SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — The governments of Victoria and New South Wales are considering legislation to acquire partly used and unoccupied houses for homeless people in an effort to overcome the serious housing shortage in Australia, which experts estimate will take ten years of intensive building to overcome.

Men, women and children of war-devasted countries desperately need all the used garments that the men, women and children of Canada can spare. These Italian war orphans line up to receive the clothes collected during the last Clothing Drive in Canada and distributed overseas by UNRRA. More people need help and more can be relieved by the donation to the National Clothing Collection of all the serviceable garment sto be found in attics, cupboards and trunks. Bundles are received at your local depot.
