Bridge was played last evening in the writing room with a good turnout of players. The program was under the leadership of Frank Watson and the refreshments were donated by Chatham wardroom.

The common lounge last night was once more the scene of an enjoyable music hour. Angelo Russo, accompanied by Bob Fleming, gave us a musical treat with Victor Herbert's "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life," "Indian Summer" and "Gypsy Love Song." Angelo's easy manner and his versatile playing added greatly to the evening's program. To round out the evening a film, "The Woodwind Choir," was presented.

This evening in the upstairs lounge Bingo will again be played. Alf Wingrove will be on hand to call the numbers.

The regular meetings of the Wives Club will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. in the ladies lounge. Toys are provided for the children so bring them along.

Found at the Y—1 pearl earring, 1 wallet, 1 lady's identification bracelet, 1 man's identification bracelet. Inquire at the reception desk.
