PATT RAFFERTY, 'DUMBELLS' STAR WITH 'FOLLIES'

Pat Rafferty, diminutive comedian who first won fame with Canada's famous Dumbells, will be one of the featured stars in Lever Brothers' soldier show, "The Lifebuoy Follies" which will play Sunday night at the Capitol under Red Cross sponsorship.

The one and only Pat is still the Number One king of comedy in this country. His mirth-provoking antics and happy humor have long been the delight of a million theatregoers on this continent and in England. "I'm getting to be a whiz at geography," says Pat, "between the 'Dumbells' and the 'Follies' 'Ive done so much travelling in Canada, that I know practically every nook and cranny of hundreds of towns and cities across the country."

Except for Calgary, where the Follies played to an open-air audience of 10,000 people, the fall of 1943 marked the first time in its history that the show played to civilian audiences. "The Lifeboy Follies" says Pat, "was originally produced expressly for the entertainment of the armed forces. Late in 1943, however, Lever Brothers decided to offer the services of the Follies free of charge to Red Cross branches in towns near enough camps not to interfere with their schedule of concerts at these camps.

Pat says he and the rest of the cast are enjoying their performances before civilian audiences. "In the last three years," he explains, "we've played to almost half a million men in uniform in Canada and Newfoundland and I think it's sort of nice for the families of these lads to see the kind of entertainment the Lifebuoy Follies is providing them. And as the Red Cross," he added, "is such a worthy organization, its activities so necessary, we're all proud to be able to help raise money to aid it in carrying on its good work."

William Murray Coming Home From Overseas

Chief Petty Officer William Murray, a Prince Rupert man who enlisted in the Royal Canadian Navy in September, 1939, is expected to arrive home on leave from overseas in the middle of May, his mother Mrs. Robert Murray, 1115 Eighth Avenue east, has been advised.

Overseas for the last two years, P/O Murray has at least had a touch of home along with him for the last 12 months, for he has served aboard H.M.C.S. Prince Henry, the former Pacific coast cruise ship which regularly called at Prince Rupert in the years of peace.

He is now in England, beginning his first leave in a year. Following his enlistment in 1939, P/O Murray served in Canada for four years, most of the time being stationed in Prince Rupert. Since going overseas, he has served in European and Mediterranean waters.

Before the war he was employed at the Provincial government forestry office here as a draughtsman, and was a well known sports enthusiast.

Air Line Travel Hits All-Time High

WINNIPEG, April 20— Trans-Canada Air Lines' passenger traffic revenue reached an all-time high in March, according to W. J. Dalby, traffic manager, who today reported a 27 percent increase in passengers carried as compared with the same month last year.

The substantial increase is largely accounted for by the company's recently inaugurated third daily trans-continental flight, as well as by the greater availability of passenger accommodation on certain of T.C.A.'s routes.

"Sorry, Neighbour..."

TONIGHT, neighbour, you came to me, your old friend, with your grief. You came to tell me your hero son would never come home again.

Now, as your bowed figure shuffles homeward through the rain, I'm confessing to myself the truth I could not admit to you.

You've given me your friendship and respect. You believed I was backing up your son, and all our fighting sons with everything I had.

Well, neighbour, I wasn't; I haven't deserved the faith you had in me. For instance I never did buy all the Victory Bonds I could and should have bought. I was merely a "token" buyer.

Last Victory Loan I bought a $100 Bond. I told myself we needed new things for our house—while your son was sleeping in the mud and cold. But tonight, when I saw your fine face twisted with grief, it suddenly came home to me that though I could never have made any sacrifice to compare with yours or your son's, I could and should, at very least, have tried to match his spirit of magnificent unselfishness.

No, neighbour I cannot tell you these things, but if I could, I would also tell you this: From this moment on, I will try to make amends for my selfishness. In this next Victory Loan I will, literally, invest in Victory Bonds until it hurts. Even then, I won't be making a real sacrifice; I know those dollars will still be mine, to be repaid to me. But I will have done my best, at last, to deserve your friendship and respect.
