OLYMPICS UNDER WAY

Twenty-Eight Nations Competing in Winter Sports

ST. MORITZ (AP)—The International Olympic Committee, it is reliably learned, decided at a four-hour meeting yesterday that the ice hockey tournament will not be accepted as an Olympic event but will, instead, be designated as being for the worlds championship. On that basis, the competition will go on.

With the committee room war over American hockey representation still raging, the Winter Olympics opened yesterday.

Despite the verdict, the United States Amateur Hockey Association team played and lost to Switzerland 5-4. The United States Olympic Committee does not recognize the Amateur Hockey Association squad and the committee has its own team entered.

In a second game yesterday Canada won three to one over Sweden.

Skiiers, skaters, bob-sledders and hockey players from twenty-eight countries were present at a colorful ceremony which marked the opening of the first post-war Olympics.

REPPORT PROGRESS

sprints and the broad jump be billed as Northern B. C. Championship competitions and that other events be classified as junior or intermediate.

CINDER TRACK IS CONSIDERED

Proposals for constructing a cinder track at Roosevelt Park were reviewed for the benefit of Alderman Robert McKay, board of works chairman. Proposed width of the track was reduced from 24 feet to 16 feet and Mr. McKay was in formed that the track would not be raised above the ground surface, but levelled off with it.

This, it was pointed out, would improve, rather than damage, the portion of the baseball outfield where the track would be situated.

Cost of building the track with 16-foot width and four-inch depth of ashes would be far below the $1,200 estimate given for a 24-foot track, Mr. McKay estimated.

Invitations to take part in the meet have been sent, or will be sent, to the native villages in the area, Ketchikan, Terrace, Smithers, Vanderhoof, Hazelton, New Metlakatla and possibly other towns along the railway line, committee chairman James Nicoll said.

He appointed Vic Duncan, Charles Anderson and J. A. Teng to the ways and means committee.

The committee will meet again on February 12 to hear progress reports.
