ALBERTA'S ESTIMATES

000 plant as starter. It will make polythene, a plastic widely used in the electrical, pharmaceutical and packaging industries, and will use 10,000,000 cubic feet a day of Alberta natural gas. A third chemical concern was reported ready to announce its plans.

Another C-I-L plant is under construction in Calgary — a $4,500,000 project to make commercial explosives. An additional chemical project is a $3,000,000 plant for the Lindbergh area, 120 miles northeast of Edmonton, to make caustic soda, chlorine and associated chemicals.

Other major new industries included a $5,000,000 addition to the Canada Cement plant at Exshaw, west of Calgary; a $3,000,000 refinery at Stettler, and a $5,000,000 pulp mill at Yates, 115 miles west of Edmonton. Sherritt-Gordon Mines Ltd. is considering Alberta for a $17,500,000 ore-processing plant, the site of which is expected to be announced soon.

VAST IRRIGATION

The past year saw the completion of large-scale irrigation works, balancing in the south to some extent the industrial development in the north. Completion of the $7,000,000 St. Mary River dam marked the first big step in a $30,000,000 project which will open up some 4000 irrigated farms over the next 10 years and free large dry areas from dependence on grain growing and ranching.

This will result in intensified raising of specialty crops. Already a quick-freeze plant in Lethbridge is producing more than one-fifth of all the quick-frozen vegetables marketed in Canada. A cannery at Taber announced a $1,000,000 expansion program and a new $5,0000,000 beet-sugar factory, one of the most modern in the world and southern Alberta's third, went into operation.

Agriculture, still the province's basic industry, produced more than half a billion dollars worth of crops last year. Forest products topped $18,000,000. With more than 15 per cent of the world's coal in reserve, the province mined an estimated $37,000,000 worth during 1951.

Industrial activity stimulated all forms of commerce. The year saw tremendous expansion in warehousing, for instance. Retail trade topped three-quarters of a billion dollars, more than three times the turnover of 10 years ago. Bank clearings totalled $2,250,000,000 and bank debits approached the five-billion dollar mark.

Movies by Television

NEW YORK (AP)—Americans soon may be able to see a first-run movie or a current Broadway hit on their television sets, if they are willing to pay for it.

Three different forms of subscription television have been developed, and the Federal Communications Commission shortly will be asked to lift its ban on the use of the air waves for any service for which a fee is charged.

Fundamentally, all three are similar. During a subscription program, television signals from the station are scrambled, to be unscrambled on the home set only where the viewer has the necessary attachment and has paid the program fee.

Subscription telecasts would be only of extra-special attractions not available for free telecasts, or costing too much for budgets of advertising sponsors. They would be in addition to all the regular programs on the air.

Officials of the Zenith Radio Corporation of Chicago have indicated they expect to ask the FCC shortly to authorize their method, called phonevision. Arthur Levey, president of Skiatron Electronics and Television Corp. which calls its system subscriber-vision, forecast the other day that some form of subscription TV would be in operation within two years.

The FCC has been authorizing experimental telecasts as the subscription television systems with a view to considering whether to permit such operations in the future.

FINDS BIG DEMAND

Zenith ran a 90-day test of its phonevision, with 300 selected Chicago families having sets on which they could receive telecasts of fairly recent movies. The company reported the families subscribed to the TV movies at a rate 3½ times greater than the average family attendance at the movies. They paid one dollar for each movie ordered.

Skiatron, having completed technical tests, plans to ask the FCC for permission to start a similar test of its subscriber-vision in New York within 60 to 90 days. Technical tests are being made in Los Angeles by Paramount Pictures Corp. of its telemeter system. Radio Corp. of America has disclosed that it also is working on a subscription TV method.

Motion picture producers, sport promoters and college athletic officials have expressed keen interest in subscription TV as a means of allowing telecasts of their products and events without causing heavy box office losses.

As envisioned by the developers, subscription television could be used by all stations for occasional telecasts, or by a single station in a community specializing in pay-as-you-see TV. But in any event it would supplement—not replace—the regular programs which the set owner receives free.
