Inverness School Not Re-opening

Because of a lack of pupils at Inverness cannery, the elementary school there will not open this term and the teacher, Miss Foster, who was appointed to fill that post, will be transferred to Digby Island school.

Unable, during the summer holidays, to obtain a teacher for Digby Island school, the Prince Rupert district school board approved the transfer of Miss Foster when it learned that, because of the poor fishing season on the Skeena River, there would not be sufficient population at Inverness to make a class.

WELCOME HUT'S FAITHFUL WORK

Canadian Legion Women Did Noble Duty in Greeting Homecoming Veterans—Distinguish- Visitors

Record of the Canadian Legion Women's Auxiliary Welcome Hut, now about to close after a year's service, has been one of faithful service on the part of the Legion ladies, more than 30 of whom sacrificed their time at one period or another during the year to welcome men and women whose military service embraced all parts of the globe for the United Nations.

Now, feeling that the period of usefulness of the Welcome Hut is over, practically all local service personnel having returned home, Mrs. William Rothwell and Mrs. W. F. Robertson, who have taken a leading part in the work, will recommend to the W. A. that the centre be closed.

"It has been difficult work at times and it has not always been convenient to meet incoming boats and trains, but there has been a great deal of satisfaction in it," Mrs. Rothwell said this morning. She had been in attendance at the hut more than a hundred times in the last 12 months.

Ritual at the Welcome Hut prior to the arrival of a boat or train was for two or three of the ladies to open the hut, make coffee, with cookies, buns or some other delicacy, make sure several packages of cigarettes were at hand, then go out on the wharf and invite newly arrived veterans to enjoy their hospitality and to sign his or her name in the register.

More than once the ladies have gone down at night to meet a late train or boat, only to have the disappointment of signing "No luck" on the register. There were no veterans to welcome.

But, on the other hand, some distinguished signatures are recorded on the dog-eared pages of the register. For instance, there is Viscount Alexander of Tunis, Canada's Governor General, and Lady Alexander, who visited the hut on their recent visit here. There is Major General Harry Letson distinguished Canadian soldier and aide to Viscount Alexander.

There is Major General George Hays of the American Army, who on Monday received the dedication of Roosevelt Park in behalf of the people of the United States; Capt. Harry Sanders of U.S.S. Tucson, and other military and naval notables from other places.

Also there are the names of several Prince Rupert men decorated for their war service—Lieut. Commander Orme Stuart, D.S.C.; Fl/Lt. Pat Deane, D.F.C.; Sgt. Darrow Gomez, D.C.M.; Hon. Major R. C. Durnford, D.S.O., and F/O J. Victor Bouzak, D.F.C., and many others.

There are names of members of the United States Army, Navy and Coast Guard, the Norwegian armed services as well as Canadians. It is a record of which the Women's Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion is extremely proud.

Ladies who attended the hut during the year were: Mrs. W. Rothwell, Mrs. W. F. Robertson, Mrs. W. Murdoch, Mrs. G. V. Hanley, Mrs. C. Morrow, Mrs. F. Miller, Mrs. Dan Parent, Mrs. J. A. Teng, Mrs. G. Hebb, Mrs. C. Graham, Mrs. T. J. Boulter, Miss Edith Gandy, Mrs. S. V. Cox, Mrs. A. E. Dickens, Mrs. C. Barker, Mrs. H. Smith jr., Mrs. J. Harvey, Mrs. R. Nesbitt, Mrs. R. T. Dirk, Mrs. J. Yelloway, Mrs. Henry Smith sr., Mrs. A. McNeill, Mrs. R. J. Keays, Mrs. A. J. Croxford, Mrs. H. Killin, Mrs. P. Bond, Mrs. R. Murray, Mrs. B. Scherk, Mrs. J. McGreish, Mrs. W. Lineham, Mrs. C. Michaloff and Mrs. A. Guyan.

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Q. When a man who is a stranger has rendered a service to a woman, should she ask for his name and address?

A. Not unless the service has been very exceptional and she wishes to send him a reward.

Q. Which is the correct form. "I want to see you", or, "I wish to see you"?

A. "I wish to see you" is correct. Wish expresses desire, want implies lack.

Q. How should one dress for a ball?

A. A ball requires the most formal of evening dress.

IS INTERESTED IN HOME TOWN FIRE

Caller at the Daily News office yesterday was D. J. Kenaston, insurance dealer from Wenatchee, Washington, who was particularly interested in getting information about a big fire which swept the business section of his home town last week. It was a $750,000 conflagration and Mr. Kenaston found that some of the buildings destroyed were ones on which he had the insurance .

Mr. and Mrs. Kenaston and young son, Donnie, drove here by way of the Okanagan and the Cariboo and are shipping their car and going to Vancouver on the Cardena tomorrow night.

Mr. Kenaston mentioned being well acquainted with T. H. Arneil, who was manager of a wholesale house here in the early days, moving to Wenatchee and now being located in Spokane. A son, Jimmy Arneil, who was born in Prince Rupert, is an attorney in Wenatchee.

NURSES ARE VERY FICKLE LOT NOW

The Prince Rupert General Hospital is still "terribly" short of nurses and is just "muddling" along, Miss P. M. Mooney R.N., lady superintendent, told the board at its monthly meeting last night. Of twelve nurses, most of them from Ontario, who had applied recently, only one had actually come while a second was expected about September 15. Nurses would indicate their desire to come here and then would change their minds, some without even the courtesy of sending notice. The conduct of the nurses in this way was lowering the standard of the profession, President Frank Dibb felt.
