with remarks of welcome by the pastor, Rev. J. H. Myrwang. The program included vocal solos by Mrs. Myrwang; violin solos by Olga Zabudney, accompanied by Mrs. Anderson, and by Dickie Skog, also accompanied by Mrs. Anderson; readings by Mimi ohnson, Mrs. Ole Wick and Astrid Peterson; song by five girls—Ethel Knudsen, Dagne Myrwang, Edith Murvold, Violet Wick and Helen Skogmo; Christmas hymns by Varden Singers; piano solos by Betty Charstal; vocal quartette—Mrs. Ole Wick, Mrs. John Murvold, Peter Lien and Nels Gunderson, and vocal duet by Violet Wick and Helen Skogmo. There was again marching around the Christmas Tree with singing of Christmas hymns and carols.

Mrs. Christensen was in charge of all arrangements, assisted by officers and members of the participating organizations.

LONDON, Jan. 4: (CP)— Legal tradition was broken when Justice Tucker permitted a murder trial jury to disperse and go home for the night as bombing possibilities made it unwise to keep them locked up.
