DAILY EDITION WEDNESDAY, NOV. 5, 1941

Russian Reinforcements . . .

Three quarters of a million men, well trained in winter warfare, should prove a very substantial aid to the Russian forces and may be the turning effort of the whole battle for Moscow. At any rate it is a strong force and doubtless the men are fresh and all ready for battle.

Next Step for Germany . . .

"The dark shadow sweeping eastward across Russia like the coming of night approaches a priceless valley, defended by a formidable mountain wall. Two of this war's greatest treasures are the oil and manganese hidden south of the line of the Caucasus Mountains—oil to run the engines of war, manganese to harden the steel of war. Hitler wants them both badly. To get them he must either storm the high Caucasus or make a flank attack by sea or by air, after he has conquered the Crimea and the Sea of Azov. The British commander in India, General Wavell, said last week, "They (the Germans) would have to put an end to the Russian Black Sea Fleet, either by taking all its bases or by sending in the Italian fleet to fight. The latter would involve seizing the Dardanelles."

"For control of the Black Sea is also indispensable to get German supply ships across from the mouth of the Danube and up the Dnepr and Don Rivers. The big catch in the German conquest of southern and central Russia is a painful supply problem overland. Water transport would largely solve it. Hence, the most useful spot in the world today for British and U. S. bombers and fighters is probably the Caucasus. One whole wing of the Royal Air Force, with a probable combat strength of about 50 fighters, has already been rushed up into the Caucasus and beyond."

Woodsworth Returns . . .

J. S. Woodsworth, veteran C.C.F. leader who was absent from parliament last year because of illness, arrived in the capital Friday night and was expected to appear in commons early this week.

The appearance of Mr. Woodsworth was important since acting C.C.F. leader M. J. Coldwell is now in Britain with a group of Canadian parliamentarians. Mr. Woodsworth may be unable to speak because of his illness, but will take part in the C.C.F. caucus to determine largely the party's policy.

Terrace Man Reaches Britain In Air Service

TERRACE, Nov. 5:— Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nash have received a cablegram from their son, L. A. C. F. H. Nash, R. C. A. F. that he has landed safe in Great Britain. He went over with the latest contingent from Canada. He is a radio technician and took his preliminary training at the University of British Columbia.

LIFE-SAVING DEVICE

LONDON, Nov. 5: (AP)—A new life-saving device tested by Ministry of Shipping experts consists of a smoke-signal visible more than 30 miles away. Orange-colored smoke is released from a small canister over a period of more than an hour. It can be used in daylight.

Spitfire Fund

To All Trappers in B.C., Alberta, Yukon and Northwest Territories:

The B.C. Sportsmen's Spitfire Fund is asking your co-operation in the raising of $23,500 to buy a Spitfire fighter airplane for the Empire's fighting forces. This fund is incorporated as part of "Wings for Britain," which is registered under the Department of National War Services.

In order that trappers may assist in this war effort, being conducted by those interested in our great outdoors, we are asking that you donate pelts of fur-bearing animals. Any pelts you donate will automatically include you in a very interesting competition. Furs will be judged as to their quality and the trapper who sent in the winning fur will receive a a cash prize of $50.00. This will apply to furs received before January 10, 1942. Furs received after that date and up to June 10, 1942, will be placed in a second competition, the winner of which will receive a $65 cash prize. The winning pelts of the two competitions will then be compared and the trapper who sent in the better of the two will be named champion pelter of western Canada.

Pelts will be judged on their excellence in their particular class. For instance a coyote pelt will stand as good a chance of winning as a silver or cross fox. The value of the pelt in dollars does not enter into the matter as far as the competition is concerned. Points will be given entirely for quality in the fur's particular class and for handling of pelts, such as stretching, etc. Only furs donated to the fund will be eligible for the competition. Here is your chance to show your ability as a trapper and pelter and at the same time assist tremendously in putting the B.C. Sportsmen's Spitfire fund over the top. The winner of the pelter championship will receive wide publicity.

Furs donated to the fund by trappers will be sold at public auction by Little Bros. and no expense or commissions will be charged by them in the handling of the furs.

All furs for the fund sent to Little Bros. will be under supervision of the Game Commission, who are kindly assisting the Spitfire Fund in every way possible.

Timber wolves, squirrels and weasels, will not be eligible for either of the prizes but they would be gladly accepted for the benefit of the fund.

Please clearly label any furs you donate or enter for the competition, as follows: B.C. Sportsmen's Spitfire Fund, c-o Little Bros., Vancouver, B.C.

Thanking you in anticipation of your taking part in this worthwhile effort,

R. M. ROBERTSON, Director,
B.C. Sportsmen's Spitfire Fund.

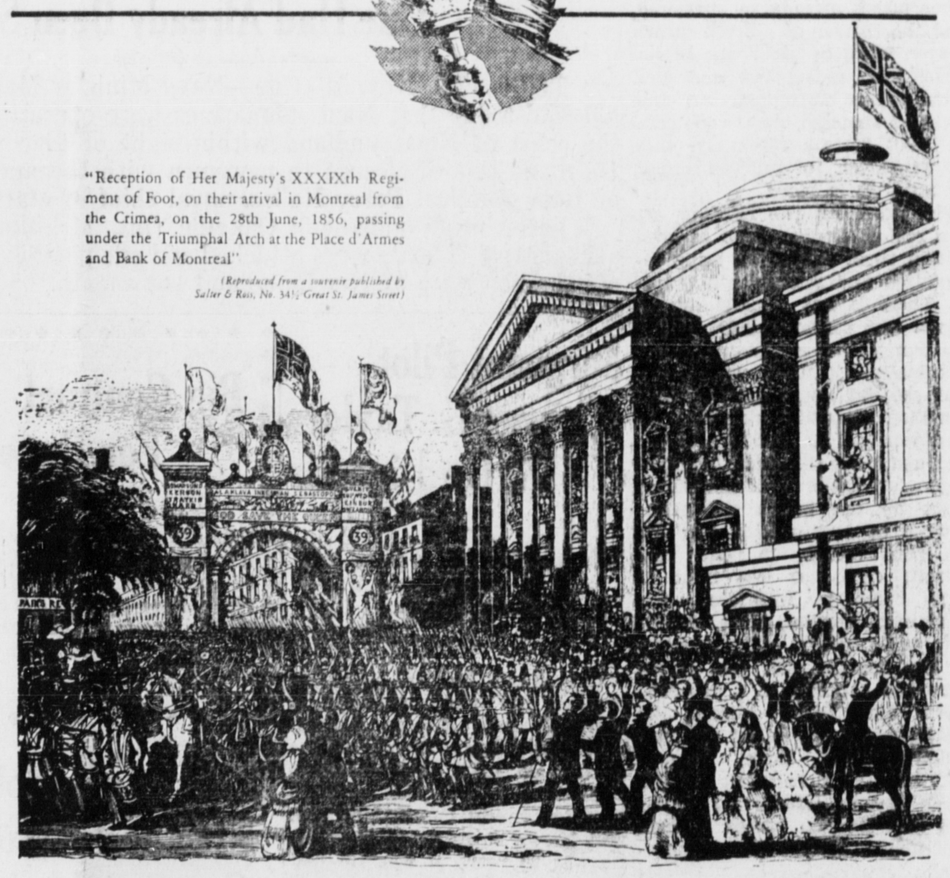
HOLD HIGH THE TORCH OF FREEDOM



"Reception of Her Majesty's XXXIXth Regiment of Foot, on their arrival in Montreal from the Crimea, on the 28th June, 1856, passing under the Triumphal Arch at the Place d'Armes and Bank of Montreal"

(Reproduced from a souvenir published by Salter & Ross, No. 341, Great St. James Street)

Living Historic Times With Canada

For just one year short of a century-and-a-quarter—124 dramatic, dynamic, historic years—the Bank of Montreal has lived, worked and watched with Canada.

The Bank has seen war come and peace go, peace come and war depart; shared Canada's struggle through every night of economic depression since 1817; rejoiced to see Canada always triumph over all adversity.

Founded two years after the Battle of Waterloo, the Bank witnessed the Crimean War, the Indian Mutiny, and, with other loyal Canadians, enlisted for the duration in the South African War and World War I, and now marches with the Dominion and the Empire in World War II.

Always, Canada has come through stronger, better, triumphant. May she so come through the present fiery trial. To this end we work and dedicate the institution's service, just as our 6000 loyal employees are working and dedicating their personal services.
