ENGLAND MANAGE DRAW

SYDNEY, Australia (Reuters)—England held Australia to a draw after a hard-fought finish today in the third game of a five-game cricket test series here.

The draw gave England a slim hope she may salvage the series despite losing the first two games.

The heroes of the finish today were Colin Cowdrey, still there with 100 runs, when the English innings were declared, and his partner, Peter May, with 929.

England declared at 287 for seven wickets, leaving Australia needing 150 runs for victory and 110 minutes to get them. The Australians never went for the runs, losing two wickets in scoring 54 before the close.

Rangers keep Leafs in cellar

Bathgate creeps behind Geoffrion

By The Canadian Press

Owner Conn Smythe always told his Toronto Maple Leafs he wanted a fighting team, but sometimes he must wish they hadn't taken him quite so seriously.

Wednesday night, playing a game that could have lifted them out of last place in the National Hockey League for the first time in months, Leafs were downed 3-2 by third-place New York Rangers, and two of New York's goals came with Leafs in the penalty box.

Rangers' power-play goals were scored by two crack shots, Andy Bathgate and Camille Henry. Their other goal came from defenceman Harry Howell—his second this season.

DUFF, PULFORD SCORE

Leafs' goals were scored by two of their best marksmen—Dick Duff and Bob Pulford.

Toronto went out in front at 7:44 of the first on Duff's 14th goal this season—scored when he took rearguard Tim Horton's rebound off the boards and beat Lorne Worsley in the Ranger nets.

But at 15:18 Larry Regan took a cheap penalty for slashing and Rangers iced their power-play of Bathgate, Henry, Dean Prentice and Red Sullivan.

It paid off at 17:06 when Bathgate let a 25-foot screen shot go at Ed Chadwick, valiantly guarding the Toronto nets.

It was the 26-year-old Winnipeg native's 24th goal this season, the highest production in the league. Sullivan and Henry got the assists.

Early in the second Howell ripped in on right wing and bounced a shot off Chadwick's arm into the Toronto net to make it 2-1.

POWER-PLAY AGAIN

The game stayed that way until, with Bob Baun sitting out a holding penalty, and the power-play on again, Camille Henry tipped Bathgate's long shot into the net to extend the lead.

Pulford got Toronto's second goal a couple of minutes later by sliding a loose puck under Worsley's hand and it seemed the Leafs were within sight of a tie.

The third period was chiefly notable for a fist-fight between Prentice and Baun. Each received major penalties: Baun got a minor in addition and Toronto's Carl Brewer and Rangers' Howell also got minors.

Tonight, fourth-place Detroit Red Wings visit Boston for a game against the Bruins.

Ramblers tie Russians 3-3 in tough game

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Russian hockey players left the United States today talking about the "best goalie and the roughest game" of their American tour.

Ivan Walmsley, Philadelphia Ramblers goalie, was the topic of discussion for his spectacular performance in the 3-3 tie with the Russians in their farewell game Wednesday night before a sellout crowd of 5,611.

The Soviet team will fly from Idlewild Airport in New York today for Sweden, where it will play a two-game series before returning to Moscow.

"That Walmsley was sensational," said Russian coach Anatol Tarasov. "His saves meant the difference in the game."

Walmsley stopped 42 Russian shots and kicked out 32 in the first two periods. He thrilled the partisan crowd, which included a delegation of 60 from the Russian embassy in Washington.

Tarasov was disappointed that his club failed to win its final game but was satisfied with the tour. The team won five contests and tied three. Philadelphia was the only professional team the Russians played.
