Hail and Farewell . . .

Now that a newly elected group is soon to take over civic government for 1944, a few words of hail and farewell to those who are about to bow out may not be amiss. A green but willing crew, they took over after a ten-year lapse of municipal autonomy and in the year since they have, we can say without any fear of contradiction, done a good job of civic re-establishment. No doubt Mayor Watts and his colleagues look back and feel that there were many things that were not done and some things done that might have been done better. However, it was a year replete with difficulties and obstacles some of which might have seemed almost insurmountable. However, the retiring mayor and his council put their shoulders boldly and energetically to the wheel, gave freely of their talents and energies and, on the whole, did a mighty good job considering the circumstances under which they labored. The fruits of their labors may mature more fully anon provided their successors carry on as ably as they commenced.

Too often is there failure to acknowledge a good job well done and we should not like to see the 1943 city council be succeeded in office without some appreciation being recorded here of the capable and conscientious manner in which they handled the many and difficult—some distasteful—tasks which they were called upon to face.

If the 1944 council does as well we will be as glad to give them similar acknowledgment a year hence.

Standardizing Education . . .

There appears to be no good reason why provincial educational standards applying to various professions such as legal, medical, teaching and pharmacy should not be made interprovincially uniform and acceptable for employment in all provinces. For that matter the standards of elementary education are now virtually uniform, the matriculation certification qualitifactions being practically standardized and to large extent interprovincially acceptable. Each province, however, reouires final qualification examinations for provincial certification in the professions mentioned. Why there should not be general Dominion certifications is one of the existing educational anomalies for which there appears to be no real justification. Just because it has always been that way is no reason why it should continue to be. Certainly there appears to be every argument favoring standardization of education in Canada particularly insofar as the professions are concerned.

Terrace

The recent threat of an epidemic of diphtheria is now a thing of the past. The emergency hospital has been closed and the three nurses in attendance have gone to their homes. Nursing Sister Gladys Fisher and Nursing Sister Olive Nolan are spending a vacation at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fisher here. Mrs. Sherwood has returned to her Terrace home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Ducklin of the Young Men's Christian Association war services have taken up residence in Park Avenue.

Many local people have fallen before a real epidemic of influenza colds. This ailment appears to be quite severe and sends the victims to bed for two or three days but it has the saving feature that the illness soon passes. About three or four days abed seems to be sufficient to effect the cure.

Mrs. Welch arrived from Vancouver on Thursday to spend a holiday with Mr. and Mrs. Dudley G. Little at Terrace. Mrs. Welch is Mrs. Little's mother.

Mrs. Vic Giraud has arrived from Red Rose Mine, Hazelton, to spend the Christmas season at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. Sherwood.

Miss Edith Little, who is in training at Vancouver, arrived on Wednesday to spend the Christmas season at her parental home at Terrace.

The Air Force is establishing an office in the village for the use of the Air Force service police. This office will for the present be located at the municipal office on Front Street.

The municipal election held each year to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of one of the three Commissioners passed without a contest. The retiring commissioner, E. Haugland, was again nominated for the office and, as he had no competitor, was declared elected by acclamation.

Mrs. Thorssen is expected in Terrace soon to take over the Frank Morris farm which has been purchased by Dr. and Mrs. Jens Munthe of Prince Rupert. Mrs. Thorssen is Mrs. Munthe's mother. She is coming from Northern Alberta.
