Visit of Defence Heads . . .

Two of Canada's chief defence ministers—Col. Ralston and Major Power—have been and gone. For Col. Ralston it was the first visit here. Major Power has been here before. It is well that Col. Ralston should have obtained a first-hand picture of the situation in this area and that Major Power should have refreshed himself in view of changes that have taken place since last he was here.

Prince Rupert people will feel gratified and reassured following the visit of the ministers and the principal defence aides. The war chiefs now know exactly what the position from a defence standpoint is. Possibly more important, they will have been further impressed with the part Prince Rupert can play in the Allied offensive on the Pacific which must come before our particular enemies in this theatre are overcome.

of the Lord are true and righteous altogether."

Listen to the Vichyites in New York. "Britain let us down." Not one mumbling word from Britain about the France that handed over everything to Hitler. Not a word. Only faith in France—when even France didn't have any.

You'd think to listen to some of you that you want Britain to lose. Careful, careful, be quiet and pray.

It took Britons and Hollanders, Frenchmen and Americans hundreds of years to open this globe for white men. Japan, since Perry, is 88 years old. And in a few weeks hundreds of years may be swept into the ashcan, and the Japs have a straight open line from India to Suez.

You don't think much of the British Empire? No?

Well, brother, if Britain goes, write finis over western civilization. Or do you think perhaps that America can carry it alone?

You don't know what England means, my friend. England is very tired, and England is old. Yet, though it slay me, I tell you this: England is the last refuge of the civilized soul. Pray for England. I say England. England, so proud, and England who knows humility.

Have you heard the British say a word against the Americans? Did they crow over Pearl Harbor? Did they rush into print to talk of our smugness and complacency?

Did you ever have an Englishman or an English woman for a friend? Did that friend ever let you down?

In the hour of her greatest distress, her greatest disaster, I, an American, write these lines to England. And I say to England: In spite of Singapore I sing with you: "Land of hope and glory, mother of the free." And I sing with you: "There's always be an England, and England will be free." And I ask you to sing with me the great songs of America: "Sweet land of liberty," and "Columbia the gem of the ocean," and "Mine eyes have seen the glory." Songs written in the world's greatest language—the great language of resistance.

There's a line in "The Star Spangled Banner:" "Stars through the perilous fight."

There are stars, England.

And don't believe the lady with the Siamese cat is America. America knows where she is going—and she knows who's going with her. Holland and Norway and Russia, China and India. Yes, India.

And by and by the whole round globe.

And with you, Great Britain.

"Crucifixion" Is Presented

Cantata Excellently Rendered By Choir of St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral

A very fine presentation of Stainer's cantata, "The Crucifixion," was given by the choir of St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral at the Sunday evening service under the capable direction of A. J. Lancaster. Peter Lien presided at the organ and soloists were John Davey, Ronald Bridgett and Harold Ponder. Very Rev. James B. Gibson, the dean, conducted the service, the cantata taking the place of a sermon. The congregation was large and appreciative.

After having spent the winter at Stewart, Rev. E. W. Slater, clergyman skipper of the Anglican mission boat Northern Cross, arrived in the city from the north on the Catala this morning. The Northern Cross, which has been tied up at the Prince Rupert Rowing & Yacht Club for the winter, will be immediately recommissioned in service for the season and will leave tomorrow for Stewart where the Easter week-end will be spent, Skipper Slater starting out from there on his ministrations along the coast.

Union steamer Catala, Capt. Ernest Sheppard, arrived in port at and Port Simpson and sailed at 9:15 this morning from Stewart 1:30 this afternoon in continuation of her voyage to Vancouver.

SPORT CHAT

In the opening session of the Mixed Bowling League tomorrow night Sav-Mor Grocery will play Stone's Clothiers and Peoples Store will meet Alley Cats. Later in the evening Woanlas will take on Pushovers while Toilers will be pitted against Rinky Dinks.

Showing a complete reversal of form in the second half, Wales beat England 17—12 in an international rugby game played at Swansea before a crowd of 15,000. England led 12—0 at the interval but collapsed completely once the Welsh attack got underway.

Cambridge kept its wartime football record against Oxford intact by winning the annual university game 3—1. It was Cambridge's fourth victory.

Eddie Steele, former heavyweight boxing champion of Wales, is a corporal instructor in the Grenadier Guards and has been training Commandos for their raids on the European coast.
