My father says the paper he reads ain't put up right. He finds a lot of fault, he does, perusin' it all night. He says there ain't a single thing in it worth to read And it doesn't print the kind of stuff the people really need. He tosses it aside and says it's strictly on the bum. But you ought to hear him holler when the paper doesn't come.

He reads about the weddings and he snorts like all-get-out. He reads the social doings with a most derisive shout. He says they make the papers for the women folks alone. He'll road about the parties and he'll fume and fret and groan. He'll read of information that doesn't have a crumb-But you ought to hear him holler when the paper doesn't come.

Ho is always first to grab it and he reads it all clear through. He don't miss an item or an ad. ... that's true. He says they don't know what we want, the darn newspaper guys. He's going to take a day some day and go to "put them wise." Sometimes it seems as though they must be deaf and blind and dumb."... But you ought to hear him holler when the paper doesn't come.
