GUIDES TO TAKE PART IN SCOUT-GUIDE WEEK HERE

Prince Rupert Girl Guides' Association plans to take an active part in Boy Scout and Girl Guide Week, which starts on February 19, and the two organizations plan to co-ordinate their observance of it here. Detailed plans have yet to be worked out but it will include a church parade of both organizations.

Decision to take part in the week's observance was made at the annual meeting of the Prince Rupert Girl Guides' Association held at the home of Mrs. Arnold Flaten this week. The meeting elected new officers and heard reports from various troops and Brownie packs.

New officers elected by the association are:

Honorary President, Mrs. R. L. McIntosh.

President, Mrs. G. R. S. Blackaby.

Vice-President, Mrs. Arnold Flaten.

Secretary - Treasurer, Mrs. Peter Lakie.

Executive—Mrs. Basil Prockter (in advisory capacity), Miss Olive Van Cooten, Mrs. Lionel Holtby and one member yet to be chosen from the Catholic group. Mrs. Holtby was placed in charge of publicity and Miss Van Cooten in charge of supplies.

Reports from the five Guide troops and Brownie packs showed that the past year had been successful both from the standpoint of expansion and activity. Membership now numbers more than 100. Most recent development was the creation last month of a Catholic Brownie pack under leadership of Mrs. James Rogerson.

Groups now operating are:

First Prince Rupert Guide Company, Capt. Honora Silversides.

First Catholic Guide Company under Miss Frances Moore and Miss Pat Clark.

First Prince Rupert Brownie Pack under Mrs. W. S. Kergin.

First Catholic Brownie Pack under Mrs. J. Rogerson.

Second Prince Rupert Brownie Pack under Brown Owl, Mrs. F. W. Stone.

The First Prince Rupert Guide Company is busy preparing for examinations in St. John Ambulance work, according to Guide Capt. Silversides. Two members are also preparing for child nursing tests and one, Geraldine Prockter, has passed her cycle badge test.

Ways and means of raising money for the annual Guide and Brownie summer camp, and preparations for the annual rally later in the year also were discussed.

The need for more trained leaders was voiced by the 15 leaders and members present.

Herring Running Too Deep For Seining—Oil Line and Navy Buildings Demolished—Licidor Brings Fish Here

Seiners and packers of the herring fleet which left port here in gallant array on Wednesday after lying in shelter for a week began to trickle back on Thursday and Friday with reports that the herring were running too deep to be caught with seine nets.

The small fish sought the deep water during the cold snap last week and, so far have not returned to the upper level, the frustrated herring men report. One school of herring, in Willis Bay, was sounded at a depth of 70 fathoms. Fishermen are hoping that they will rise nearer the surface in the next few days.

Removal of the former R.C.A.F. fuel pipe lines running from the Morse Creek storage tanks to the government elevator wharf is well under way. The lines, an eight-inch and a four-inch, installed to service R.C.A.F. aircraft and boats during the war, are being cut into 20-foot lengths, and shipped to Vancouver. The job is giving employment to a number of local workmen. The large Navy pipe line is not being removed.

Demolition of surplus buildings at H.M.C.S. Chatham wartime naval establishment was begun Friday by Highway Construction Co. The buildings to be demolished include all the structures with the exception of the former wardroom quarters, the drill hall, and administration building.

The American Maritime Commission transport Lucidor arrived in port last night from Ketchikan carrying 16 carloads of canned and frozen fish for rail shipment east over C.N.R. lines. It is the second trip the vessel has made here for a similar surpose in the last week. The Lucidor brought more than 30 carloads last week.

With holiday season on, switching of Union Steamship Co. vessels plying to this port has been going on. Tomorrow Capt. Harry McLean will be here as master of the steamer Coquitlam, relieving Capt. John Boden who is starting his vacation. Capt. Ernest Sheppard is due back soon but will take over command of his old love, the steamer Catala, instead of the Camosun of which Capt. Alex McLennan is now master, returning to the ship on the current voyage after having been relieved by Capt. McLean for his vacation. Capt. W. McCombe has been sailing as master of the Catala of late.

Two Union liners were in port since yesterday afternoon—the Camosun arriving sharp on time at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon from Vancouver and Ocean Falls and sailing at midnight for Ketchikan while the Catala arrived at 1:30 a.m. and sailed at 10 o'clock this morning on her return to Vancouver and waypoints.

COME TO Church

SATURDAY SERMON

A STARTLING HEADLINE

(By REV. JOHN LINNEY, Full Gospel Tabernacle)

"For this is my blood of the New Testament, which is shed for many for the remission of sins." —Mat. 26:28.

Newspaper headlines sometimes carry a startling testimony to the truth, even when the writer does not intend it.

Last autumn a noted English physiologist, Sir Joseph Bancroft, concluded a series of lectures at Yale. The New York Herald Tribune reported this under a headline in bold type: "Blood of Lamb Yields Clue to Chance of Life." Christian people reading this were challenged by its unusual suggestiveness and read on to see what it was about. Sir Joseph described his experiments with new born lambs to ascertain the oxygen content of their blood and their prospect of living in view of this. But the exploitation of scientific news turns one's thoughts to what may reverently be called the "Headline of God's Word" which is indeed that mankind's "Chance of Eternal Life is inseperably related to the blood of the Christ."

When the children of Israel were preparing to leave Egypt and be set free from the bondage of their taskmasters, the Angel of death was to pass over the city, and God's appointed way of sure protection from this messenger of death was to take a lamb, slay it, and strike the blood on the two side posts and on the upper door post of the house and "when I see the blood I will pass over you, and the plague shall not be upon you to destroy you."

The ropes in the English Navy, from the greatest to the smallest, are so twisted that a scarlet thread runs through them from end to end which cannot be extricated without undoing the whole and by which the smallest piece may be recognized as belonging to the Crown. So the smallest acts of a Christian's life proves his allegiance to whom he belongs.

The message of the blood of the Lamb as the only cleansing from the plague of sins runs through the entire Bible.

When John the Baptist saw the Lord he cried: "Behold the Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world" (Jn. 1:29). What a grand message, this. "For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God" (Rom. 3:23).

We may be in the Nicodemus class, fearing God and living a good moral life, but he needed the blood of the Lamb to cleanse him from sin. He needed a Saviour. Or we may be in the class of the Samarian woman who had sinned much. She needed the blood of Christ to cleanse her from sin. She also needed a Saviour. The Scripture declares: "If we confess our sin, he is faithful to forgive us our sin and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness" (Jn. 1:9). The song which the redeemed sing in heaven is "Unto him that loved us and washed us from our sins in his own blood" (Rev. 1:5). If we do not learn to sing that song on earth, we will never be granted eternal life and sing on the golden shore.

The blood of Christ—it binds all heaven with its many mansions and thrones without number in complete security. Sinner friend, seek no other source in which to be cleansed from sin but that mighty stream which flowed from the Saviour's side when He died upon the Cross and sent forth the victor's cry: "It is finished" (Jn. 19:30). The heart of thy Redeemer did burst for thee and all its sacred blood flowed for thy cleansing. Why not in deep sincerity bow your head and offer this simple prayer: "Heavenly Father, forgive me my sins, cleanse me from them in the precious blood of Jesus Fill me with Thy Holy Spirit. In Jesus Name. Amen."

Peace, perfect peace,
In this dark world of sin
The blood of Jesus
Whispers peace within.
