"Battle Of Atlantic"

Corvette K-225, Thrilling Picture Showing at Capitol Theatre.

The Battle of the Atlantic, said to be depicted in its full and actual violence, is dramatized in "Corvette K-225" coming this Wednesday and Thursday to the Capitol theatre. Filmed with the co-operation of the Royal Canadian Navy, the picture tells the first screen story of the valiant corvettes, believed to be the most effective u-boat destroyers of World War 2.

Randolph Scott is the star. He appears in the role of a Canadian naval commander, a portrayal described as heroically two-fisted. James Brown, Noah Beery, jr., Barry Fritzgerald and Andy Devine are others in the large cast which also features Fuzzy Knight and Richard Lane.

A Hollywod newcomer, Ella Raines, appears in the leading feminine role. Miss Raines, a recent graduate of the University of Washington, was selected from a group of 164 young actresses who were considered for the important part.

With genuine scenes when u-boats and German planes are attacked by torpedoes and bombs. Stark drama and a warm romantic element are expertly blended in the story.

Telkwa Girl Is Bride Here

Miss Eleanor Viola Giddings Becomes Bride of Henry McDivott of H.M.C.S. Chatham.

The marriage took place at the parsonage of First United Church last evening of Miss Eleanor Viola Giddings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Giddings, and Henry Kane McDivott of H.M.C.S. Chatham, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. K. McDivott of Glasgow.

Rev. James A. Donnell officiated and the bride was given in marriage by her father. The witnesses of the ceremony were Miss Miriam Quandt and Robert Murray. A few relatives and friends were in attendance.

The couple will reside on Sixth Avenue West in Prince Rupert. The bride has been engaged as a saleswoman at Rupert Bakery. The groom is in the naval service.

CHEMISTRY is the taking of a relatively small group of basic substances, and, by the apparent magic of Chemistry, so changing them that they take on new forms and new properties that render them of great value to man in his many activities.

A few examples: Cellulose Chemistry brings us such products as "Cellophane", as plastics, as "Fabrikoid", and as certain highly valuable lacquers. From abundantly available coal tar derivatives, air and water, comes nylon yarn from which, after the war, nylon hosiery will once again be made.

Sulphuric acid, made in Canada to supply an essential ingredient of manufacture for many widely distributed industries, works for the farmer also, because, when chemically combined with phosphate rock, the result is the super-phosphate so essential to mixed fertilizers. Again, there are the salt wells at Windsor, Ontario, from which, in addition to your table salt, Chemistry produces chlorine and caustic soda, both indispensable in many different industries.

Throughout the war Chemistry has served Canada well—just as in the years before the war. When peace comes, Chemistry will take its place among the factors helping to build a great nation. Present-day services to humanity of the products of Industrial Chemistry are but an indication of future services in providing new products, new materials, new processes, to meet the demands of a restless, progressive post-war world.
