Landy-Thorarinson rites solemnized in Duncan

Of wide interest in Prince Rupert was the April 29 wedding of former city girl, Miss Beatrice Elizabeth Thorarinson to Larry William Thomas Landy, solemnized in the Duncan United Church, Duncan, B.C.

Rev. R. B. Knipe officiated at the 1:30 p.m. wedding ceremony for the daughter of former city residents Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Thorarinson and the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Landy, all of Duncan.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride walked up the aisle to the altar adorned with bouquets of yellow daisies, intermingled with mauve irises and apple blossoms.

The bride chose for her wedding day the birthday of her mother and she was radiant in a floor-length gown fashioned of white taffeta emphasized with a lace yoke, embroidered with pastel colored sequins and white pearls.

The fitted bodice featuring sleeves tapered to lily points, fell to a hooped skirt with lace appliques. A pearl and sequined headpiece secured her three-quarter veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of deep red roses and stephanotis.

Miss Kristis Mennell of North Surrey attended her cousin as maid of honor in a gown of sky blue nylon organza and she carried yellow carnations and roses for color tone.

Flower girls, Beverly and Sharon Glenn were frocked in yellow nylon organza and they both carried baskets of yellow chrysanthemums.

Clifford Madill was best man.

At the reception held in the Moose home in Duncan, the bride's mother was charming in a blue and white checked silk gown, white accessories and corsage of pink roses while the groom's mother wore a green and silver-toned gown, black accessories and a corsage of talisman roses.

Kenneth Lincham of Victoria proposed the toast to the bride.

For travelling to Qualicum Beach on a honeymoon trip the bride donned a pale green wool sheath ensemble, accented with brown accessories and a corsage of talisman roses.

Newlyweds have taken up residence in the Birkwood Apartments in Victoria.

Seventh Annual Folk Festival set for May 19 at Civic Centre

Once again the Prince Rupert public will be treated to a colorful display of authentic national costumes as guest artists take the spotlight on stage of the Civic Centre in the Seventh Annual Folk Festival, Friday, May 19, Citizenship Day.

A large variety of numbers will include vocal, dancing and instrumental performances.

One of the noteworthy features planned for this year's evening function will be a costumed Swiss number combining the traditional yodelling usually associated with Switzerland with instrumental background.

Other numbers will be presented to represent Ireland, Norway, Japan, native Indians of Canada, England, Greece, Italy, Scotland and a children's square dancing group, representing Canada.

To enhance the festival fare, usherettes will also be garbed in national outfits.

Chairman Mrs. John F. Denning is being assisted by festival committee members, Mrs. D. W. Burnip, Mrs. Peter Ellingsen, William C. Hankinson, Kenneth Harris and Otto Sambol.

Wedding tips offered for June brides-to-be

By DEIDRE MUNGOVAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP) — If you're one of this spring's brides-to-be, by now you may be exhausted trying to make all the arrangements for the ceremony.

Or, if by chance you're one of those supremely well-organized individuals, you may have no worries beyond what to wear to the next party.

But wedding plans need not be hectic if you take advantage of some of the many services offered. Many large department stores have expert bridal counsellors without charge, they will plan your wedding down to the last detail.

If you don't live close enough to a big city to enlist their assistance, you can always write for their booklets on wedding customs and etiquette, what to do and when.

In the meantime, here are some tips for the June bride.:

There is no limit to the number of bridesmaids but count on having one usher for 25 guests.

Your attendants should wear dresses that complement your gown and in colors that both suit the season and are not lighter than yours. Gloves should be worn during the ceremony.

GIFTS AND FLOWERS

You are responsible for your wedding gown and veil, personal trousseau, linen and the things you'll need to set up housekeeping after the honeymoon, gift for the groom, gifts and bouquets for your attendants, flowers for the church and reception, church fee and limousine service.

It is customary for the bride and her father to drive to the church in one car, leaving an extra one for the mother and the bridesmaids. A gracious gesture is to order a car for the parents of the groom, the groom and the best man.

Your maid of honor holds your bouquet during the ring ceremony and helps you with packing your trousseau and changing to your travelling outfit.

Bridesmaids should be on time for the ceremony, and provide their own transportation to the church or your home.

RESERVE CHURCH EARLY

Three months before the wedding you should check final details with your clergyman to see that both he and the church are available for the rehearsal and the ceremony. Also discuss music and flower details with him.

Order either engraved or raised English printed invitations and announcement notices and thank - you stationery two months beforehand.

Out-of-town guests should receive their invitations four weeks before the wedding date and others three weeks. Send your engagement notice to the newspaper.

Record and acknowledge wedding gifts as they arrive. Gifts to bridal attendants should be presented at a luncheon, rehearsal party or just before leaving for the church. Provide accommodation for out-of-town guests.

Confine social activities and parties to the last two to four weeks. And make sure your new home will be furnished and the kitchen well stocked for your return from the honeymoon.

Moncton woman honored

MONCTON, N.B. (CP) — An energetic woman who in the last 75 years has seldom been without some sort of musical instrument in her hands has been honored for her contribution to Moncton's musical life.

Nearly 300 persons crowed into a banquet hall for Mrs. Maude Burbank's 80th birthday celebration.

A native of Island Pond, Vt., where she played a church organ before she was eight, the former Maude Danforth studied music in Portland, Me., Boston and New York.

In 1958 she received an honorary doctorate of music from St. Joseph's University, St. Joseph, N.B.

She plays all the instruments she teaches — violin, piano, trumpet, saxophone, clarinet, French horn, trombone, tuba and others.

Shaving gear used by painter

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C. (CP)— Marge McDougall used egg yoke and bluing for her colors and her husband's shaving tackle for her brushes when she began painting.

Now, her work sells faster than she can turn it out.

Mrs. McDougall is the wife of a former trapper and most of her paintings are of Indians. She has been commissioned to paint a set of pictures for the provincial archives.

Marge — she was christened Marjorie Martha Margaret Maude May Matilda Minerva Romana after each of eight aunts —was born in Montana.
