CONFIDENTIALLY YOURS
—by Byrne Hope Sanders

MONTREAL, Feb. 5th — Let's be wise! Let's make sure that our family enjoys a really good breakfast cereal these chill mornings. Let's be wise—and serve RED RIVER CEREAL! Your lucky family will truly enjoy the nutty and wholesome flavor of the Red River blend of cracked wheat, rye and flax. Convenient, too, as Red River is ready for the table in five minutes. Good for the little ones and for active workers as it helps supply the energy they need, while sedentary workers and older people find that it guards regularity. You'll find Red River in a cheery new red package on your grocery shelves. So—wise and happy breakfasting to you!

LIKE SO MANY OF YOU . . . I hum in contentment as I bustle about the kitchen readying dinner for my hungry ones. That's when the creamy-smooth ROYAL INSTANT PUDDINGS are such a boon—in seven different flavors, each of which can be varied with at least seven-times-seven ideas! I'm thinking of one I enjoyed the other night—really good . . . "Ginger Peachy Pudding," it's called. You place sliced peaches, fresh or frozen, in six dessert dishes. Pour Royal Instant Vanilla Pudding over each one. Set for about five minutes and sprinkle with half a cup of ginger-snap crumbs. Do try this wonderful dessert soon!

FINANCIAL HURDLES . . . IS THAT WHAT YOU SEE immediately ahead? Insurance premiums, mortgage payments, laundry bills, shoes for the children and a modern refrigerator before too long. Every list is different, yet every item on every list is a hurdle that must be surmounted. I now keep my budget under control with a BANK OF MONTREAL Personal Chequing Account, strictly for scheduled spending . . . and a Savings Account, strictly for saving. In this way I keep track of every dollar I spend and save money as well. Your nearest B of M manager will gladly explain the advantages of using both a Personal Chequing and a Savings Account at "My Bank"!

IF I RAN A COOKING SCHOOL . . . I'd keep emphasizing the art of simple cooking—given us by modern skills. Take MINUTE RICE, for instance . . . it's a marvel how easy it is! You don't have to wash it, boil it or watch it. Yet it turns out perfectly every time—each separate kernel is plump, tender, light and fluffy. Minute Rice makes delicious desserts . . . it blends so well with fresh, cooked or dried fruits, with custards and sauces. It's ideal for casseroles, soups and stews . . . and a great favourite as a vegetable. Serve Minute Rice . . . often!

HERE'S THE KIND OF MONEY-SAVING NEWS I like to pass along! Right now, at your grocer's, the purchase of two pounds of BLUE BONNET MARGARINE entitles you to one pound absolutely free! Think of the money you'll save . . . and think how nice to have plenty of Blue Bonnet on hand for all your baking and as a spread for bread. Tops as a topping for vegetables, too! That's because Blue Bonnet is now, and always has been, an all-vegetable margarine with essential vitamins and minerals added. Better take steps to get your free pound of Blue Bonnet right away!

FROM A WAR VETERAN . . . comes heart-felt appreciation for the freedom from pain he has found with TEMPLETON'S TRC's. He suffered for years from frequent attacks of rheumatic pain and sciatica as a result of exposure in damp trenches of World War I. "It used to be hard for me to get about," he says, "when I had one of these attacks — until I learned of Templeton's TRC's." If you know of anyone who's troubled with rheumatic, arthritic or sciatic pain, I hope you will suggest that they try Templeton's TRC's . . . they have brought comforting relief to untold thousands.

I WISH I COULD BE AS ENTHUSIASTIC about my meals as all those dogs I know which get so wildly excited about their DR. BALLARD'S CHAMPION DOG FOOD. It's such a fine meal for your dog—the veterinarian diet that contains all the nutrients he needs. For variety, buy Chicken, Liver and Regular — each one a flavor your pet will bolt with gusto. Dr. Ballard's has constant uniformity and quality in every tin—with balanced nourishment that encourages a shiny coat, bright eyes, good digestion and a cheery outlook on life. Let your pet enjoy Dr. Ballard's Champion Dog Food . . . it's the best!

33 paintings rented in 3rd picture loan

By RUTH HARVEY

The third Picture Loan and exchange which took place last Friday in the Civic Centre, shows that the idea is taking hold in Prince Rupert.

During the first loan month of October, seven paintings were rented Friday night. Two were sold.

The number of paintings available for rental is being increased steadily by contributions from outside artists as well as from local residents, who lend their paintings to the group and hang a different one in their home in exchange.

Recently acquired paintings are by Jean Findlay, Victor Jones, Jeanne Faure and an oil of a northern Norwegian fishing village by J. Sletback brought back from Norway by Julius Johnsen.

On the evening of the picture display several visitors attended just to view the paintings while others returned their last pictures, taking one or more in its place.

Mrs. Eugene Bartlett and Mrs. W. N. Poole, rented a painting for the waiting room of the Prince Rupert General hospital. Mrs. Marion Bevage, chose one for the Booth Memorial high school library. John Burditin, vice-principal of Roosevelt Park school chose one for the school hallway and teacher Owen A. Erwin chose one for King Edward school.

Patrick Kelly, teacher at Annunciation school, chose one for his classroom.

"The students and I are thoroughly enjoying these paintings," Mr. Kelly told me.

The paintings now hanging in the Civic Centre lobby are all available for rent and may be obtained by telephoning me at 2889.
