
CANADIAN ARMY IN PEACETIME . . . The Canadian Army during 1960 continues to serve for the cause of peace in many parts of the world including the Congo, Kashmir, North and South Viet Nam, Cambodia, and the Middle East. The Canadian Army also maintains a Brigade Group in Germany serving with the NATO Land Forces. These overseas committments have seen a total of approximately 67,000 troops serving outside Canada in the last 10 years. Top left, scout cars from the armoured regiment with the 4th Canadian Infantry Brigade Group in Germany pass through the town square of Luneburg during one of the many exercises held by the Brigade. Bottom left, Sergeants J. L. Pelletier of Ottawa, left, and E. A. Chaisson of Lameque, N.B., members of 57 Signals Squadron serving with the UN forces in the Congo, take time out from their work to make friends with some of the native children. Top right, Trooper M. McDougall, a member of the Reconnaissance Squadron of the Fort Gary Horse, serving with the UNEF in the Middle East, gives some water to Bedouin children during a stop on a patrol along the Egyptian-Israeli border. Bottom right, the Changing of the Guard ceremony on Parliament Hill in Ottawa, carried out daily from July 2 to September 15 this year by members of the 2nd Battalion, The Canadian Guards was one of the major tourist attractions in the capital.

Three stooges profit from TV film replays

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "When the man upstairs calls you for the second time," said Moe Howard, "he really pulls you up there."

He was referring to the renaissance of the Three Stooges, of which his is chief stooge. Moe is the one with the floor-mop hairdo. Then there is Larry Fine, of the querulous look and the Stokowski coiffure. And newcomer Joe Derita, who took over as the bald punching bag for the late Curly Howard.

The trio wore outlandish costumes—medieval suits with arrows and dead birs hanging from them—and they were on ice. The scene was the old Sonja Henie ice rink on Stage 15 at 20th Century Fox, newly iced as a mountain lake for Snow White and the Three Stooges.

"Some renaissance!" said Moe. "Who would ever have thought it could happen to us."

RELEASED TO TV

What happened was the release of their vast number 204 of two-reelers to TV, creating a whole new generation of fans.

"We didn't get a dime from TV," said Moe, "but we're reaping the rewards. Actually, we never were really broke; we always could find work. But now it's unbelievable.

"We're a lot luckier than Laurel and Hardy, who never got any money from TV and couldn't cash in on their new popularity, either. That was a real tragedy."

Drove without licence

Driving without a licence earned Waldermar Wolf, who lives in a trailer just outside the city limits on Highway 16, a $10 fine when he appeared in police court this morning before Magistrate E. T. Applewhaite.

RCMP said the charge was laid yesterday afternoon when Wolf was checked by the police patrol near Algoma Park and found to have no driver's licence.
