Seasonable Ideas for Housekeepers

ENJOY THE FRUITS OF EATING FRUITS; APPLES PLENTIFUL AGAIN

Winter and apples go together in Canada. After last year's short supply, everyone welcomes their return to the daily fare.

Apples have a very interesting "past." They originated in southwestern Asia, migrating from there to Europe. The histories of ancient Egypt, Greece and Rome paid tribute to the apple. From Rome, apples were introduced into England during their occupation of that country. Thence, the Pilgrim Fathers brought them to America, and today Canada ranks as one of the leading apple-growing countries of the world.

Due to the great variety of uses to which apples may be put, plus their attractive appearance and palatable flavor, the apple has been called the "King of Fruit." Besides these qualities the Canadian homemaker appreciates the economic value of apples in the household budget. Furthermore, many homes depend on them as their chief source of fresh fruit throughout the winter months.

If apples are purchased by the box, they will be graded, according to government standards, "Extra Fancy," "Fancy," "Combination" and "Cee." If bought in barrels, hampers or baskets, the grade mark will be "No. 1," "Domestic" and "No. 3."

Store apples in a well-ventilated, comparatively dry room, with as low a temperature as possible, without danger of frost. If the apples have been stored for some time the addition of cinnamon, cloves or lemon will improve the flavor.

With the frequent serving of apples, variety must be the "keynote"—applesauce and apple pie, however toothsome, will become monotonous. Here are a few suggestions from the home economists:

—Core apples and fill centres with mincemeat. Bake until tender. Very good.

—Chopped tart, red-skilled apples add to the flavor and appearance of cole slaw.

—Serve unpeeled red apple wedges and grapefruit sections on lettuce with French dressing—a tasty and easily prepared salad.

Spiced Apples

3 medium-sized tart apples
¼ cup brown sugar
¼ cup molasses
½ cup tomato catsup
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter

Wash, core apples, but do not peel. Cut in half crosswise and place in baking dish. Blend together the brown sugar, molasses, catsup and salt. Pour over apples and dot with butter. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees F., until tender—about 35 minutes. Turn apples once during baking and baste with sauce. This makes an excellent accompaniment for vegetable plate, fish, meat or poultry. Six servings.

Apple Juice Salad

2 tablespoons gelatin
½ cup cold apple juice
1¾ cups apple juice
¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
1 tablespoon vinegar
½ cup finely chopped celery
1 cup chopped apples
2 tablespoon finely chopped green pepper
1/3 cup finely chopped peanuts

Soak gelatin in ½ cup cold apple juice for 5 minutes. Heat remaining apple juice to boiling point, add soaked gelatin and stir until dissolved. Add salt, sugar and vinegar, blend well. When mixture begins to set, fold in remaining ingredients. Pour into moistened molds and chill until firm. Unmold on salad greens and garnish with tomato wedges. Crackers sprinkled with grated cheese and toasted go especially well with apple salads. Six servings.

Apple Cheese Cobbler

6 apples
¼ cup brown sugar
1 tablespoon butter
1½ cups all-purpose or 1 2/3 cups pastry flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
¾ cup grated cheese
2 tablespoons mild-flavored fat
6 tablespoons milk
1 egg
¼ cup sugar
2 tablespoons boiling water
½ teaspoon almond extract

Peel apples, cut in thick slices and arrange in baking dish. Sprinkle with brown sugar and dot with butter. Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt, add grated cheese. Cut in fat. Beat egg and milk together and mix quickly into dry ingredients. Pat dough into shape and size of casserole and cover apples with it. Bake in a hot oven, 425 degrees F., about 15 minutes. Combine sugar, water and flavoring and pour over partly baked dough. Return to oven and bake 15 minutes longer. Six servings.

"We'd like to have you stay to dinner with us if you are content to take 'pot-luck,'" said the wife, cordially.

"You mean 'can-luck' my dear," murmured her husband.
