FORTRESS WINS HOCKEY GAME

Defeated Twenty-Ninth 3 to 0 Friday Night

Fortress floor hockey team vaulted into a second place tie with Navy Friday night by defeating Twenty-Ninth 3 to 0. Both teams fought a tough battle trying to gain the four points at stake due to a postponed game early in the season. Fortress played a fine game but had Ross Auger in goal to thank for their win by a shutout. Twenty-Ninth missed their all-star player, Carlo, who has been posted from the area, as well as three other regulars.

However, the new recruits should fill in well judging from their perfonrmance in Friday's game.

. Navy meets City tonight in the first of the Area A and B. Sections Basketball play-offs at the Y gym. This is a sudden death game, winner to play off with the winner of the Soo Suds Acropolis game. City finished third in this league while Navy are B League champs. Both teams on paper appear to be evenly matched and a close game is expected. Teams are intact with each having had regular practices in the past week and both are in topnotch form. The last half goes on the air at 8:30 over CFPR.

WATERED STOCK

GLASGOW, (AP) — Four men made "whisky" out of water and the man who bought it was fined $67.50. The "manufacturers" who worked in a cooperage yard put water into whisky barrels sent in for repair, added a little coloring matter and let it stand for two weeks.

CONCERT BY BAND

By MARGARET WOODWARD

Last night from the stage of the "Y" auditorium under the direction of Guy Noakes one of the highlight concerts of the season was presented by H.M.C.S. Chatham Band.

A stirring opening was "The Passing of the Regiments," an arrangement of regimental marches by Aubrey Winter. In a different mood followed the William Teague arrangement of Josef Mybrow's lovely composition "Autumn Nocturne." Sigmund Romberg's music is ever popular and none more so than "The Overture to the Student Prince" which last night was particularly well presented in a beautiful treatment of the Serenade theme. In a sympathetic mood with the outdoor tempest was David Bennett's descriptive arrangement of "Stormy Weather" with cornet solo by John Lamb.

The lovely and timely "Sanctuary of the Heart" was preceded by a reading of the poem by Lloyd Morris who announced the program. Solo work in this beautiful number was ably handled by Boom Taylor. Conducted by Larry France music in Tango time brought "Jalousie," a Jacob Gade composition.

Transcribed especially for this program by Larry and conducted by him was the second movement of Beethoven's First Symphony.

Guy Noakes returned to the conductor's stand to conduct the next number which was in direct contrast to the quiet of Beethoven. The novelty number "Circus Parade" from the trumpeters leading the parade, followed by the noisy minstrel band with the calliope wheezing along behind in competition to the individual clown band to the last picture of the circus band heralding the main tent this whole number was a delightful musical depiction of a real old time circus parade, a favorite of all whether young or old.

In a sentimental mood the band next played Rudolf Friml's tender love song "L'Amour, Toujours L'Amour." A novelty number was the final selection of the program the well known "Whistler and His Dog" which allowed the band to follow the composers' free mood and bring a gay and delightful picture of a happy scene of a man and a dog.

Some time must elapse before the band, under Guy Noakes, will again come as a feature of our Sunday night program. But after the program of last night their next will be greatly anticipated.
