9 In Memoriam

IN loving memory of our dearly beloved husband and father, Cecil Ryan, who departed this life June 13, 1957.
A broken circle, a vacant chair;
We seem to miss him everywhere
But in our lonely hours of thinking,
Thoughts of you are ever near.
Oh, how long and sad the day
Since from earth you passed away.
Sadly missed by your loving wife and daughters. (115p)

Rotary-Gyro "classic" nets swim pool $114

By DICK AYRES
(A Rotarian)

If you are a Rotarian (or married to one) then without a doubt you know all about the Rotary club trouncing a hapless (hopeless) Gyro club 23-17 in a softball classic that drew a record crowd to Gyro Park Saturday night.

If you are a Gyro (or related to one) then you are convinced that a fighting Gyro club squad came fighting back in the top of the sixth inning to edge a fading Rotary club 24-13 and the Rotary club were too poohed out to play their half of the seventh.

In any case despite a top-notch soccer game at Algoma Park and a stage show at the Civic Centre, a crowd of more than 300 persons got seven innings of laughs at the Rotary-Gyro game and contributed more than $114 toward the Civic Centre swimming pool.

The crowd jammed the bleachers, swarmed all over the first base and third base lines and even the rocks in right field to watch the "old men" at play. It was a laugh a minute from the time Rotary club pitcher Bill Scuby pitched the first ball (a cantaloupe) at Emil Blain to tee off the game until Gyro Joe Scott got into the Rotary line-up, got brought home and claimed a run for the Gyros—The game was an outstanding success.

Despite their ages (there were few under 40) the service clubs turned up some snappy fielding plays and some heavy hitters.

Joe Scott opened the firing for the Gyros with a three-bagger. Bert Jefferies, Jack Naylor and Joe McKay came through with inside-the-park home runs, the latter a nicely placed ball in the back of a Northern B.C. Power truck. Dunc McRae belted a triple in the fifth.

For the Rotarians Bill Scuby, Dick Ayres, Art Ogilvie hit circuit clouts with Scuby repeating in the fifth. Ayres was so tired after going around the bases he had to be dragged over home plate by his team-mates.

Norm Christensen, Denny Light and Ed Knight were outstanding in the field for the Rotarians.

Bob Rudderham for the Gyros and John McNish for the Rotarians did yeoman jobs as catchers for the full game.

In the top of the sixth (or was it the fifth?) the Gyros resorted to their customary underhand tricks to gain runs, bringing in next-of-kin, friends, cousins and eventually all running around the bases to confuse the pure-minded Rotarians who were so tired they were confused anyway.

Outstanding laughs were provided by Joe Scott, Dom Dominato, George Cook and Al Perley (a real fielding team) and Emil Blain, who was nearly put out of commission by Bill Scuby at second. The Gyros were bolstered by young Fraser Wilson, whom Art Ogilvie tagged out at second (the cad) and the Rotarians had to call on Joe Scuby Junior, whom the Gyros (gentlemen that they are) allowed to score.

All in all, it was a wonderful laugh but once a year is enough.

Fortunately the Gyro first-aid truck driven by Bob Smith wasn't needed (until next day).

Equipment was provided the players (?) by the Savoy Hotel and RCMP teams of the Senior Men's Softball league and the grounds through the courtesy of George Baldwin, league president, who did a bang-up job of announcing. Ann Wick and Dawn Tomlinson did the scoring.

Linescore: (as seen by Rotarians and scorekeepers)
Gyros: 241 023 0 — 17 20 15
Rotary 581 090 x — 23 23 11
Stone, Scott (4) Blain (6) and Rudderham; Scuby and McNish.
Linescore: (as seen by Gyros and relatives)
Gyros: 241 023 12 — 24 23 0
Rotary: 581 090 x — 23 23 11
Umpires: Harrington, Windle and Karasosky.

Safe Driving Saves Money

By Martha Johnson
Dodge Safety Consultant

DRIVING like a professional will insure your safety as well as stretch your budget.

How?

Be a cautious driver.

Don't make "hot rod" stops. They burn extra gasoline and cause excessive wear of brake linings and tires.

Improperly inflated tires wear rapidly, generate blow-out-causing excessive heat and require more engine power. Over-inflated tires wear unevenly.

Brake adjustments—including the parking brake—are important. Dragging brakes can decrease fuel economy by as much as five miles per gallon.

Avoid driving at a high speed. You can save more than 25 percent in fuel costs by driving at 50 mph instead of 70.

Don't change speeds abruptly. Spot potentially hazardous road conditions ahead so you slow down or speed up gradually, without use of brakes or any appreciably greater use of fuel.

Blackwood on BRIDGE

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

There was no timidity in the bidding of today's deal, particularly on the part of Miss Brash. If you find it hard to see where she got her free three spades bid, you must remember that she had already passed twice and that's about all the passing she can bear to do in one hand.

Four spades could have been beaten a couple of tricks, but Mr. Dale didn't think he could stand the double. His decision to go on to five diamonds turned out well when he made that contract by careful play.

Mr. Abel led the king of spades and dummy's ace won. Mr. Dale rather wished his partner was playing five clubs since, on a 2-2 club break, that contract could be made even if Mr. Abel had four diamonds to the king-ten.

Mr. Dale

Such a diamond holding in Mr. Abel's hand would probably defeat the actual five diamond bid.

At trick two Mr. Dale cashed the ace of clubs. He led another club and the suit broke evenly, Mr. Abel winning with the king.

The queen of spades was returned and Mr. Dale ruffed. Now where was that entry to dummy? Getting there by ruffing a second round of hearts would do no good. He had to get there AFTER trumps were out.

Trying to create an entry, he led the queen of diamonds. But Mr. Abel didn't go for this. He played the six spot.

Mr. Dale then led the eight of diamonds. Mr. Abel toyed with the idea of going up with the king and firing back another spade. But he knew Mr. Dale had started with at least five diamonds and therefore another ruff in the closed hand would not be damaging. So he ducked again.

Dummy's jack was put up and it won the trick. When Miss Brash followed suit to diamonds again the contract was assured. Mr. Dale started leading good clubs and Mr. Abel could take his king of diamonds any time he felt like it. That would be the defenders' last trick.
