Purple Nylons, Blue Lipstick Gotham's Gay

By HELEN BANNERMAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK (CP)—Gay, daring color is the keynote of smart accessories this spring from festive flowers on hats to sheer nylon stockings to match shoes and costume.

In the hat department New Yorkers have fallen in love with variations on a theme Hattie Carnegie has made popular—a sailor or bonnet of natural straw piled with primary-color field flowers and often completed with a green ribbon tied in a bow at the back. This demure combination has taken the city by storm, closely followed for more formal wear by its dressed-up version in beautiful natural straw lace.

The new stockings in sheer navy blue, purple, green and brown look unexpectedly smart teamed with matching costumes.

For daytime wear dainty embroidered batiste blouses are being shown with lacy French slips under them. Pure silk square scarves in solid colors or gay patterns complement daytime costumes.

Important fashion houses are showing young, flat-heeled shoes with closed toes and soaring high-heeled pumps with hand-tooled gold trim. Long, slim French umbrellas with plaid or striped taffeta covers are carried with most costumes.

SATIN BOOTS FOR DINNER

A neat, high-heeled black satin boot with side lacing and cuffs offers drama for dinner and theatre dates while flat sandals of dark alligator and suede are forecast for wear with light summer cottons.

A real color revolution is under way in a new make-up sequence featuring lipstick to match a red-head's hair. John Fredericks of hat fame, the originator of the new facial colors, recommends this lipstick only for red-heads. It isn't intended to be taken seriously but it is a lot of fun.

For brunettes there is warm, rich tan powder with brown lipstick—and dark brown at that. Blondes are offered a flattering pink powder and pale coral lipstick, no darker than normal lips but so startling it stands out in a crowd.

The climax comes in the make-up for the white-haired sophisticate who is offered blue-gold make-up, a pale blue powder and the choice of two lipsticks—vivid blue or pale blue that is just off white. The blues have no hint of flesh tones in them.

While these remarkable facial combinations probably won't sweep the country, they are having a pronounced effect on the colors of handbags, gloves and simulated pearls which are appearing in shades of gunmetal, smoky white and cocoa. As with the make-up, the accessory colors are planned to go with different shades of hair.

L. MacLaren. Serviteurs were Mrs. N. R. Young, Mrs. J. N. Forman, Mrs W. Pierce, Mrs. I. Telseth and Mrs. James Rogerson. Directing the serving of refreshments were Mrs. Joseph Garon, Mrs. J. LOVELY STONES FOUND IN B.C.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Many beautiful stones are to be found in British Columbia, Jake Treub, who has spent his spare time for 25 years finding, cutting and polishing stones, said here. The "garnerite," found near Williams Lake, in the interior of the province, is a nickel ore stone like a green butterfly wing. The opal found near Kamloops is of unusual beauty and the cinnabar from the same area has a grain like maple. Then there are the "dallasite" of Vancouver Island with its dark tracery of veins, the "jaspers" of the Fraser River, and the strikingly beautiful "Tiger's Eye," petrified asbestos.
